

Humour from the other side

News.

It's like we value the news paper press more than the message of love printed on each page? Hello? Is anyone in there?

If you have to eat or have to smoke a cigarette you go against yourself and will not be loyal in self perception. Because you do not exercise free will. The wish to eat or to smoke a cigarette. You are not forced to do anything. Especially in relation to yourself. Self judging? Or self-giving?

One is "no thank you" to your self. And the other one is fine. And yes please. Which becomes thanksgiving regardless of what it's all about. All from how you choose to conduct yourself. Giving or taking?

Giving is allowing. Judging is taking.
Receiving. Loosing.

Do & give yourself whatever. Just don't judge yourself. That's not giving. That's creating guilt. That you must deal with.
Which spreads as you don't. And grows all around the world.

Life is not about achievements. It's about perception. And appreciation. To appreciate what you perceive. Which is a choice. Coming from inside you and out.

We should never make worthy into anything material. That's lie. But feel worthy for being. That's truth. And then things matter but not so much. We appreciate them and they add to the experience but we don't need them to be honest. All we need is love. Free. Not judged. As to be.

Life is like: I'm a genius! You gotta believe me! Told by your own 7 year old you. That you need to listen to and make sense of everything. And make famous. By making your inner child proud, you make yourself proud. You are one. The proudest. The realest. The most loving before too much destructive self judgment.

Would you kill that child? Or would you raise it yourself? From the inside out.

Sad clown.
In a world not fun.

With nothing wrong with me.

Year of the snake. Eve and Adam. Feminine first. Masculine later. Soul. Mind. Body.
We should all follow this calendar.

Wu wei.

It's like one group of people going into Cancer and another group of people going into Aquarius? One is wrong. This is the foundation for all conflict. Fundamental struggle against nature. So humility is truly needed here as to stop doing wrong by changing to what is right. Don't do this in comparison. The ones doing right has nothing to do with this. They just go with the flow as is..

If you are stick in wheel don't act like wheel.

Very stupid.

That's not merry go round for all.

Astrology wins. Because it doesn't compete.

Everything ripples. And if you stand firm in being a specific part of a circle from water affected from the center. You lie.

Universal law is. And will forever be.

To live in accordance with this is a must for humble living. Or else we create systems to support this offset. Why support offset? Everything becomes a problem from this stubborn disposition. Like all other systems that follow. The universal machine is perfect. Align with it.

Same new year. For all. Follow the stars. If I was in a boat trying to find my way home before any advanced technology? I would not read the Bible. I would not read the Quran. I would not worship Lord Ram. (It's never about any religion at all.)

I would trust the Universe.

Give it up. We have the possibility to give peace a chance. From a peaceful foundation. We cannot experience being satisfied before we've actually eaten. And hunger will be great in great need. Which the offset from the foundation of unconditional love is.

Being all we truly ever need.

This hunger can be satisfied momentarily by all sorts of things. Gadgets. Other people. Diamonds. Drugs. And so on..

