Natural Selection. Natural Rejuvenation. Natural Redemption.

Natural Justification.

All will succeed according to plan. There is no way around it and nature will find a way.

You might think that you can go against nature. Go against love and go against God. But you are destined to fail. Just as forest rejuvenation happens naturally and in the best possible way as forest fires rids itself from the old and starts over for the new and prosperous. All is an expression of the same thing and works in the same way. So what will happen for the human race? Will there be a nuclear bomb? Will there be a mass suicide? Will there be a revolution from the inside out? All will present itself according to our state of gratitude and humility. As individuals and as a collective. When a child misbehaves the parent will inform them of the destructive behavior. And that is ignored the notice will become stronger and more intense. As this ignores a loud and clear voice will strike to get attention!

And the child will react in relation to their misbehavior and perhaps get frustrated and angry at the parent. Until they actually become humble and grateful for the inspiration and guidance that initially was all loving. This is God and we are God's children. Despite physical age. We have misbehaved for so long now. We have ignored God's loving guidance as good only wants what is good and ultimately the best for us. So the time is now ladies and gentlemen. I'm sorry but we brought this on ourselves. In lack of humility and gratitude towards the source of all creation and what makes life possible at all.

God will not sit back and watch his precious children commit suicide. But God will sacrifice many in order to keep us alive. We are too many. And we are living like greedy self-absorbed egos far away from any spiritual and emotional connection to reality. The ultimate reality. Which is non-conceptual energy of pure love.

NOT to be taken for granted.

The punishment is nothing but our own as we've failed to understand the basic principles of life. Of love. Of energy. Of reality.

You can ask you Doctor for a pill to fix this. There is no pill existing and no pill ever to be created that can fix this. The antidote is clear and simple. It's all about faith.

To trust God is to trust nature. That is all about trusting love.

Nature provides. All that we need. It makes life possible. Without nature we die. Yet we kill it. From the inside out as we aren't humble and grateful for the gift of life bestowed upon us. Natural selection takes care of virus. The virus and disease will be eradicated and removed in order for survival of the healthy. Which is all your individual choice. There is no destiny written in the stars for your suffering other than your own refusal to acknowledge God.

God is love. Love is God.

You are created in the image of God. You are Love. So what you struggle with is acknowledging yourself as a part of God. Not THE God. That is all Ego mentality in complete misunderstanding living in a small minded false reality which is all material. This will be your death. You will die physically or you will die mentally and that all depends on how much you've invested in the wrong source of creation in relation to your physical health. Fear is the ultimate killer. And that is what you've sustained within you in superiority over love, truth, freedom & God.

Trust me as I communicate these words. This is inevitable. It's not a premonition coming from any opinion or any guess. It's not something I believe in as a concept and a story to create fear. It's natural redemption. It happens in small scale for each individual but also in large scale as a collective result which stems from the individual choice. You can set yourself free and as you choose to do this you will set the human race free as well. If you become humble before God. Humble before love and thru emotional understanding realize that the life we are living right now? Is not very loving at all. That's the main stick in the wheel. A misconception of love, compassion and service to God. The source of all creation is great magnificence and forever giving to the one who is a receiver. The one who gives gratitude for another day being able to breath and to walk outside and see the sun. To the one who is grateful for even the pain they've felt as this made them understand in humility what they themselves made wrong going against nature.

Everything will work out. Everything will be fine. All is well. Always.

It's just a matter of choice. Are you a member of the dark side or are you a supporter of the light. And do you honestly justify a double standard within you? Are you living a life where you are grateful for all that you have and are you giving your love to the world? Are you supporting the art which creates more understanding about the ultimate reality? Or are you supporting the art of misconception and immaturity?

Are you behaving like a mature human being or are you crossing your arms over your chest in a high and mighty posture denying the truth of non-conceptual energy?

The justification is all yours. You are God. Living in your personally perceived universe. That is the truth about your human experience. Which makes you responsible for everything you maintain within you as this will become projected in the material world. Emotions are spiritual. They are nowhere to be seen. They are meant to be felt. All of them. And to understand them.

Are you right now, or have you gone against somebody's will? Are you going against your own will? You are God. You are the Universe. You are Nature manifested. You can only give what you have and you will only lead a life in relation to others as you lead your own precious life in relation to yourself. Are you going against your own will?

Or are you being brave enough to follow your heart and your soul's intention? The contract of expansion you've signed before you got here all binding in relation to God. Which is to be as much as you possibly can of the authentic and true version of who you are. If you go against that you will inflict pain onto yourself and to others and also against our wonderful nature.

The silent killer.

The killer that doesn't connect. The killer that stays silent within themselves in shame to talk to something they cannot see. The killer full of guilt trying to do so much good in the world only to keep their mouth above the surface of the water.

You're killing yourself. You must be kidding yourself?

This is how we treat something that lacks value. Which is all about you in relation to yourself. Become loyal to yourself. Become true to yourself. And you will be healthy and supportive of your well-being which projects and becomes in service to others and the beautiful planet we live in which is supposed to be our home.

We can't fight fire with fire. But sometimes we have to burn to the ground and rise from the ashes. What have you done for me lately? Word of God Jackson.

HEAL THE WORLD
MAKE IT A BETTER PLACE
FOR YOU AND FOR ME AND THE ENTIRE HUMAN RACE
THERE ARE, PEOPLE DYING AS WE INVEST TOO MUCH IN THE DARKNESS
BUT JUST LOOK AND SEE THAT WE CAN BE FREE

WE CAN BE FREE..

I am love

I am connected

I am

So can you..

And all will be given
