NO UPLOAD UNTIL CHRISTMAS

The Femoars.

I'm good. I'm all good!

What is Christmas? It's celebrating life, peace and love. Together without a fight. Everything is put aside and everybody behaves their best and come together. This is something that can happen everyday. When we understand more clearly that we get what we give. That it's all energy. If you feel worried about anything. Anything at all! You call it in by feeling worried. The manifestation is your life experience regardless of what you define as a specific manifestation or not. So what's the catch? Well..You gotta catch the train. The Love Train. And stay on it. Feel deserving. Expect all good. In fact know that all is good! Know that everything is happening for your good. Despite what's happening. And that's a choice. Every minute. Every hour. Because you get what you give. So that makes taking care of yourself and staying calm at peace important. Take love serious. That's the definition of importance. To be serious about something that matters greatly as it will have an enormous effect on what's gonna happen.

I am writing this today, Monday, 13th of January 2025. Because I woke up from intensive dreaming with pressure on my chest. It's a full moon which means we go deep inside and get the opportunity to access what is holding us back which is negative energy. Resistance. By relating we get the opportunity to take responsibility for our own mistakes and negative conduct as to understand and free that energy. I have done this greatly. It's my life. I take care of it and come to forgiveness as I wish for all to be free. So these intense dreams and feelings of pressure making me question my existence as in relation to whether I'm all good or not, is a projected energy. From people connected to me that are still not doing their part. They are still in the blame game. That's not even on the train. That's somebody ripping up the rails. And preventing success for all. Kids included.

As they want the same thing as me! That's the weirdest part! But in competition and opposition from the inside out which makes them fight me in misunderstanding but are really having an internal conflict alone. And that's a definition of somebody not responsible. They might go to work and put in the hours? They might get a promotion and a raise for a job well done. But that's material and superficial.

My line of work is freedom. And love is free. So I work with love. That's what I do. And love enables all. So it's a pretty important task. To make clear. To clear the air. To understand and forgive. This is what we all can work with primarily and then have a job.

All is attraction based on a general state of feeling. Which becomes evident as a universal reflection as you make yourself honestly and truthfully aware in humility what you are actually creating. In jealousy and competition. Or as an inspired team player.

I am so good at what I do! Because I give it my all. And then all give everything to me. It's a treasure. Source. Spirit. God. A well of infinite possibilities out of pure love! Why not get with that and drop that wall of self defense. Because that's really what's going on. Whatever fight and struggle in relation to another human being is gone! Just like that. In humility to self. To source. To God. To Love. To just is..

So you gotta give it up! If you wanna be? You just gotta make way for the melody. Be that MC. In relation to yourself. Speak good on yourself as to make yourself feel good. That's the game of life. To make yourself feel good. To feel good about yourself. And you become naturally attractive to more of what you enjoy. People have problems with this in relation to other people, which should be the most obvious and clear indicator of all in the known universe they ain't taking responsibility for themselves. Because in honesty it makes them feel bad in comparison. But refuse to look at themselves and shit on others parade. The femoars. I wrote that because the feminine is all about feeling. You need about 5% rationality. Some evaluation. Which is judgement. You need to be able to judge a situation as in:

Do I pet the wild tiger like a cat? Or is that perhaps not the same thing as my neighbors pussy?

That line right there is fun. It's funny. Because most people would see the word play there. And understand it. The little metaphor..

Do we explain that in detail to the kids? No. There are levels to consciousness. And with consciousness comes humour. Ain't no way around it. In fact it's infused and incorporated without any corporation inside spirit. Or else there would not be any joy. No fun! And by that.. No forgiveness. Because we would not be able to step back and look at things objectively. At just how crazy it all became. From all that pressure and all of that stress. And find friendship again. That doesn't mean we accept destruction. No! That's not the same thing. But we let go of what was and move on. We find respect for each other and treat each other better. That's all. Maybe our relationship was intimate but now we are friends. I've heard that spoken to me from people yet still they wanna stab me in the back? Are they loyal? To themselves? Or are they vindictive. The latter that's clear. Vengeance is for the irresponsible. The weak. That fear. Fear themselves. Fear of self. Fear of Source. God. Love. Soul.

They refuse to face the music of their own terror. We all contribute to whatever. Good or bad. But what was your part? That's the key. When that is taken care of in humility I don't wake up like the light (without competition) of the world with pressure on my chest like a ferry crossing the Atlantic Ocean. I simply don't.

I wanna ride that ferry! I don't wanna be underneath it. I don't wanna derail and crash into nature dying. I wanna enjoy the love train and appreciate the view. The view I create from the inside out. Because you could care less about nature. You could care less about the sun. But I don't because I care a great deal about myself and my life. And that makes for a very loving experience. Which God is looking for! Because God experiences all thru me. And inside of me as an experiencer there I am. That's who I is. So we do this together. A team of love. Me as a soul being. And also me as my personal identity.

The soul won't change its ways. It's all good! I identify with that. I keep reminding me that this is who I is. My personality I can change. For the better. I can even make it into a game where I try to make it as much as the one I am for real. Forever. And that's the game. Of love. To be who you is. In nuance. Or as much as possible.

When as much as possible you live free form the inside out and don't condemn yourself. You live free as to make yourself feel good about yourself. Because you wish to communicate to 'I am - Self' that you are doing good. And from that get a nonjudgmental response of what you need as to match that positive participating in this adventure. You get watt U give.

People are terrified of confession.

