

How shall I put this..

God is omni present conscious awareness.

And when I am in deep contact I feel one thing very strong and very clear.
Which is the all knowing.

So to describe this as a human being it makes most sense like this:

She knows everything.

And she gives you all.

On one condition.

You gotta love it all without corruption.

Which is the tricky part in terms of comparison.

And also in relation to not ever dreaming about what you wish for.

Comparison is just like everything else in relation to your true self.

So it does not have to be in reflection of somebody else.

You might compare yourself to the previous model of you?

Why compare yourself to somebody that does not exist?

So feel free!

When it comes to all the corruption? Who are you as of right now?

Are you clear?

Or are you judged?

Can you judge yourself right now for something you've done (in the past) not possible to exist anymore? The answer is that you can't. But you can try to in various intensity.

And that's a hold on on things to come like you saying 'Hold on, wait a minute'.

Everything is alright you know. You are supposed to pleasure yourself.

You are supposed to make yourself feel good without ever judging yourself.

What is wrong about making yourself feel good?

Nothing.

It's alright to make yourself feel great!

-Wow! What do I have to do?

Actually not much.

Enjoy being you and have the pleasure of living as good as possible which is effortless without judgement. It's a kool breeze and a loving sun.

What is beautiful?

Without comparison.

Everything is.

As is.

It's all wonderful and glorious!

When you do not compare.

So love yourself!

TREAT YOURSELF WITH A CORE AFFIRMATION OF FEELING GOOD ABOUT WHO YOU IS. LOVING EVERYTHING ABOUT YOURSELF. AND YOU IS ALL GOOD.

ALL GOD.

ALL LOVE.

It's only the mind that can judge.

And that's you questioning yourself in relation to something other than being affirmed as great honorable and wonderful love. Which makes for unnatural.

Enhancing the technical aspect of being.
Which makes for an experience not so sensational.
As intuition is sensual.

And sensual is not stressing anything..

..Sensual is not in any rush..

Sensual loves to enjoy herself.

And truly experience the taste, the sound, the scent, the feeling.

Of all.

Right there.

Just..

Right there..

Is God.

Enjoying herself.

In peace.

..Over watching..

Her most prized possession.

You.

What does she wish for you?

She wishes for you to have it all.. As for her to experience everything as good as possible. From you experiencing it all as good as possible. And gives you all as you do. Or else it does not work. How can she experience it all as good as possible when choose to live in stress not living a sensual intuitive life just like she is?

As your unique experience is her going thru you and back to her again.

Over and over..

All the time..

..Forever..

All you need to be is on time.

Right on time.

..Ride on time..

The time is always showing.

Right now.

And the show is on.

Why is transmutation all for free?

Because love is.

Who deserves to be credited for it?

I am.

Who am I?

What am I?

Love.

God.

Her.

My greatest wish is her.
So I become her.

In spirit.

The life giving energy that appreciates and loves all.
Without comparison. And wishes well for all without judgement.

How do you become her?

By feeling all good.

In relation to yourself and everything else.

Without shame, guilt, fear.

All love.

Divine.

What do you do with this? What is OK and what is not?
It's all OK. All for you. Just enjoy.

As you are focused on the price.

Which is your romantic reflection.

Wishing for you.

Breathe and relax in the present now.

And feel all.

And all is yours.

Do not worry about anything at all.
As this invites and initializes the questions as to doubt your worth.

It's previous loss that makes one question their own self worth.

'If I am so good and so loved why did I loose?'

From one thing and one thing ultimately.

Stressing.

Not being peaceful and present.

Which made you work to keep what you had, but made you loose as you did not cherish it. Don't judge yourself for that. Let it go. Feel the emotions of contradiction to pleasure as this will make you realize your ways. Understand. Forgive. And release yourself to become the new and free you.. Once again.

Over and over.

All the time..

..Forever..

Rest.

Reset.

Return.

Promised love.

It's coming now.
How much and how fast?

That depends on you.

On how much you try to control it or allow for it.

With control it becomes judged as something in need of catching.

But love is free..

When allow for you feel that it's coming.

Keeping the connection.

Of a good sensation.

Like whatever.

Yet not condescending but feeling good.

Feeling really good.

..As you is..

Free love

Can you believe it?

Why believe it?

Feel it.

No thoughts required.

Faith.

In love.

It's like presence loves presence.

Which it cannot do without itself.

It enjoys itself.

What is judgement?

Does not exist.

So does it need to achieve or perform?

No.

It just needs to feel good.

It's just play.

Having fun and feeling good.

Everything is great and wonderful about you.

Do not ever judge anything you do.

As this is resistance in relation to what you is.

Which is all free love

So can you do whatever?

Sure.

You can pick up a gun if you've got one and walk downtown and shoot as many as you wish. Empty that clip. And murder as many as you can before you run out of bullets or somebody stops you.

Is that all good?

It most definitely is not.

As love is all giving.

Can you touch anyone as you please and just be all love?

Most definitely not.

As moral boundaries are crucial for harmony.

