

THE STORY OF

Good

WITH A
MORTAL FREEMAN

IMMACULATE CONTRAPTION

Immaculate conception?

What I believe is that Mary was abused and got pregnant.

The penalty for adultery was death and Mary made a very convincing story as she loved Joseph very much and also did not wish to be killed. Nobody gets pregnant from nothing, that is just ridiculous. Either that or Joseph knew all about it and from the love of his wife decided to stay silent as the alternative was to lose her either way.

Jesus was born and from the guilt carried from his mother & perhaps also his father felt contradictory feelings in relation to authenticity within, which made him embody pain and suffering more than others. He then followed his spiritual contract which we all originally have inside promising to raise the consciousness of humanity thus making the world a better place.

How do we do that? Well, we transmute all negative energy within us. And this is why he became what he was. Why him? Well, from the vast amount of guilt inherited from his heritage this was his destiny. To transmute and bring forgiveness and acceptance in himself and others making them get closer to God.

Closer to God simply means that you transmute all contradictions to your authentic and unique expression held back by resistance in the form of negative energy.

All is perception. So the amount of negative energy experienced in Jesus was tremendously big. Why? Because he was an extremely sensitive individual. Thus the perceived feelings of guilt. When being that sensitive there is also a contrasting possibility making him the salvation and savior as the negative energy got transmuted opening up to the same intensity only in the opposite direction.

Everything is electromagnetic that either is contradictory to life, all happening from the inside out. Or, with cleared resistance making the individual a natural healer. Just by being present as the energy alone without any material engagement is necessary coming from a mind no longer a hostage to itself deriving from guilt, shame, and ultimately fear. Also known as, negative energy.

So who is "Jesus"?

Any body. Any individual whom seeks to heal themselves in order to heal humanity. From the inside out because that is the only true way of doing that since it literally emanates from a sincere perception of oneself.

The three wise men represent Orion's belt which is an energy portal that in August aligns with the Sun & the Leo constellation. This is also when Sirius (one of the brightest double stars in the sky) is in alignment creating from its more than 25 times stronger than our sun, cosmic energy providing support for spiritual transformation as it affects all life on earth.

You are not here to make a good job in the material world. Your mission is to realize that you are pure & unconditional love. A personal Jesus. And from that understanding know that you create from your thoughts and emotions staying true to your heart, your intuition. Thus making you God.

This is not to be confused with a personal identity. You are not "THE GOD".

You are godlike as we all are God as a collective. Unconditional means without condition as in a physical form of any kind. You are a spiritual being in a physical body.

Why was Jesus prosecuted and eventually killed?

Well, the material and rational minds (the darkness) biggest enemy is the light. A thought in itself is a lie because it is not eternal. It comes and goes just like everything material. So if the majority of people are identified with their thinking minds they will perceive the opposite as the biggest threat. Only this is a misconception as the truth is that a spiritual connection and recognition is the only salvation there is.

The mind does not want to lose mandate as it has been given full majority and impression of system master. So the fight happening is all within as the mind can never lose as this would mean end of existence. But this is all just a conviction coming from identifying with the mind as true, and thus creating the perception of losing oneself.

That in itself is somewhat true. Because we are not supposed to lose our mind but to free the mind. The mind and personal identity seeks one thing most. Freedom.

That is why you as an individual seeks freedom the most because you are under the impression that you are the mind. That you are your personal identity.

Only when realizing that you are soul which is having a mind the tables are turned making you the democratic leader with a scripted agenda coming from the heart instead of the previous understanding coming from the survival based rational and thinking mind.

The mind truly does not want to figure life out. It is extremely demanding and dysfunctional. What the mind wants is to be used. In a very loving and compassionate way. So we never rule the mind. We rule nothing. We lead from our intuition and heart that is free. The definition of this freedom is simply free from momentary thoughts and emotions that interpret reality from the current set of conditions. Those conditions are always a lie as they are constructs based in survival generated from the interpretations of the outside world and current affairs.

When we allow ourselves to disconnect from the thinking mind and dream we begin to create. And as we let go of the outcome and completely discard the material reality we let the subconscious, our soul, our true self, our inner being. Connect us further into becoming. We let life happen instead of the previous control. All we have to do is to continue to feel as if the desired reality is already done. And wait for the material world to catch up. Meanwhile we do things that support all this. You will not get drafted to play in the NHL simply by dreaming. It's a co-creation and you must do your part in merging with the dream. Never entertain failure as this will only impress the subconscious that does not value anything as either good or bad. What you entertain as a statement of the wish fulfilled the subconscious will have no choice in manifesting. This is universal law.