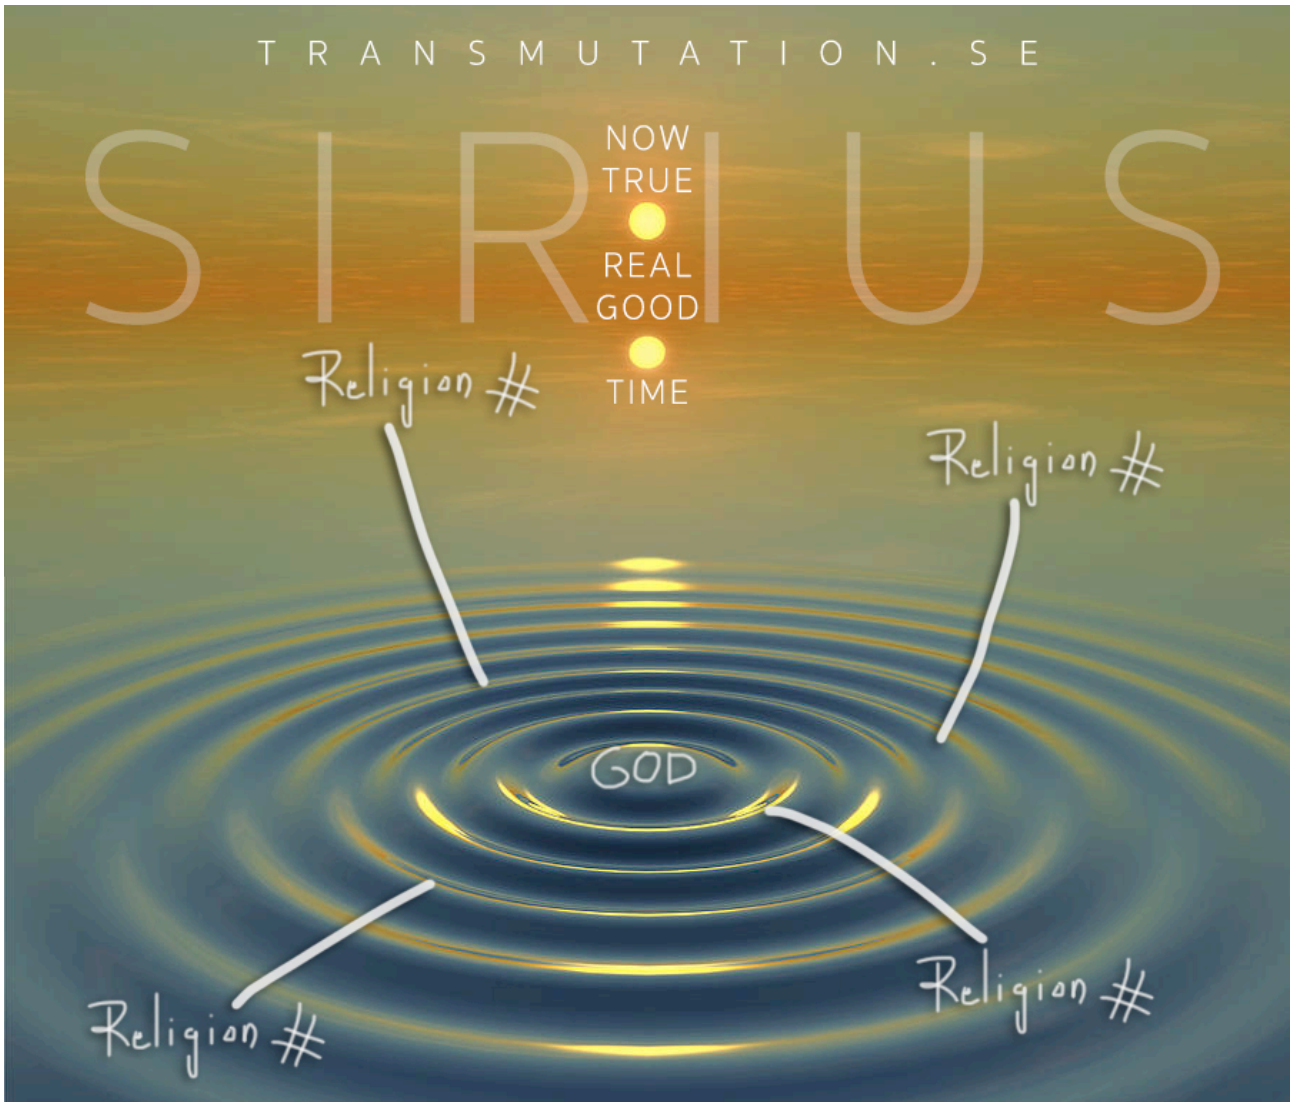

But why do this in relation to being wrong regarding the very fundamentals of an all giving universe in perfection.

Hahahahaha!!!! I know now!

Alan! Alan is the Chinese guy!

Detective Watts. OMG.

That's so funny. 😂 This icon represents how I look right now. Match that in your communications. Or else you lie. And will face negative consequences. Being a sensitive soul being as a human being.

Will you argue with this? Then you go against nature. Not me. Yet I am feeling this. Because I am a child of nature. Just like you. So who are you in opposition to? And further more you would also decline the fact that the stars where ever used as guides regarding all oceanic exploration. Hold on to this and you affect the whole universe. Byt being in opposition to it and not me as a presenter of this wisdom.

I found this in freedom. And love is free. God is love.

So we all follow. Or we all fall.

And this has been the bipolar of humanity. Fighting about who's right in relation to something that just is, in perfection. Just like anyone who knows about me and has not supported me. They wish to be the discoverer for themselves. Which is true. We should all be. But it's not a competition. Ever.

And from that comes religion. Understandable. Very close. And created as we did not have international connection like we do today. So we made it work independently, locally. But it's time to let that go now.

And not celebrate any nationality as being correct. No race. There is only one race of human beings on planet earth. The human race. Which is a spiritual being living in harmony with nature as to feel very good.

Nature. Universe. God. Love. Source. Soul. Self. Light. All. The Same.

I am so happy now that I am famous in the world.

Or.

I am so famous now that I am happy in the world.

That's fundamentally the same thing. To be able to enjoy life. Living as a star of light perception. Enlightened as in clear about what is what. From the core of truth rippling out as to create an experience. The weather will clear now. All will clear.

As this knowledge is brought to attention. Making for awareness. Without discussion regarding authenticity. If Jesus resurrected and walked again from previously been dead is an argument discussed in relation to the witnesses either lying or telling the truth about it. But a key element is missing in that equation. As to make it calculate. And this has brought stupidity all around the world. And this is that it never happened. He never returned like that. But most likely was experienced in his holographic representation. As he was dearly missed.

I have not studied scriptures. I have some books at home. I flipped thru them. But all my findings has been spiritual. Where I have been brave to go deep in consciousness. This is where everything you need is. To be in absolute dark without fear as to find love. And bring it back from the depths of hell where it was held as hostage for ransom. The price was all of humanity. Love was free all along.

But needed to be affirmed and acknowledged correctly. Clear and crisp. And this is what I did. I thought it was about the Rachel Welch poster. I thought it was about the digging. But it was all about realizing I was a Freeman. Calm and full of joy. The material man did the digging. But I got out when the time was due. And walked free on the beach meeting myself from the inside out.

I wonder if that's what's happening to people these days. They go through the institution of education through their youth, and then the institution of higher education. When they graduate they go through the institution of the job search and sending out resumes.

People are told this is how things work all their lives. They saw their parents doing it and now they are doing the same thing. When the process starts to break down, they don't know what to do. In some cases people are shackled by the institution of home ownership (unable to move to the jobs.)

As others are saying, contacts are highly important. My level of success is dependent on the size of my virtual rolodex. People need to get around the institution.