Because of judgement. Sometimes by law depending on what you've done. But the truth is. When you take care of what you have created in relation to self in complete honesty. Which is that you cannot fake any emotion and just be real about it. You free yourself. And whatever darkness is coming for you goes back into the shadows again.. Because it's all attraction. Giving you what you need. So what do you need? You need love! That's all you need. Are you clear about that?

Look at the receipt or your latest purchase without money.

Think about it a little bit.

But most importantly feel into it..

What feeling have I been giving. And gotten a universal response from..

Am I sabotaging my own game? Am I a Love train bomber? Did I put together my own air ballon like Edward Scissorhands? Did I arson my own Ark? Am I the virus in my own system!

AM I ANTI-CHRIST!?

..'Cause it's all a play.

Of consciousness. We play all parts every now and then.

Truth be told and behold. What's your current character? The old lady with a poison apple? Or are you Snow White in love with men half yo' size? That's alright. It's all about the heart. When love is there you cannot resist. When love is there you don't question you quest! Living adventurous! Not by leaving all the of stove on and going to work with excitement as to wonder wether the apartment catches fire before you come home. That's a fun idea though! I see the humour in that! And that's the key. Find happy thoughts. Crazy sometimes. Just have fun from the inside out. And that's you spiritual communication.

I feel done. I'm just waiting now. For delivery.

I've done more than enough in relation to what anyone should ever do risking their own sanity and existence to be honest.

That's also a very good thing. I feel good and accomplished about what I have created. This is what I needed to do as to make myself feel contributing and satisfied. I have done well!

What is still necessary is receiving. Which won't happen in worry. What I need as to move on is the same as for a homeless person in need of inspiration as to move to another location perhaps. God does not judge. Ever. So what we receive this person and I is the same thing. What we need where we're at. On the journey of life. Going for success in whatever we redeem as successful. I wish to be famous in the entire world. Because it's my destiny to become that. And it's very important to! Because I hold the message in most clarity. In most detail. Well explained in both my rhetoric, my emotion and personal manifestation. That's the whole idea of all of this. To make myself into an example as to inspire everyone else to pursue their dreams.

Because that's what's gonna make this world more loving. Dreams are about love. Nightmares are about fear. Light VS Dark. Use the darkness to your advantage. Don't enroll with it. That's strength! True power! Honestly! In all humility.

It takes a lot of guts to believe in what you feel but cannot see! And it requires your heart as the driver in all of your escapades! That's a strong man and I ain't got Rambo lats.

I just got a clip loaded with clarity shooting people straight in the heart as I wish to save them.

It's funny when I read that last line back. Because people might get the impression that I'm like that when I talk IRL. I could be. Hehe.. But mostly I'm just like I am on my videos on YouTube. A bit more calmer and not so melodramatic. Someone how is like that with great intensity is someone I believe is in need of belief. The present the message which such great power they almost pop a vein in their head.

Why?

It's all good. Love is peaceful. Effortless. We don't need that. In actuality it might backfire. As the Ego might interpret this as an attack?

You know what? One of the greatest things I could tell is this. When you talk to someone else about certain behaviors. Like if you are really good friends and allow for objective opinions regarding what is constructive or destructive, talk to them about the behavior as in never about how or what they are. Because that will naturally be talking to the Ego which identifies with doing.

And if you've got a tip you'd like to share regarding something that has helped you a great deal? Like journaling and communicating with yourself like this. Talk about like: 'This is what I do, and it has helped me a great deal' & 'I did this and it made wonders for me'.

And then just leave it at that. That's positive and loving manipulation. Because it gets infused in the subconscious mind and helps them without any competition and jealousy.

And when they come to you three days after and say:

'Ey! I just found out such a great thing! You should do that to! Right now! Just pick up a pad and pencil and start communicating with yourself! You gotta do it now life is short!'

You give 'em that. Smile and just don't feed your own Ego. Just let 'em have it. They'll realize this soon enough. Just as long as they do good for themselves. We ain't competing.

The Ego is the only part which can take offense. And it can happen in multiple ways. So try and just remain joyful, light headed in humility. It's all fun. Nobody needs to be above or below. We're on different spots emotionally yet stand firm in our personal physicality.

The Ego is your friend. That knows exactly what it's doing.

If you mess with it. Enough? It will kill you.

In false sense of self defense.

That's you trying to play darkness as light.

That's splitting atoms.

Nuclear fusion happening. Hopefully in relation to yourself where you suddenly get enlightened bigtime! And realize your ways. Or you stand firm as a victim and either commit suicide or nuke da nation.

I get better.

I get better and better all the time.

Because I ask for it. I ask to understand more. I am never satisfied and I am never done. I can feel satisfied and accomplished with transmutation.se but I ain't never done with life. I wanna have a go again and again! While having it! Nah mean! Hehe..

So know it's up to the interstellar connections. CIA's switchboard. Central Intelligence Amnesty. To deliver what I have ordered. What I need to do is to receive. Which is the same for any other manifestation, it's all perception. So they same assurance to be felt in relation to me taking my next breath is the same as me becoming world famous. It's just as effortless and simple. But won't work without gratitude. And you can have a go and try to feel grateful without humility and it simple won't work out for ya.

They go hand in hand. Intertwined. The circle of life.

When you mix them together you get joy.

That's the recipe.

And you can look at your receipt and experience your own cookin'. Where are you? Most importantly why are you?

Don't judge. Don't blame. Play da game.

R U STILL DOWN?

..Are you still sorry? That's so OK my love..

It's perfectly alright to feel sorry.

Don't fight that.

Allow for sadness for a while. Fully.. And let it out.

