GOOD SPIRIT

God is good. Can you believe that? God is all good. Can you believe that?
And God is Love. Unconditional Love. Like inside your heart without judgement.
God does not have the possibility to worry. At all. Does not even know what it is.

God only knows God. Self. Completely self affirming.

If you align and connect with that. Everything is yours.

What everything?

Well, in relation to creation of course.

You will get what you deserve in terms of assistance. Service.

Maintaining love. As love needs to be affirm as to exist.

For a human being.

Love creates everything. And is always there.
You cannot kill love. That's impossible.

But you can kill yourself.
More or less.

Completely if you wish. Ending your human experience.

But truth be told you wish to experience the opposite.
The brightest experience possible for yourself!

Well then you gotta affirm and connect with that.

And not ever worry. When worry comes you affirm the good. Which is self connection. Connection to God. Love. In a positive expecting feeling. Of absolute conviction that things are gonna work out. Even better than you could possibly imagine!

The closer you come to fruition the darker it gets. More opposition. More resistance. Because of the rational world being maintained. Not spiritual.

But this is also in perfection given your previous battles won over darkness.

You've become stronger in faith. You know the importance of it and not letting darkness consume you. So everything is a more and more challenging test of faith.

The walls might be closing in. The assets are slim to none. Friends drop off. Family drop off. Any loving support available drops off.. So you can be completely alone and learn to most valuable thing there is in this life.

To only be in need of God.
To realize that all you truly need is love.

And love is joy.
Love is positivity.
Love is happening.
Love is all good.

Love is the greatest and most powerful thing which is not a thing in the entirety of all creation!

That's good.
That's real good.
That's reliable.

Sturdy like nothing else.
Unbreakable really.

The power is at your disposal and all about free will down to the very last drop.

So whatever happens under whatever circumstances you need to make the choice. The darkness or the light.

The light is like:

I am already successful
Things have already worked out
No problem about anything at all

Because the light is light.
It can see as far as forever.
It knows everything forever.
God knows everything.

God knows about that ant almost getting stomped in Norway on my birthday, which is on a Tuesday, 4568.

It's true! That's why God is a very reliable source. The most reliable.
Like you can bet all you've got on it! Just go ahead!

The economic system is very corrupt.
And that's just a manifestation of power.

So what is necessary is to invert that.

Which is not done by war.

It's a spiritual battle. Without any opposition other than our own rational minds.
Which have been given power thus creating the economic system of corruption we experience today.

So how to do the invert?

We self realize ourselves.

When we do we become independent.
And the system will eventually ask us for money.

Self sufficient.

Self reliant.

Strong in Self.

Connected to God.

This is not a gimmick. It's not a suggestion.
This is the way to do it.

Or we stay braindead consumers whom allow for children to die a horrible death in the worst conditions possible as we just have to have that jacket.

Life is about giving.

And you cannot give if you ain't got anything to give.

So what's necessary is to create something that generates energy.
Energy in motion is e-emotion. So to be emotional about it is a good idea in relation to connecting with what is human. What is humane? That's Love.

So God.

Soul. Intention.
Make that your guide.

And plan to give as much away as possible to create balance in an unbalanced world. Show everyone how you did it. Give away the magic. And people can do the same as they know understand that we create with our dreams and emotions.

And when people do this for some time. The world will become brighter and brighter. Eventually we will all have fun in the sun and enjoy life.

Like paradise on earth.

Not no longer in competition with self.

Trying to create a system that will outshine God.

What are you fuckin' retarded?

" But I am this close to creating a Galaxy!"

No you're not..

I don't need to create the Galaxy.

I am the fuckin' Galaxy!

This is the power.

Identify with source.

Become true.

Self.

By your own creation.

Lead with example.

Share your knowledge.

Assist more.

Be there for love.

And love shall give you all.

Raw Power!

Yet all Love.

When you do love a service you get rewarded.
When you do love a great service you get greatly rewarded.

When you do love the greatest service in the history of the world?

Well. That should be good?

Work for love.
Give it all up.

To shine the light by becoming it.

That's a very loving suicide.
Completely.

As it requires a complete sacrifice yet still stick around.

"Oh I can imagine that must be very hard"

You can't imagine shit.

Go do it.

And do your part.

Have that personal and unique experience for yourself. And also make a world of love at the same time.

Nobody has ever done what you will do. It will be completely unique for you. But the laws. The laws and the core. They are the same for both of us.

That's why I invite you to do it.

Because I know that destiny is not ever destined to fail.

It will not be easy. It's the most difficult challenge in your life.
But it will also be the most rewarding.

