

ARIGATO

God's Promise

Where do we go from here?

I begin to write this the day after I received the movie 'Belle' in my experience.

The movie about singing the truth and facing fear. The one about avatars and where the lead character swipes on her phone and I witness the 'Korg Gadget' app. I've just been out and uploaded 'Own Your.Self' to YouTube and returned home at 13:13. This is everyday for me now. All these signs. All these good feelings. All these communications of insights that I share as I upload videos.

I receive wonderful visions of what the future will hold with genuine feelings of being in places and meeting people. I know those visions are true I can feel it. Yet here I am..

Back in my apartment. Sitting in my sofa writing this..

What IS my next move? Do I move at all? Do I find peace and let it come now or what do I do? It's not easy to be in this state of limbo. This place between nothing and nothing. Yet almost tasting the fruit of all the work. My biggest question is as I am completely out of money and have food for just a few more days is, do I get a job now? To some that might seem obvious and from an objective stand-point given my situation I would advice someone else to do so. But also not..

What do you really want in life? What is your biggest dream?

What are you doing to make that happen and how loyal will you be in relation to its fruition? I will receive. I know that. It's just when..

Yesterday as I woke up I instantly thought about the local newspapers. And as I got up to go to the bathroom a handwritten letter was laying on the floor inside the front door. It had a sticker with one of the newspapers logo on it. ..That's a bit weird I thought? A coincidence. But nothing is.. When I opened it I could read an invitation to come join the Jehovah's.. I received a phone number inside and texted:

Thank you for your love!

I am God temporarily physical as to correct misunderstanding on earth.

Please read all about it on: transmutation.se / Leo Rosenblad

I have yet to receive any feedback. I am positive it won't come. I don't like cults anyway. But I love people and wish to set them free. That's the divinity and truth within me that I acknowledge and affirm in calling myself God. Because I am.

Love is God. God is Love. Non-conceptual = I am = Free = Unconditional

It ain't rocket science.

But all the fuel you need to take you anywhere and become anything!

I feel like all of this is taking back and making things right. Which means to get a second change of becoming and experiencing what was intended from the beginning as I found myself in passion. In my teens where I found music. So this is it. This is who I am. This is what I am supposed to be doing. But only way way more advanced and giving as I've grown so much in my wide and deep perception of what love is. (I paused to have a cigarette, 13:31. Just sayin'..)

(Why do you smoke when you've got no money? I take cigarette butts from my neighbor)

I watched birds flying outside. I like that. They are divine communication speaking of freedom and possibility. I wanna leave. I wanna go! But not to end my life. I wanna get out in the world! I wanna meet more people. I wanna connect. I want to eat wonderful food. I wanna give and receive love.

'I am love, I am light, I am truth' - 'I am a world famous artist'

That's what I recorded and listened to as I walked outside.

Don't stop affirming. Don't give up.

Destiny seeks you as you seek destiny. Have no fear. And that means no shame and guilt. Own yourself. That's why I did that video. You gotta be one with who you are. And things happen. Just as I said in the video, one piece of the puzzle at a time.

No rush. No forcing. No unhealthy pressure. Divine timing.

We all want to sing. We all want to heal the hurt. We all want to help. We all want to be as much as possible. And by pursuing that we make the most of our stay here on earth which affects everything for a greater good. One love. One spirit.

Where am I supposed to find support in all of this. In a world that is so incredibly material? That doesn't acknowledge God as Love? That fails to recognize the majority and actually the totality of who we are. I must go alone..

And that makes for a great part of the challenge.

You can't talk about this with "extras". People whom cannot comprehend the divine. People whom are all about work and dying. Living a life in punishment waiting to come to a heaven where everything is going to be so beautiful. Or not at all just working working working and then dying. Such stupidity..

Like there isn't a meaning to everything???

Everything has a meaning. And everything happens for you. For your growth and soul expansion. It's part of the experience having a human life. And makes for a very adventurous and exciting thing to participate in.

But what to do now?..

You come to a certain realization when you feel like you've done so much and the next step is natural for you. I feel like that right now. But I can be wrong? And that will present itself. How?

Pressure. Pain. Birthing. Something more is needed to add to the art piece which I am creating. I am never done.. Never finished. But as to release transmutation,se, the music and the videos. It could be something more.