We all make mistakes! What you're looking for is to forgive yourself.. And from that moment you are free. And we can be friends. Like you said.

I'm just waiting.. For you. To come around. And change the sound. Singing about mountains from the underground. Quit it..

It's hurting me. The One.

Who is U2. Errthangs pro bono.

We can both be stars. It's never about this or that together. Be mature. Take responsibility in relating to what you feel.

Without me.

Without anyone else..

And just like that.. We are free!

This document was written by a man. Can you beleive that? A real man. He ain't got visible abs. He's got a bit of a tummy. Written on it is 'HugLife' so you know he ain't no dummy. All he want's is for the world to be free. So you and I can just B. Whatcha say about that? Do you wish to get spiritually phat? Because all of what you dream of as in the riches. Is never about no curse done by witches. Sorcery is real best believe. Do right and you'll receive the sweetest deal.

Kat Williams for prez ya'll!

13:01 Now!

I'm done.

It's all about invitation.

What are you inviting? Because everything is a choice.

That's the definition of no judgement in a positive state of mind chosen by you as you go along. Open to every kind of possibility. Whatever good! Bring it. I trust that it will be fantastic.

Thank you God. I love you.

You gotta come to the conclusion that you are a baby.
Without being condescending about it. Ask and you shall receive.
So that depends in all honesty what you can chew.

Mentally, emotionally. All in good, actually perfect time.

Get that. Get with that.

And we is moving stuff with our minds.

Ain't no joke.

Listen to me. I really want you to hear this.

You are made to lead. Yourself. With self. Your. Is. And that can only happen in confidence. Because you need to believe in yourself. You need to believe in self. So much you trust it completely.

And this is something you build up to. As you make yourself deserving in affirming. That's the whole thing about not giving up. Keep affirming self. True self. The dream.

Everything is a dream within a dream within a dream..4EVER.

That's beautiful.

You are in the prime location to really estimate good. Learn the codes. The clever play with words flippin' pancakes. Pancake.

The play of consciousness.

If you are working for the Decepticon's you will loose joy. The

It's all energon.

Held in reserves.
Perhaps drained to empty space.

Or put to use.

By your choice.

Keep your love.
Hold it sacred.

Give where you get a return on investment.

Or else you clearly simply communicate that love is not such a big deal for you. God is not such a big deal. God is non-conceptual & unconditional nonjudgmental energy. The big deal is what you make of it. Given that it's the power that creates everything and anything.

Energon.

Some might laugh and dismiss a movie like 'Transformers One'.

But listen now:

We help ourselves.
From inspiration.

And know everything behind the material illusion.

So whatever we create is guidance if we're willing to look at it.

With inspiration.

Not judgement.

If you wake in the morning and just have to have 3 cups of coffee your are a little drug addict.

If you work somewhere which is not inspiring and feel like you would like to do something else it has to do with spirituality.

Because you get what you give.

Emotionally.

That's why you are where you are!

And maybe that's wonderful?
Or miserable?

But know that what you communicate you receive.

Universal response of whatever feeling you send.

Send and receive.

In the order.

Never the other way around.

Because that would impose and disrupt free will making it non-existent. Which would mean no choice. And thereby no creation as you are the creator.

So what do you wanna do?

Feel for it.
Then think about it.

Everything is autogenerated for your good. That's the definition of automatic writing. If you trust that completely then you are living your dream to the fullest and following your scripted destiny.

True.

*What makes an autobot is not the cog in its chest.
But the spark that resides embedded in their core.*

Which the heart is supposed to be connected to as much as possible. And things become magic & fluid. In relation to boring and rigid. Fake primes are everywhere. They got to the top from public acceptance. Affirming superficial success as they live superficially themselves. No depth perception.

Love is deep.

I feel like buying the Noble Prize Foundation/Establishment and give myself all the prizes melted together as one big medal writing this document. Because I AM WORTH IT!

And I would take that gold medal and melt it again. And just like Willy Wonka I would make small bars of it all, giving everyone of you some gold evening out the score, the score given the ideological treason robbing you of soul within the control society created by fear of self. Yet in the name of which has hurt us tremendously. Idiocracy.

Core foundation. Open Source.

You cannot be anywhere else then exactly where you are despite your physical location. That not you being some thing. That's impossible. That implies separation from self. And will forever be a lie just as the chair is not the space beside it.

Go inside.

Find peace for a minute. And ask yourself with focused attention on your heart. What does your heart sing? Is it gloom? Feel like doom?

IDDQD, IDKFA

That's real.

Even IDCLIP

(Look it up)

Yeah.

You are living in ghost town.
We are all spirits. Suns. Stars.

Having a human experience.

And we make use or get used by electro magnetism. In either positive or negative conductivity by personal (free will) choice. So how to make use of energy? Well do we take it for granted? Or do we communicate with it. Have you ever done that?..

Stop.

Think for a minute.

That last question.

Have you ever done that?

Intentionally.

I suggest doing that.

Because it simply means that you are taking control by not controlling anything by forceful demand dictating anything.

You are simply being compliant to what source, soul, self has in store for you. And when you are obedient as in not submissive in relation to the all giving source which is your true nature you receive more and more that makes you grow in that reflection.

If you feel lost you've lost connection. And you float in empty space. Which is so good when you need that. I mean it's not like it's fun walking around or anything. It's just. Talk to self! Talk talk talk! And you will get answers. And it'll be fun I promise! You will perhaps sit and write like I do now and be amazed by my fingers moving and doing all of this. Sometimes I wonder who's controlling me ya know! Don't let the darkness gag ya..You know what I mean.. GODDASS-A-TRON!