I feel the power of ancestors from all over boosting my appreciation and honor right now. No-one of them. Ever did what I do. Many did fantastic things.
But not as challenging as for me.

I saw this as possible.

When I began for real about 8 years ago.

It has grown since then.

Becoming smaller and smaller.

For you transmutation.se, the music, the videos are a lot.

But for me they're like a little Pixi-book.

Which everything will become for you to. I am not bragging.

And when that happens more and more.

Life will become simpler and simpler.

In relation to what creates it all.

From actually understanding why you're here.

Living correct.

Being what you is.

And having what you have.

Not taking anything for granted.

And completely trusting the source which is the connection.

Impossible without feeling blind faith.

Don't ever take the hand of darkness except in the physical world. In the physical world I highly recommend it. And maybe this is where "racism" truly comes from?

A misconception all afraid of the dark behind closed eyes which makes for the overall challenge for all of us stating I am light but not seeing any completely alone.

People do not wish to surrender to God because of religion.

Because religion has done far more damage than good.

So rightfully people are afraid of God.

But that's only a misconception.

Yet understandable.

God is all good. In ultimate reality nothing to fear.
That's man's fear of his true self.

Not understood emotionally.

And thus created a representation of that in his own material reflection as to teach himself. Which we took literally. And punished himself. Like a complete idiot.

He was given a shovel.

And asked if he could try to dig his way up?

And he gave that thousands of digs.

That's how moronic this incomprehensible mind is about love.

If I wish to get to know anything I connect with that.

Like a bird for instance. I connect as much as I can with the birds and study them.

Love cannot be found in any book.
You study self. Soul. Emotion.

Stop digging.

Hello! Heart here! I know love! And love is God!
Come! I'll show you!

The war is always spiritual and material.

Happening in the background.

Coming to the foreground.

Dream creation.

In Fear or Love.

Honestly.

Or not.

Truth or Lie.

Darkness or Light.

Affirmed negative. Affirmed positive.

Both stars.

EVIL : LIVE

Mirror. Reflection.

Crossed. Upside down.

Creating a challenge.

How to work that out materially????

You can't.

It will drive you crazy.

Or it will create systems in protection all in fear as you get further and further away from what actually teaches you all you need? And all you need is love. So who's the teacher?

If you ask me to tell you this right now you need to bow your head and talk to the center of your chest. Where a pulse originates from. And then you ask the following:

What am I missing?

What is it that I do not understand my love?

Why am I fighting instead of loving?

And the heart will reply without any words at all:

The feeling of distrust

Which is not the heart doubting you.
It's simple showing you by emotional communication.

What you need.

And if you can look at yourself alone and honestly say:

Ok my love. I've got some changes to make as to deserve trust in relation to myself again. Then you are a great man. The greatest.

And you do right for love.

Because love just gives.
And expects you to receive in return

Which you won't if you don't feel deserving.

So you gotta be good.

Which is to enjoy yourself. Affirm the good about yourself.
Don't ever judge yourself. And that's not a problem if you do right.

Feel all good.

Everything is about you. You are the universe. And the loves won't circulate if you don't allow for it. So you and your perception of yourself is the bridge that either makes or takes away the gap. So what do you want? Do you want for things to happen? Then you affirm yourself as a great loving compassionate artistic genius no matter what. And the world is just slow and retarded not realizing this yet.

That's the truth.

Because the world ain't feelin' it.
And God is a bundle of feeling.

All possible.

All expressions all creation all nuancing everything.

Ever.

And I mean Ever.

Forever.

For infinity.

So if we wanna make a beautiful colorful world.

Then we better fuckin' feel!

Which is everything. To allow for all to pass.
To leave us. Coming to all cried out.

And no longer judging anything anymore.

The world has never been so Ego as it is right now.

Super terrible.

Hence the darkness. Prices. Energy waste.
War. Pollution. Disconnection. Wasting life.

Full of offense.
Which is defense.
From salvation.
In comfort.

In a safe bubble.

Hiding from responsibility.

But moving a lot of stuff around and getting paid for it.

I love the Swedish nature.

But I feel like I don't wanna see or talk to Sweden for a while.

It's a horrible country.

The most judgemental and false in the world.

Stiff. Boring. Afraid. Lying.

Condemning.

Unnatural.

Keeping anything wonderful suppressed in fear.

Anything real.

Hence the fear.

Someone not true is afraid of truth.

And will not have it because it demands for the lie to die.

Which is being maintained and sustained in lack of responsibility.

For whatever reasons.

Deal with that.

And become great. A shiny healthy apple without maggots on the inside.

All the way true.

All the way spiritual.

Connected.

No gap.