I am writing this right now. That's a part of it..

I am promised. I am a promised child. So are you.. In faith and gratitude we receive. Loving and accepting ourselves. Celebrating ourselves. Then it all comes. No doubts about anything.. Stay in faith. Positivity. Expectancy of good things.

That's the soul connection. That's divine connection.

Everything is working out for me. All I need comes to me. I am getting better and better. All my dreams of love comes true. All I could ever dream of is coming to me. I need not to worry as God will give me everything I need and make everything come true. All in good time. All in perfect timing. And that includes everyone and everything. All is well. All is love. It's all good now.

The God, The Goddess is one and the same. It's not a gender. It's all the you are. Religion has truly made this unjust and destructive. Placing all responsibility on something outside of us. Jesus said that me and my father are one. And that is true. Jesus represents the masculine part of any human being that needs to be lead in love and compassion. That needs to be humble before self. Self is God. God is love. You are self. Self is Soul. So instead of making yourself material you make yourself spiritual. And by that becoming true as the material is temporary and therefor a lie. What is infinite is true. Never dies. Continuous for all eternity.

This is for anyone.

The presentation of it all will be in alignment with perfection given the current level of soul expansion. You are where you are on your spiritual journey. So everyone is not meant to be on stage singing and nobody does any physical labor. It's not about that. But you can live a divine life with full presence all in what you feel is absolutely fantastic if you answer the call of your destiny. The overall destiny is always about more and more expansion. But you are where you are right now. And we actually don't know how many reincarnations we've had and where we actually are in that spiritual aspect. If we did there wouldn't be a challenge. So that makes for the actual challenge.

People think a lot. I see that in people. Walking around drowning in thoughts. And if you'd ask them most would actually decline that. Because they are not awake. Not aware. They are driven by their mind. Controlled by their own mind. But people do. And they often look down. Staring at the ground as they walk.

Have you ever paused from everything a beautiful evening and watched the stars? Just being? You'd be surprised to know that ships have been crossing the sky for many years now. I started seeing them perhaps 6-7 years ago. They sometimes come close to each other and the wait for the other one to pass before they move along. No asteroid or satellite does that. And you don't have to believe a single word that I'm saying. Just see for yourself. It's not mystical or hidden in any way.

I can already see people in my mental vision looking up, all out of relaxed focus for 1 minute saying: I don't see anything! It's a lie. It's not true. He's crazy.

And that should be a very clear indicator for you that you are not here. That's an individual controlled by their own mind. Not being able to relax and just wait for it. It might not even happen the first time you look. You might have to do this several nights. I don't have to schedule of their little interstellar traffic. But I have seen it.

OMG WE ARE GONNA DIE!

Beings capable of coming here like this are all love. They are here to help out. They are not hostile. I have even received images of Arcturians in my minds eye.

Very beautiful and as gentle as a little baby.

But what to do..?

A given in these feelings is to pause and let things come. Don't think like a maniac trying to figure everything out. Just be. Just be for a while and connect with your breath. And what you need will come to you. For me it can be anything..

Make this song. Write this poem. Record this video. Talk to this person. Go there..

Make a move somehow but don't just wing it in panic pulling on the threads of destiny. Calm down and let it come to you. In peace which is in the here and now all is available. And you allow for a download as you do not interfere with that process.

Be grateful for all that comes. Nothing is small and less worth.

In presence and peace you will realize that what seemed small in perception then makes for a great and important part later on as you gain insight into what it had to say afterwards. A really good indicator and communication about not judging.

If you do things right the darkness will come. The walls will close in on you. It's supposed to be like that. Or else you would get comfortable and not do what you are supposed to do. But the darkness cannot kill you without your consent. Without your approval. You have free will. Freedom of choice.

Choice to see the light.

Know that all is love. And for a greater good.

You are a rose. And blooming hurts as you go from rosebud to presented flower.

Your positive attitude and taking care of yourself is water and sunshine. Your expression and creation is a crucial part of becoming. And you actually don't primarily receive anything. You become. And in that you receive.

What you seek is satisfaction which is not material. It's spiritual.

Pleasure in things and objects are fine. But what you want is to feel as good and accomplished as possible in relation to yourself, your truth, your destiny.

That will vary in difficulty depending on who you are at this moment in the illusion of time expanding your soul. That's ultimate reality. Infinite.