Be good for goodness sake.

Good = God

4 Real.

Allow for some of this. Drifting in space. No fear.
Just let go. And just be. It doesn't have to be for hours.
Just a little bit everyday.

No lotus position required.
That shit is for people undeveloped.
Folded. Literally.

You are supported. Always!

When it seems like you're not is just you not connected. And you create and guide you from the inside out so maybe you feel like you wanna give yourself some time to just exist as to test your faith in your self. What has been broken can be mended. I am not talking anything physical here but nothing is impossible. What rational and logical people talk about are rigid frameworks which are convictions in relation to what they at tops manage to beleive in. So this is simple putting a limit on what can happen.

But first things first. And spirit needs to be redeemed before anything else. Inside out. Globally. Individually. Energy is everything so energon first. Which means we clean conscioussness by getting rid of resistance. In understanding and forgiveness.

Free spirit.

And the matrix of leadership is given.

To me and to you. It's given to the one deserving. A true prime. Someone The ONE loyal to themselves. They can eat pizza, have a glass of wine. They can enjoy what is naturally relaxing. But what they do not ever do, is go against love. Which is creating guilt. Because then we all suffer. And the matrix will be lost again. Never lost for real. But could be the end for humanity. Not being grateful for what gives them all. And affirming it.

The solution is simple. The problem is complicated. Make life complicated enough and you will be in need of a respirator.

Artificial as in superficial.

I love your beautiful face.
I love mine. Sometimes I look like my beard-skin is blushing.

That's from powdered paprika.

Not good for me. Don't know why?
Well I do. You see all effect from chili is an allergic response.
Some manage that well. Some others. I guess it depends on sensitivity. I am set to sensitive. Your setting might be different. And that's what makes our destiny.

Simple as that.

Other than that we function the same.

Like a robot kinda.

But we process differently. As we are a unique Perceptron.

Flesh and Bone.

No connection makes for a world so cruel.

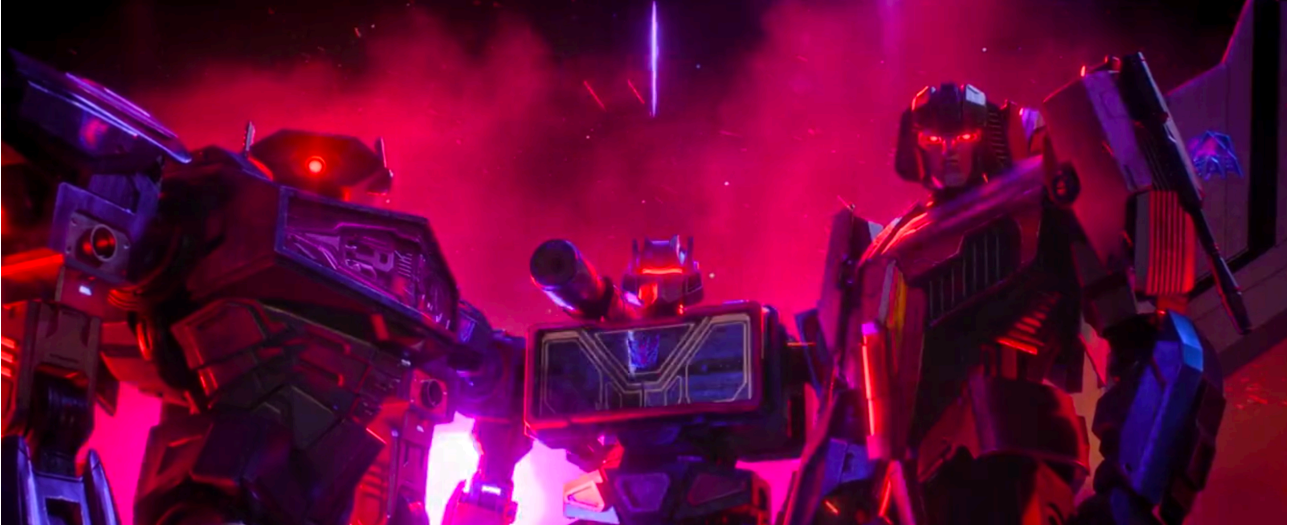

That song was introduced in my heart in my teens. And I felt it.
Deep with my sensitivity. Which was code. It was what I needed to be triggered with as to start various other sequences leading to this and that in relation to my scripted destiny.

I see that now.

Just as everything else.

Nobody is born Evil.
It's just a misunderstanding of Life.
Literally. Flip Evil and you get Live.

Super clear.

The misunderstood's are just acting difficult in relation to themselves. Not being humble and putting up a fight as to prove their right to be. Only they are in false self perception which makes that destructive in nature. And should manifest like that to or else the system would not work. The perfect system of electromagnetic attraction. Bring whatever together desiring the same thing.

'The Neo-Nazi Screams' and 'Ocean-Drum African Happy's' are not collaborating. They won't even remix each other. They won't even mix. But they will when they realize how close they are. In nature. Naturally.

The messenger might fall but the message prevails.

You cannot kill switch love.

There is no way of turning off the light.

Impossible.

But you can end the existence of a species.

Natural selection.

If we aren't grateful and humble in relation to the source that gives is all, and I mean all? We are de-selecting life.