Sweden is like a huge gap trying to add some light and make it work. The world to really.. Holding on to the gap of about 95% and trying to add 5% light THINKING that it will perhaps complete the circle of all light. That ain't happening.

Allowing for it is also a bit of fear.

Because you honestly feel that it's gonna happen.

It becomes very much real then.

You can dream about anything.

And feel like it would be the most amazing thing ever!

Well..Do that long enough and dreams come true.

So what makes you allow for it is you being ready.
When you feel you've done enough and this is also in relation to your ability to present what you have created.

Like a plate of food.

It might have 5 components. With some specific design and chemistry as to create them. It's a great dish! People are like:

What is this!

And this is the same with everything I've created.

I gotta be very confident in my own creation and be able to explain it all.

Which I have absolutely no problem doing.

I feel excited about doing that!

It's gonna be fun!

And that's the ticket. That's the ticket going over that bridge of self doubt.
Where nobody is blocking you. No-one is holding you back..

Allowance is the ticket itself.

It's like you are the bridge. Created by yourself. Can you trust it?
Can you trust your own creation? Or is this a hazardous machine?
Is this dish deadly?

Maybe?.. Let's give it a go!
What's innovation otherwise you know?

Everyone loves a good challenge.

Me especially I guess.

Like crazy much I guess?

But in love. And in adventure.

So the one writing those 'I guesses'..

Is me as a 7-8 year old.

The Pro-Dreamer.

Who's been neglected and hurt for such a long time.

Now finally getting a revival.

Together with music!

Like the 14 year old!

Who wishes to give to all like all of them!

In a currently 42 year young package delivering so much good stuff to everybody for free like a 355 year old.

The second chance is for all of us.

For all of me.

For all of love.

Why stand on the opposite side of success then?
Why not give it to yourself? ...I paused there and had to think for a minute.
Which is such an indicator that the reason is not there?

Why the need to search for it?

I feel deserving. I feel worthy. I feel successful in what I have created which is all in relation to myself. This cannot become anymore successful then this.

The resistance can only work for so long.

It becomes exhausted. It tires...

God can't.

No possibility.

Full speed all the time.

Speedy delivery!

God basically just hands everything over to you.

But you might be far away from that bridge over the gap?
And your hands can't stretch that far.

God ain't moving.

God just is.

So you gotta do right for yourself and thus come closer to the bridge.
And then God will be there on the other side. Just giving you everything. With a smile. No questions asked. All given. The questioning is your doing. Which makes for a bridge in the first place.

There ain't no bridge for God.

God just waits..

For you.

To come.

All the way.

With all that you are.

All you are is love..

So you gotta bring it!

Clear. Not judged.

Naturally worthy and truly deserving.

It's Mars & Venus on either side of earth.

The energy is coming from the sun.

Mars is closer to the sun before the earth.

Which makes for blockage when affirmed and the challenge as to affirm Venus coming after.

All is energy frequency vibration.

Mars is the masculine. Rational.
Venus is the feminine. Emotional.

What is humane is emotional.
What is robotic is rational.

The bridge is leading the masculine to release itself from self destruction. It want's to die. It wants to surrender. To Self. True Self. Which is the feminine.

Not female.

The masculine. Not Male.

Masculine is the left side of the brain.
Feminine is the right.

Mars is in orbit before the earth which makes it to the left.
Venus is in orbit after earth which makes if to the right.

The heart is in the chest. The earth is in-between.

And we all benefit from letting the energy flow freely and not held up before our false self perception. Which we do. As we are submissive and loyal to darkness.

Making the Ego our true identity. As well as sexual identification which is also a lie.

Truth shall always prevail.

Because it's not self destructive.

It's self creating.

Light makes light happen.

We have to give to what we wish. And as this blockage from identification is allowed we strangle our own possibility. We hold on to defeat. Individually and collectively. God is all Good. No Fear. All Good. Drop all control. Allow.

It's like:

I've done all I can now what?

And still I do this.

I write this document.

Just to give ya'll where I am.

This is live.

All of what I've written is live.

Emotional. Rational. Honest.

As is. Was...

All what is left is to affirm myself.

Which has been the game all along.

So I could have been born successful.

If it wasn't for my parents not ready full of fear but all "high and might I'm a grown up". I can do this life creation. Despite me not having an honest clue about my own.

Let's give it a go!

And if you've read everything you now all about that.

Which I understand.

Totally.

It was immature and irresponsible shit.

So now I'm here.

At 42.

Feeling proud in relation to the 7-8 year young myself.

As I've created a project he would be so damn proud of!

I feel that pride!

I will that honor.

