

Your Queingdom!

You go thru the motions.

The energy waves of transformation.

If you are astrologically involved you start to see the patterns.

You will feel the changes inside you. Inside your heart and inside your mind.

You are expanding and becoming. This will be apparent in your system.

But, If you're not connected to the energy reality you will most likely be afraid and don't understand the change? You will think that something is wrong.

So instead of you becoming, entering your true a most expansive life, you might think that you've caught the flu?

That's a totally different kind of crown.

It doesn't matter if you're Swedish, American or Latino.

All is well.

Everything is going according to plan and what you go thru is for your good.
No matter what.

You want something else.

To get there you need to go thru a transformation.

This is what that is. For you.

Have you ever worked out? Like doing biceps curls?
The soar muscles afterwards is not the end of the world.
It's a sign that you've worked on yourself and that you are growing.

This is the same for the mind and heart.
Only way more intense.

Trust the process.

Drop the control and rest assured.

You will receive, your Corona.