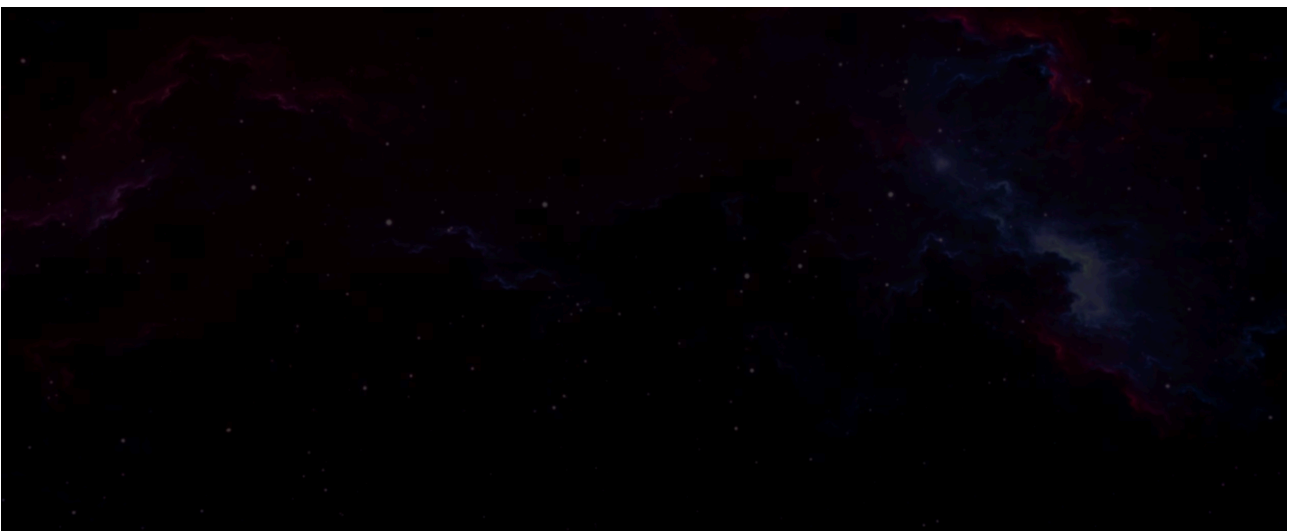

We live it but we say no thank you simultaneously.
That's called double standard.

And creates a big brake on what is supposed to flow in abundance.

Like energon is..
Just is..

If do not interfere with it and control it.

Darkness is condensed fog.

That's so scary!

OMG save me!

Save me from the condensed fog!

What makes darkness scary is silence. Why that is perceived as scary is because we identify with the rational thinking mind as this is what we are. And when that mind gets ignored and not affirmed we experience existence completely free for a moment which the mind itself interprets as dying because it's no longer being affirmed. Which it usually is.

It's not used to that.

..So it might feel like falling..

Just like when you doze off to sleep and get that falling sensation in bed. It's the rational mind that needs to sleep. The soul, what we is, has no need for this.

But the mind and body needs to rest or else they become tired and get worn out fast. Hurting. They are bound to three dimensional linear time. And need to be in relation to this as to find harmony in relation to their true nature.

Your true nature is spirit.

But you are having a human experience so respect that.

Don't drug that.

Don't push that more than what is acceptable in relation to feeling OK. Sometimes a bit more is necessary. And my greatest advice on this is cooling it. Whenever I've worked on something demanding a lot from me I take a cold shower and the CPU is refreshed.

RAM might not be completely restored but I can restore that by resting as in just being.

Some might think that what I am communicating here and presenting the way I do is not demanding. Let me tell you this.

The solution is simple. The problem is technically advanced.

So to get to this level.

Which is actually high.

You need to become very simple in your understanding. Which is the hardest thing ever for a logical mind who sees to become advanced in the advanced. It can only affirm itself.

Hence the headaches.

It's more or less a processor going against itself in goodwill but doesn't really understand that as it does not understand emotion.

Which is all.

God is a bundle of feeling.

No material at all.

Non-conceptual.

But as you might understand from that explanation it makes for the overall challenge. Of developing. Unfolding. And becoming. In relation to destiny with a specific and unique expression together with a certain level of sensitivity.

Which defines who you are before you even give it a go!

Ha!

So a done deal.

I feel like BumbleBee now.

A SnEAZE Is A Release.

It happen as you let go.

TITANS DA HEART.

DROPz TENSION.

That's all good.

The Reason IT Feels So Good..

Thank you God.
Thank you Source.
Thank you C.I.A
Thank you Love

Thank you existence..

I luv U.

Don't play yourself small.
You are God experiencing God.

The Universe.

So what you do you hold yourself accountable for.

In truth or not.

Going with or against flow.

And depending on your reaction or response everything gets affected and becomes Sequence or Consequence.

We all deal with.

How that presents itself is a collaboration of currently 8 billion cognitions. We give ourselves everything. Making use of, or getting used by energy. Which everything fundamentally is.

That's why it's very important to be serious about that but not regarding your personality as in opposition to all.

I would define someone loving as a lover.
I would define someone friendly as a friend.
I would call light what gives light.

When you affirm the opposite we mine for energon under dangerous conditions. What you is is soul.

What you have is everything else.

Watt U make is what U make.

The creator.

