NOW THAT WE'VE FOUND LOVE WHAT ARE WE GONNA DO WITH IT?

This is the most important thing of all.

Which is a prescription.

There has to be an intention with all manifestation.
And the closer that intention is to soul intention the better it gets.

All is love.

And what you connect with giving you everything is love.

So what you wish to receive is love.

Love enables all.

So it's not about money.

Money is just a manifestation of possibility in the material world.

Which can be used for whatever.

But if you wish to receive it in abundance you will have to become as authentic in nature as possible which is an automatic connection to what makes everything happen.

So finding love is actually getting rid of resistance.

And love is right there.

Waiting..

To be delivered to the ones deserving which is all but maybe not in emotional agreement within everyone. So you gotta be true. Coming closer to being real.
Making you a source of inspiration. Just like God.

Mimicking, reflecting, acting super honest and all giving yourself.

So what's your plan? What do you wish to do with all that love? Are you planning for that? Have you written down what you wish to create as to support love in the world actually making a world of love?

What do you wish to be a part of?

And what is necessary for you, as to be a natural choice, as to be a part of that?

You gotta be able to give what you have.

Everyone dreams of making a change and doing good in the world.

But are you just dreaming being phony holy?

Is your main focus on being the savior or actually saving?

Do you feel like giving everybody just about anything out of love is a great idea?

It's not.

People whom aren't humble and grateful honestly don't deserve it. They are worthy. Yes. Always. But if they aren't feeling deserving then why should they receive from you? That sends a very strong message that you can behave in destruction and still receive as to support that. That's not good.

Are you like that?

Do you honestly feel that you should receive more then? If you are living in self destruction. What would you say to somebody else doing that? If somebody is destroying themselves and polluting the environment with their negativity would you give them unlimited funds?

You wouldn't. (Unless you da mob)
So there you go.

They need to become humble before receiving.
That's what humble before God means.

As to receive what enables more possibilities of a positive expansive nature.

The same goes for me.
The same goes for all.

So..

This is why truth is everything.
Just to be honest with yourself in order to not create contradiction within you.
So as you are God, The Universe.

You will not give yourself what you honestly do not feel in relation to possibilities of a good nature.

Check this:

The color red is the frequency of fear as it is in the root of our energy system and in opposition to love. Yet blood is what gives us life and needs to circulate in the body as free as possible.

So in fear of love we get tensed as to loose life. Which prevents it. In resistance based on fear of losing it.

So to be open enables everything but requires vulnerability. And that scares us. As we have to drop all defense when being as loving as possible. Not in fear and not resisting love defending it in self offense.

And the heart knows this, because all it needs is love, blood, life. So listening to the heart which cannot judge will free the flow and the mind can handle what it's supposed to, being a loving servant.

No antivirus guard necessary. As we are loyal and welcome in our own experience. In our own system. Which will manifest outside of us in our unique projection experienced by others. You do not need insurance in relation to certainty. You just need to trust it. Faith.

Peace on earth

Don't be scared of God/Love. That's the single most idiotic thing you could ever do.

EVER

In all of existence

And that's all in the foundation at the core of everything a feeling completely free of thought = Trust = No judgment in relation to yourself

Free to do whatever. Yes. But freedom in moral responsibility forever supported by pure all giving love when you do what's right.

We fear what we don't understand and what is new.

The rational mind in protection fears its own opposition when allowed to be in control thus killing what is actually giving all.

Only this is the actual misconception.

Hence the fear of love.

There is no opposition.

That's the masculine keeping the feminine submissive & oppressed in segregation.

S.O.S

That's a pyramid sounding the alarm in fear of self.

Fear of God.

Fear of Love.

Fear of Self.

All from the inside out.
For both men and women.

It's the equivalent of holding a gun pointing at your own face aimed at love herself shooting to kill in self defense yet being offensive destroying what gives life to begin with.

Without having a personal opinion about that I would like to call that behavior:

INTERMORONIC

Love is free

And thrives in freedom, that's a given.

So let love be free.

This IS a world of love by love design.
All our struggle is being in opposition to that. By not wanting to be Ego getting what we focus most on. Which becomes exactly that. And also protecting ourselves for an extremely sexual society by focusing on sex in most of what we do and create in movies, music, fashion etc. We get what we give.

Everything is designed to evolve and become more loving.

Sex is not Love.

Love is love.

Sex also wants to be free.

But not as in sexual freedom to do whatever whenever with whomever.

Just sexual freedom in moral comprehension of love.

Try to control anything which is in nature completely free and you will create war.

War against what gives all.

Mother murda.

The masculine superior over the feminine.

There are women supporting this.

Either from acting the same all in fear of love which is being judgemental and lying to themselves all in fear of self holding themselves back in shame & guilt which becomes projected in frustration turning into destructive behaviors.

Or as a passive supporter in fear of the one controlling.

In fear of the one controlling in submission, oppression & segregation.
Which is a misconception of them not connecting with love inside themselves.
Which is connecting with their true and authentic self, which is self.

Which is God.

Which is Love.

True. Story.