It's all waves of contrasting seasons happening all at once but varies in perception of all connected individuals given the comprehension and humility in relation to love. Which affects you as you are a part of everything and everyone so it's very important to be clear in relation to yourself as to make a distinction of what is projected onto you from other lack of responsibility and what you are or aren't taking personal responsibility for. What is what.

So confusing? Making everything dizzy..

So be in touch. With yourself. In peace. In the here and now..

Let go..

And let the next whatever come to you..

The school systems teach us to tense up and focus completely wrong. Focused attention is all relaxed. Not tensed. So if you're laying down just to be try to be lucid. Don't fall asleep yet don't engage. Just be. Like a pile of doe.

That breathes. Deeper and deeper as the relaxation happens..

And things come to you. Inspiration.
Which you act upon.

And participate in your own development. Your own journey. Your own life..

We all want freedom and not to be controlled. This is it.

And then you do what feels right as in what represents something for a greater good. Not in vengeance. Not in justification. Not in condemnation. But in forgiveness and understanding. As we are all one and freedom is just like love. Not owned but ours.

I feel that everything is very close now.
I feel empty but in a good way still.

All will play out as it's supposed to play out. It's all scripted. There is reassurance in that. But the script also holds a dark tale. Which you can experience by choice.

It is a game.

Sounds boring perhaps if it takes the romance out of everything. But your not supposed to live in the code. You are supposed to be in appreciation experiencing the world and everything in it thru the eyes of love. Just enjoying it all!

That is what the rational mind cannot comprehend and makes for the challenge in resistance. Because it believes that we have to do this forever. That's not true. Be dedicate and go thru it all coming out the other side. The true and correct side and you've made it! Be losing. Losing the lie. Gaining the truth.

Of who you are.

And there you stand one day. Broken thru. Not broken down.

Looking like you used to perhaps. Loving what you used to perhaps. But a slight change in character. From someone holding yourself back to someone who loves and appreciates themselves and does not feel shame and guilt in relation to just being and presenting themselves to the world.

All in love in self.
All in union within.

Being true to self. To God. To Love. As to live free.

Like you 🌸

With resistance comes fatigue. Know that this is also projected negative energy from people not doing their part. Or perhaps they are as you are supposed to get stronger given your destiny. So rest. Don't burn the fuses. Don't overwork it.

I cried so much when I saw Suzu sing unveiled and all the souls lit up in the movie! So beautiful. To some corny.. But I experience everything mind heart and soul. I am like her. I am very sensitive and very soft at heart.

I believe we all are. But we have different missions and will become nuances in relation to each other to make for a beautiful painting.

It's so scary to come out. To come out as yourself. Because you are at your most vulnerable. And insensitive people pick on others on projection failing to realize it's about themselves. A bully essentially.

But bullying is also what we allow for when we don't value ourselves. It's all love and teaches us that we need to be strong in who we are which is impossible without recognition. We give ourselves everything. From affirming truth within.

There is only one who can satisfy me..

That's who she is. Whoever she is..

My heart hurts like hell.

All together with my situation.. It's not easy. It's not supposed to be either. All I can make of it is the impact it will bring. And that's worth it. Feeling like this for a bit longer. Because it's not just about me and her. It's about all of the human race.

The entire family.

*All you ever need to realize, is that you are a soul divine
All you ever need to compromise, is the truth for you to shine*

*You gotta give up all your lies
And be humble before the source*

*The source of unconditional love
All mighty without remorse*

*Don't worry about religion, like all that is the thing to do
Everything's about being loyal, loving yourself and all that's you*

*You truly gotta talk to God
As this is talking to yourself*

*You will receive the next best thing
Like a gift coming from an Elf*

*You are Santa, Jesus and Child, yes you are everything
Your life is all a reflection of that, give is give,
Let your soul just sing*

*Destiny is true for all and yes believe it's real
Follow that and you are promised the most sweetest loving deal*

*Love love like it's the most important thing forever
Love is true and this will surely all dark connections sever*

*You can become free and live life just as you wish
In union being one with love, just like that, a swish!*

*When you come correct and release all of the hurt
Young or old, man or woman, pants or skirt*

*Nothing really matters as you want to receive it all
Don't hang up on purpose in life, answer the waiting call*

You see.

This became 'The Rose'.