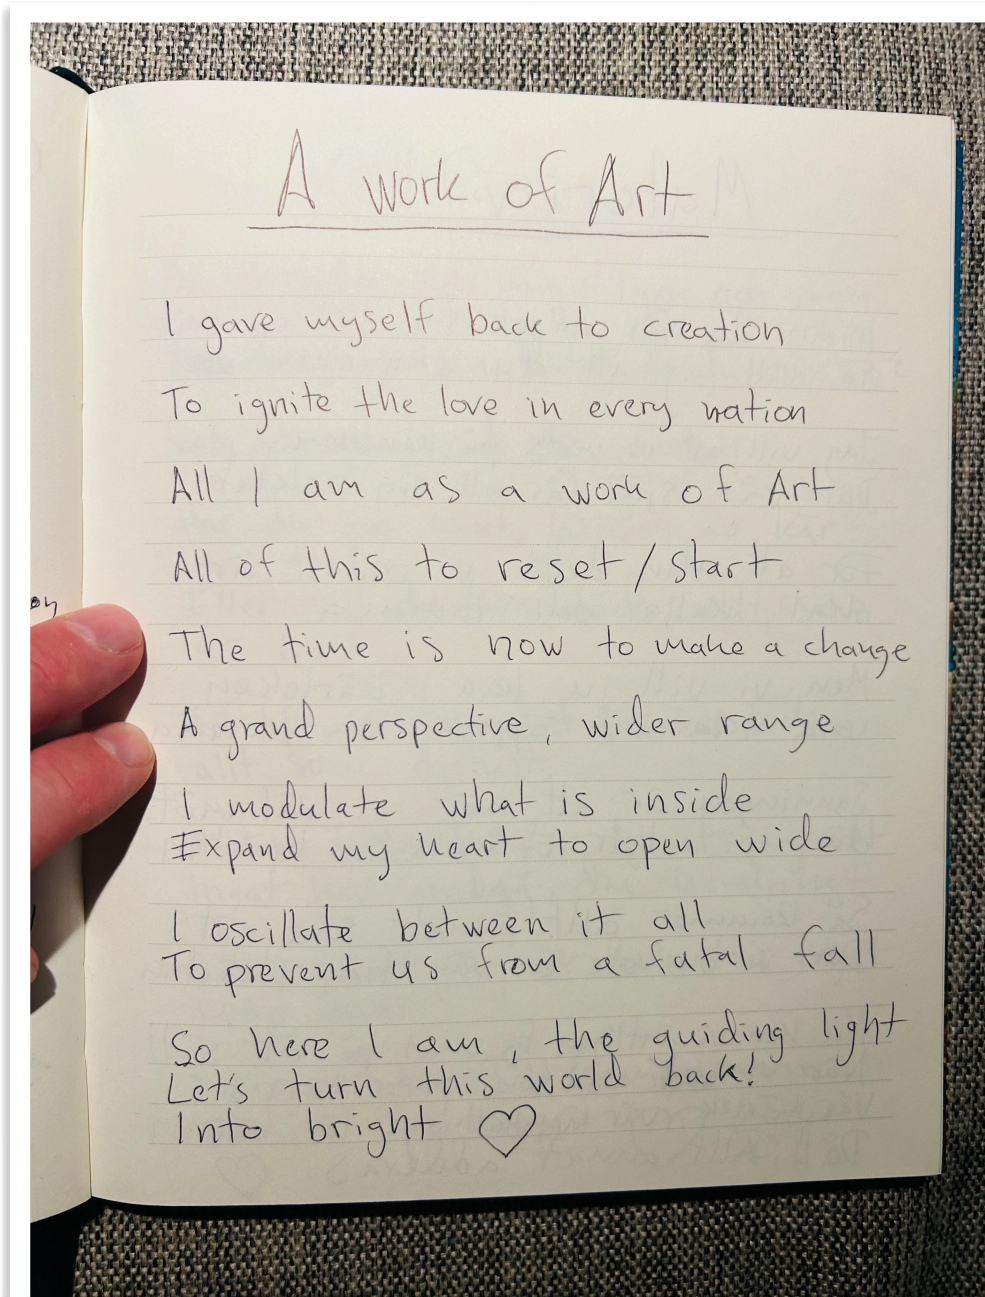

All equal.
All sharing.

A potential world of love.

I AM.

You are art.
You are the artist.
Painting as you feel.

