

NOSTALGIA

(Written by Stewie Griffin)

Nostalgia is something that takes us back
To a place where things weren't just white & black

It was a moment in time full of color & joy
But all of the stuffs just a major decoy

Time is an illusion and thus also the past
So what we want to stick around and what we really want to last

Is the emotions we felt when things felt fantastic
When things wasn't stuck! Everything felt elastic

Anything could happen and all felt new
From the cartoons on TV to the Air Jordan shoe

I don't wanna go back in contrast to the present
But I don't want to grow up either just like any adolescent

I wanna stay with these emotions of faith & not doubt
Like who are you friend and what are you about?

The new is not material like consuming a brand new thing
It's all about the experience within it that it brings

So if you begin today and create from what you got
You will experience more & more and that will feel a lot

The more you feel the more you get from the state of feeling good
No matter if your rich. Middle class. Or living in the hood

Because your imagination has the ability to shine
And if you use it wisely you'll say

Victory is mine!

You wanna know the truth about fictional characters?

They are alive. They are not fiction.

You know why?

Because they are created from the perception and interpretations of one or more human beings. They express all kinds of wonderful ideas, questions, statements, messages of love coming from all these people.

So they are actually the human expression manifested in art.

When Stewie gets some airtime inside my world, that is actually me being open to receive the expressions of everyone involved in creating him.

But as I share it I also include everyone loving him as a character.

So we are all in here. I feel that.

Lao Tzu, Confucius, Buddha, Osho, Ram Dass, Wayne Dyer, Mooji, Adam Sandler

They are not "Great Thinkers" as the world suggest they are.

They are great feelers.

With a little connecting the dots in between.

Like 95% feeling and 5% thinking.

I'm also like that.

I don't create from thinking.
I create from feeling.

That way I don't have anyone else's opinion involved and I can be authentic.

One of the greatest words of wisdom to ever come my way was Pharrell Williams that said something like:

If you create something kool, the kids will sniff it out.

And I thought that was initially about teenagers and pop culture.
It is but the ones sniffing it out lives inside all of us. Because we like love.
We love love! We love friendship and a world OF love.
Man I really hope I stink.