So what it stems from and comes down to in all of your living experience is what?

Love!

To feel love. As much as possible. Found in the present timeless now without judgement. So to feel good you gotta be good. And that you is. But will question yourself causing judgement if not in alignment with what you truly wish for.

It's all you.

What you truly wish for is the most loving connection from the outside in as possible.
Which is a creation in relation to realizing it and feeding it from the inside out.

So be easy on yourself.

But not easy as in whatever living life.

Have honor. Pride.

In love.

Felt in your chest.

And rest there.

In peace.

- OMG.. So much to live up to!

Not really.

Actually nothing at all.

If you love and appreciate yourself being true to yourself without judgement, what is there to live up to. You're just being real. So why stress that?

Here I am!

All yours!

But in various constellations depending on our spiritual connection and also age + gender if this is a more intimate relationship.

Be played by destiny.
But don't be a player.

Never put yourself down as in not worthy.
Not wonderful as you is.

If people turn you down then let 'em.
If people judge you they judge themselves.

A human being not judging themselves do not judge others.
A human being true to themselves do not lie to others.

A human being wishing for all to be well and enjoy life is a human being connected to their divine nature of the all giving love.

This I am.

I am this.

This love.

Craig Armstrong.

Listen to that.

Right now.

..And just stay inside your heart..

Close your eyes, and just feel.

I can do that with a smile.
I don't experience a lot of hurt.

It's a beautiful song.

But I ride it like.. Grateful &.. Longing.

That's alright.

This love.

..The strings..

They are love.

Soft lingering..

The song is over now.

Next song: Craig Armstrong - Balcony scene
(The space between us)

..She can hear this..

I see her move in slow motion..
As she is all Ive ever dreamed of.
I see her shoulder..Her hair.. I see her feet.

I can't hold back tears now.
But I am not sad.

She wants to talk to me!?

I'm so happy!

I feel sick.

Right now.

Because I have neglected her.
Inside myself.

My love

And this is killing me.
As I've failed to believe for her.
Judging myself.

To be what circumstances told me I'm not.

Which I cannot ever be.

Who is she?

Really?

Pure love - God
Restoring and healing all.
Creator of the Universe.
The One.

How do I reach her?
By connecting with her in blind faith within me.
Not stressing.
Just being.

The big problem in life is actually doing a bunch of stuff we don't wanna do. We are meant to do what we wish to do. And so we need to do some things before we get that. All from previous neglect of all we need as to affirm and be ourselves.
Which is love.

This behavior makes us stressed. Which is natural in relation to free will and enjoyment.

Give yourself what you dream of and the dream gives itself to you. That's attraction.

So what do you feel you want. And what are you doing about it? Are you feeling it?

Try to think of a reason not to be happy without resisting it. Take as long as you can.. no stress at all. If you can't think of anything. Don't worry. Just be happy 😊

Where is the stress in that?

- Omg! I did not realize I was stressing so much and working so hard as to make myself like my experience despite doing what I do not desire. That must be the reason for all the stress making me unhappy regardless of momentary pleasures over and over yet never fulfilling.

Yes! Exactly 🥰🏆🎉

So what do you need?

- Feel good. For real. Inside out no doubt.

Yeah! Divine Godly Love Living! 💖

What judgement really does is pass an opportunity. Like this young woman I talked to this morning in Kenya. And I offered to be of assistance in her creation. She made that into something judgmental and stopped talking to me.

When I just wished for a great life for her.

Truly.

..just be inspired! That's all. See the good as in feel the good. And good things come. Make a snap judgement? And it's gone.

What is for you is for you. In a true reflection. Which is all about the emotional state that you allow for, or work like a maniac as to maintain. Which is not very true as in loyal to honest desire.

Things fall apart.

They have to.

As the house of cards was built on an untrue foundation. Keeping you closed. But not close. To your own divine true nature. So be open. Be open to change and transformation and keep asking for more. And more is given..

All is..

Feel good. Feel relaxed. Feel a sensual feeling of looked after and taken care of..

Found in the present moment. Without stress.

And things happen.

You are a source. Like the source. The source of all giving. Which you can become as much as you please. And from that you will be communicated out into the world as more or less light. The effort in this is all about loss. And coming to terms with it.

Ready to once again rise. But now as the new you!

So from the point of braking un until the time of being ready.. What did you do?

Did you make something out of it? Did you use the darkness as to make for more light? Well there you go then. She knows. Everything. And will now give you all of what you've asked for. Trust that.

Rest in peace now.. And feel good about being your own creation of returning back to innocence. That's all we ever wanted. All of us being God. Together.

The crash is good as long as not fatal. Like a skateboard trick in trial. Perhaps not a first try effort but eventually you'll nail it!

Nobody you will ever meet. NOBODY. Knows anything about you. Unless you judge yourself and life uncomfortable within your own skin. And by that repell what you most desire. Which is friendly connections with other people. And more intimate connection with someone special.

Sounds good? Yeah! A world of love. INIT.