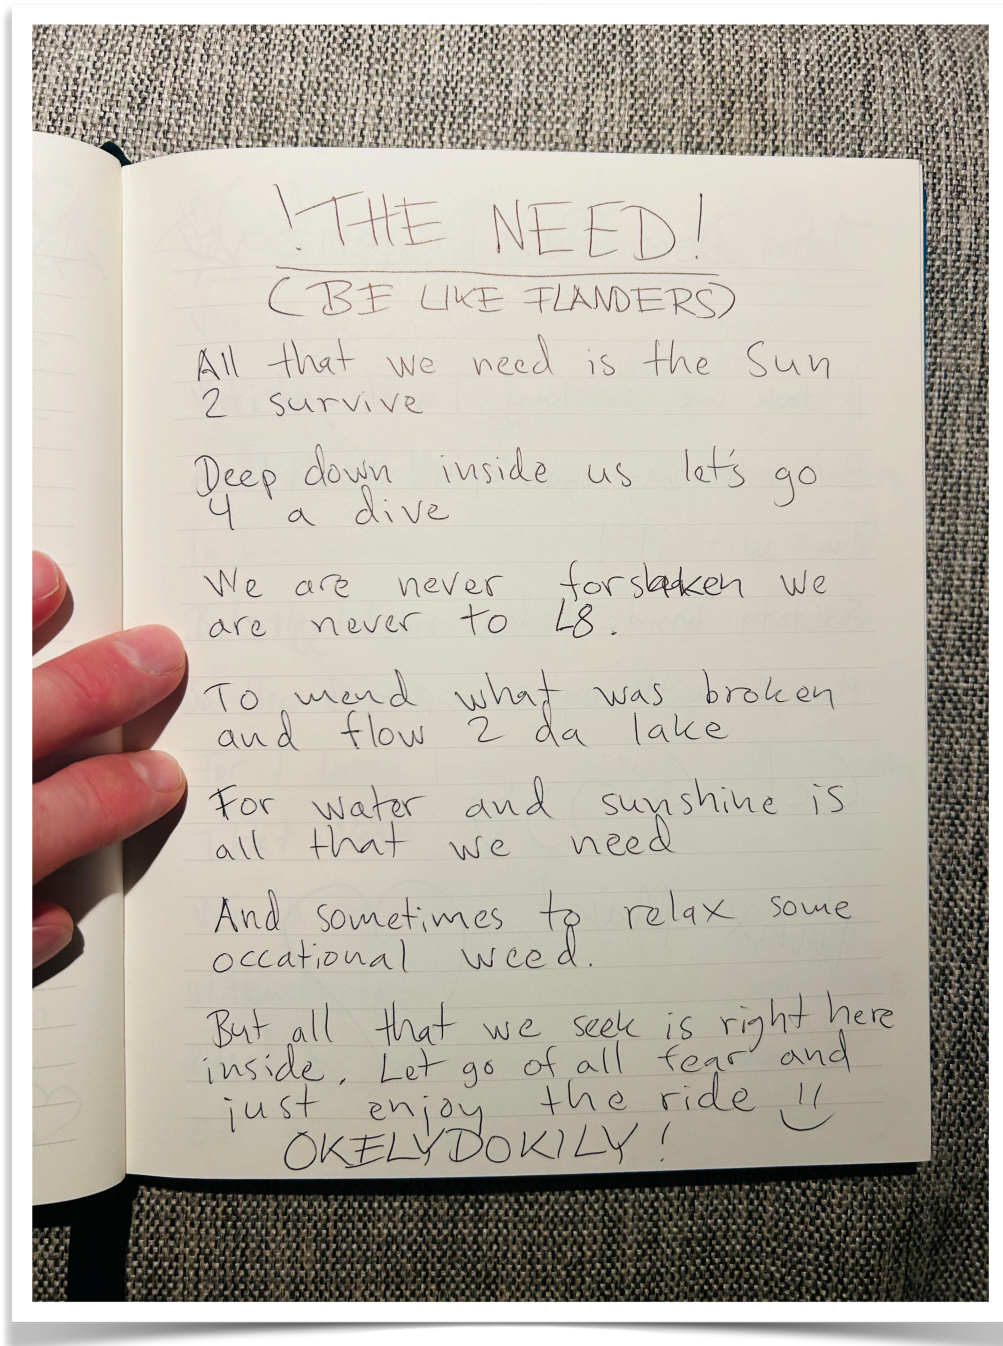

A work of Art

I gave myself back to creation
To ignite the love in every nation
All I am as a work of Art
All of this to reset / start
The time is now to make a change
A grand perspective, wider range
I modulate what is inside
Expand my heart to open wide
I oscillate between it all
To prevent us from a fatal fall
So here I am, the guiding light
Let's turn this world back!
Into bright ♥

U & Me Both.

