Disclaimer:

This is a powerful document that contains ancient wisdom on how to move physical object using the power of your mind. This works. I have tested it myself and made it happen. Even my sister did it many times. Some fail and that will become obvious in this presentation.

It took me many years to understand this. But please understand that I wish for you all to live the greatest life you possible can. And so I have worked on a clear and direct communication about this.

Please take part in all of the information shared above prior to engaging in this type of mind power. Or else it will fail. Not only will you not be able to move anything physically without touching it. But you will also stress the mind to the point of extreme migraines and disorientation.

I wish you good luck and remember all you've learned from my insights.

You can do this! I am 100% positive!

The guidance is on page 3 for suspense.

Welcome to a new dimension of reality!

When you are kind to other people.

They will help you move.

Physical objects will move without you touching them.

And you can just sit there if you like.

But they won't move anything for you ever again.

Out of love at least.

Maybe for money?
