LET ME PAINT YOU

A PICTURE

*Wide lens

On stage..

I am sitting on stage in front of many human beings. They are there to see me as I am about to share insights into this human experience. I am sitting there alone wishing for complete honesty without guilt, shame, judgment or fear.

Let's say that this was a criteria for attending this get together so the audience members have already agreed to this. They have also agreed to not under any circumstances leave until everything is finished.

I look out into the audience and see a lot of happy faces! I see many human beings looking at me with wide eyes ready to become inspired and they look at me with a lot of love and appreciation.

So! I say this:

I would like to ask all of you in complete honesty to please raise your hand if you feel sexually attracted to me and wish to just get it on right now?

Some raise their hands and I spot a beautiful gentleman whom I ask to join me on stage and sit beside me. He becomes ecstatic with joy and comes right down. Now.. I tell him that these extreme feelings of practically wanting to eat me is actually based in fear.

He replies: No it isn't with a big smile on his face!

I reply: And that is a lack of humility.

I thank him for joining me and asks him to go back and take his seat.

He becomes a bit disturbed by this and the smile on his face is gone. When he's seated I see that he starts crying.

And I ask him if he feels ashamed. He does.

I say: I cannot give you shame. This is something you feel from the inside.

So I ask a young lady in the front to tell me why he feels ashamed?

She replies: Because of what he did and he's bad.

So I reply: And there is judgement.

Because you see young lady we have to make a distinction between what we do and what we are. (she looks like she made something...wrong..)

And I say: There is guilt.

I ask this beautiful gentleman and the young lady to join me on stage.

When they are seated with me I start again to say:

You see when you are so extremely fascinated with some body, when the primary interest and desire you have is sexual you are stuck in energy. Your energy is still rooted in the lowest vibration.

Why is that fear they ask?

Well you see it's fear of oneself. As you carry fear you aren't able to move the energy up to compassion, which is located in the heart. So you're premature.

You are primal. Pro-creation. Pre home. Your not @ home.

Home is where the heart is.

And the same goes for human beings in the audience whom would have said yes and joined me on stage all crazy about money.

That's not home either. That's rational. That's technical and lack of emotion.

Both are actually lack of emotion but the first one is primal and the other one is logical. And the confusion that creates all this is either that sex is love.

Or that money brings you happiness.

And I understand that. Because I know from experience.

Because I've grown up to become mature. I've always been very emotional and that is something my mother has taught me to never be ashamed about. I've also learned from trying to get my fathers love when he emptied out his wallet each time we met that money is not happiness. When I've been with women that I've had relationships with I could always feel that we did not connect fully. This was because I wasn't being my authentic self. And in fear of becoming that which is true, I satisfied my "love" desire by having sex.

Because I had not made a distinction to define them as completely separate.

What has made me come here and join you beautiful people is a hunger.

A hunger that I could not satisfy with something or some body.

I could only satisfy that within myself.

And that was only possible by intuition. And the desire to come correct.

To be truthful in primarily everything I do, as that is what I secondary manifest outside of myself.

You can still wish to eat me up!

That's fine! There is no shame in that. Sex is natural. And beautiful.

You can still wish to travel around the world with me and eat avocados!

That's fine too! We all want to see the world and eat healthy.

So I ask all of you..

What makes everything alright from a true foundation?

And also..

Does that have to do with anyone else except you?

Primarily?

Fear is the root cause because it's emotionally in the root.
Nature is not stupid.

Everything works in the same way.

So trust that. Trust the universe. Trust God. Trust Love.

And be true to you. And the world of love is yours.

You are everything. And everything is you.

Now we hug all three to the music of Mary J. Blidge.

You see this song is about you singing to yourself with beautiful vibrations. When you can feel this way about yourself you know what you truly madly deeply is looking for in all confusion.

Now that you've found that here with me on stage in front of everyone,
You can do that alone with yourself.

But you don't want to do that forever?

So you need to return, as often as you possibly can.

So you can choose to give yourself away to love..

And not be in need of anything, or any body..

But you want that so much!

Because it makes life worth living.

A deep and rich friendship with primarily yourself
Which becomes so close that you will have a difficult time stating that as secondary. You just wanna sing!

You are my everyyyythhhhhiiiiinnngggg!!!!!!

If you feel that this hurts?
If you feel that you want to escape this reality?
If you want to numb yourself?

You are having a problem with love baby.

There is no addiction.

There is only facing the music or switching to something that is "happy".

-But it makes me so sad!

I know.. Because you've cheated in the game of love. By being disloyal.

And that hurts like nothing else!

In relation to yourself and to others.

Not only that but you've judged others for being bad. That's called projection.

This is why it's called truth hurts.

Love doesn't hurt at all. It's calling you.

Love is tears of joy.

Something most have not experienced because of one thing only: For behaving ungrateful to grace.

For being unfaithful.

To God.

God is Love.

If you listened to this song with money or sex being the strongest in the experience.

Perhaps both?

You are behaving like a sick human being.

If you did not get emotional?

You are behaving like a sick human being.

But that is not what you are.

Your heart is just boarded off. In protection.

All in fear..

Of love herself

And she can't come if you're sick.

..Which is something that you honestly think of yourself..

And that can all change
..Some things will never change..

'Brenda's got a baby'

Love is not a gimmick.

It's not fashionable.

It's not trendy.

💕 Love is Love 💕

You can't replace or compromise love

Love is Truth

Truth is Love

Forever

*Love is not something that grows on a tree. Love is the tree!
It's our ability to see that and what we make of all the fruit.
How we treat love?*

Compost or pie?

I know that I am love.

That's the only knowledge I need.

All I need is love.

And that's always my priority.
It makes my life full of compassion and giving.
Love first. God first.
God is Love.

Everything else will then work out.

That's what I identify with and so I am able to put myself first.

So I say: Now that's value.

And then you understand:

That's not Ego.
He is one of us.