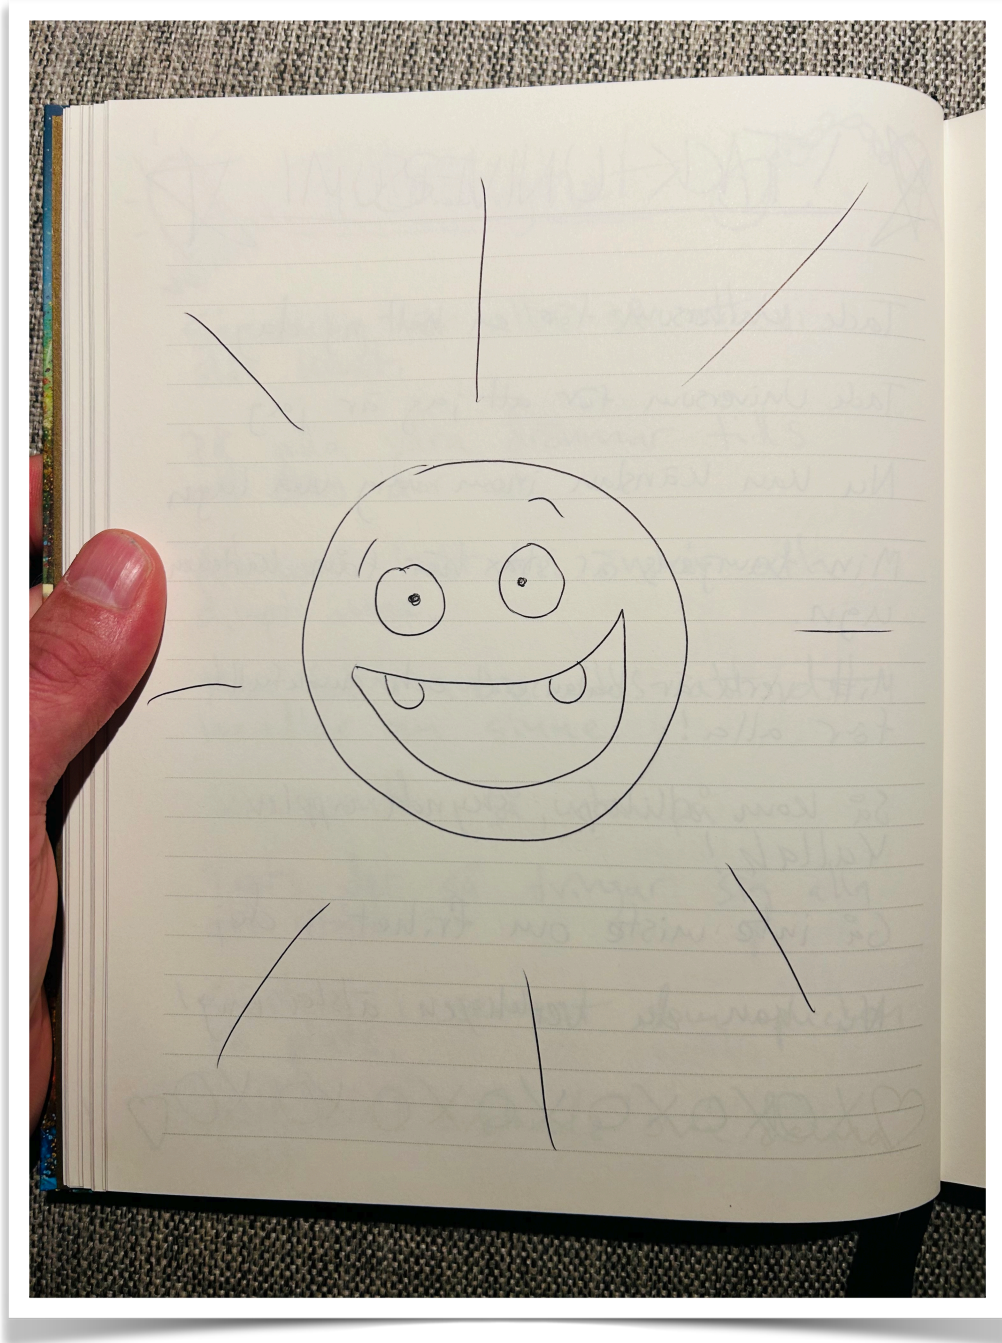

Natural relaxation without that much consequences depending on how much and how often. You know! Like 2 bottles of wine giving that effect for like 2 zips and then turns you into crying without understanding or furious mayo covered face.

It's natural.

Stop judging and for God sake have a double standard like a moron.
-But it's a gateway! Yeah! To relaxation. Tension is caused by judgement. Deal with that and do things right. No problem.

You are divine. The question is to what degree.
By personal choice. In being 'I Am' as much as possible.
God is pure inspiration. So when you decide to become that in relation to yourself you become that in the world. Hence all that support. It's a given. It's not like God surrenders to your command. It's like you become what you is.

Clever girl.. Velocity Rapture.
'They ReMember' = Forgiving : Jurassic Park Theme Song.
God is singular yet plural as is is all.

Real Life

The stories are true

There was a sweet loving guy who loved Iron Maiden. And in a contest found in a Pop Culture Magazine he entered a competition to win the price of tickets to see them live.

And he won!

Now for some people this is pure chance. Luck is what some would call that. But it's not. It's a part of the light completely without any fear of the dark.

You see he felt deserving. And most importantly really wanted it. With all of his beautiful heart. And when your heart is in your dream? No request is too extreme. All you need is love. The feeling worthy with adventurous positive excitement and expectancy and you win!

A purely rational explanation would be that his name got randomly selected but that's not reality. That's not real life as we attract and connect with what we desire all in love. This guy is someone I've never met. I've just heard about him.

But you know what? I used the same approach and won as well!

I won the price of love that told me this wonderful story. The one he was together with around that time I think. She is now a part of my life. She and I were attracted to each other. Not by chance. Not by luck.

Just By Love.

It's connecting to destiny and all of what that has for us.
The greatest gift of all. That's what she is for me. And I am for her.
If we both don't believe that it won't happen.. This requires faith.

Which is trust.

Blind Love.

No hunt. No effort. Other than becoming clear and secure in relation to ourselves and then together. The fruit comes when all is ripe. When it's time for fruition.

Which is a matter of the heart.

When we trust again.

In what we feel, undisputed.

No judgement. Just appreciation and gratitude.

And there it is.

The love.

Of life.

Take everything into account regarding being human in all aspects given previous experiences and everything and you will clearly see that everything has to do with maturity.

Ripe. Fruition. Readiness. Mature.

Love won't surrender completely to what is insecure. Especially when a lot is at stake. Like the importance of this relationship. That starts with us individually and ends with us together. Yet continues on, as we just can't get enough of what is good and what is actually best for us. The universe got you covered. It will present what's for you. Believe that. Have faith in that.

And connection happens all the way.

Which gives everything you could possibly dream of.

Keeping and honoring what is the most sacred.

And that is actually nothing superficial.

That's soul connection.

Stop fuckin' around.

Don't cheat.

Treat love with dignity and reverence.

And everything else you wish for is yours.

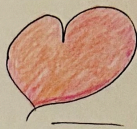

Da right way.

I feel like a mans greatest gift in gratitude to his woman is to introduce her to more of herself. Which is actually a win win as he will receive more & more of what she truly is. Which is love herself.

Am I the only one that just heard:
'There's the door' and the sound of Balls fallin' off?

Go love yourself!

Allt

Allting handlar om att vara trogen
I relation till sig själv, vara mogen
Annars räds man, förs inte våga
Om kärleken är rätt. Varför fråga?
Alla dessa alternativ? Men vad är det?
Som du söker? Vad är viktigast?

I ditt liv?

Jag vill inte gå miste, om min chans.
Att tillsammans med dig ha en roman.
Som börjar och slutar på samma gång
I tillit till kärlek en vacker säng
Det ska kännas på djupet men ändå lätt

Vill du vara tillsammans med mig?