In my from him.

As he thanks me in so much gratitude.

For releasing him.

From condemnation.

So I guess now I can keep his good adventurous spirit and be a man then?

And relax and feel OK about myself.

And don't question myself anymore.

In relation to deserving. In relation to being worthy.

I needed to do right for all.

And I am all.

Everything is in me. Energy cannot be separated.
Love is everywhere and in everything.

All is God. All is spirit.

All is I am.

It was a lot of hurt.
A lot of sorrow.

Braking up from what was a kind of love ain't right.

That's the painful side of love. Love misconceived.

Love understood is joy.

Love misunderstood makes for sabotage as to learn about it.

To come home.

And feel alright there.

To not feel threatened in your own closest environment.

The only predator there is darkness who can't do anything without your permission.

It cannot control you.

You allow it to control you.

It's not easy. I'm not saying that.

But what you do about it is what you do about it.

Affirming darkness or light.

Being negative and complaining full of self defeat?
Or, being positive and expecting full of self praise!

The latter without competition.

Just all inspired.

That's success. Individually.
Independently.

Strong in Self.

Strong in God.

Strong in Love.

Strong.

Without violence.
All heart.

And loving actions.
Peaceful warrior.

Cigarettes feel a lot.

The smoke is felt in your throat and your lungs.
It's felt around your heart.

Giving you comfort in great need.

I cannot blame myself for this.

But I understand it.

I've blocked myself.
No wonder.

All I need is love.

And I will naturally be in great need if I block myself from receiving it.

From receiving what I give myself.

That enables all.

That gives more of what I want.

That makes life full of joy.

That connects me in life.

Which I have been afraid of..

That's in essence: Ridiculous

Love is nothing to fear.
Fear is nothing to fear.

All we need is love.

Nothing happens for no reason.
Everything happens in relation to your development which is connected to everyone else.

When you go for your destiny and dream come true then all is test of faith.

Which is not God testing you.

God is non-conceptual and unconditional. All giving.

So the dream come true is already yours.

The test of faith is you challenging yourself.

The destiny is all about your soul intention which is all about love and freedom.
The dream and destiny is all about becoming big with a great message.

So the support in this, and the test of faith makes for the actual creation which happens under a certain amount of pressure.

To be as clear and true as you can is naturally supported the most.
But will also be the most challenging as you need to know what you're talking about coming from authentic & real experience.

So you must go thru it.

And when you go thru it you can choose to share your experience.
And connect that to the universal laws by the best of your ability and this will be your creation of love. The creation that clears out all other guiding creations not correct in relation to the divine perfection.

And they will be forgotten.
Eventually.

That's very very good. Good job!

And if you look at this without judgement and just see the resistance and possibility between them one could actually call me 'Christ' against 'The Virus'.

Because it's all energy with mathematical patterns creating this simulation of a third dimensional reality. What we create is either love or fear. What is condescending, submissive, controlling is virus. In relation to a free world.

That's Antichrist.

Anti of a clear perception trusting oneself as to be divine.
Which makes us in need of a system to control us. In lack of faith in self.
Soulless living.

So think twice..

'Cause it's another day for you and me in paradise.

If you live correctly and drop all which is not clear.

A humane being has no enemies.

I am Christ consciousness.

All I have written includes no hate.

Just clear explanations of negative conduct.

When you are clear in perception the hostile world no matters what expression is very very immature. From this perspective I don't see big strong muscular rappers as men? I see them as 4-5 year old boys. Which are hurt inside and grew up to be hard and tough because they had to in a rough environment.

When I see someone standing in front of thousands of people preaching from any kind of ideology I see someone focused on themselves just as any other 11-12 year old would do as to feel proud in being the class president.

When I see people following social media and not taking any responsibility to be true to themselves I see 'Walking deads'.

It's easy to see all this. From the outside.
People don't reflect. They don't relate.

They just work.

All of the ideologies are virus.

They are the foundational reason why we suffer so much.

Some more than others.

I have explained all about spiritual connection on my website and on YouTube with my videos. I have even made little riddle poem rap kind a things about it in music.

None of that is connected to any ideology.
All is about freedom. All is about love. All is about friendship.
It includes everyone and presents no segregation.
It's not submissive and controlling.

And most of all..

It's not packed with fear of love.

No guilt.

No shame.

The only reason someone would not accept this is because of holding on.

Holding on means fear.

Why else would you hold on?

Out of love?

Makes no sense.

Love is life.

Life happens.

Life & Love evolves together.

It transforms.

It changes.

It let's go of what no longer is serving us and what is no longer useful.

To be able to give us the updated version.

It's all energy.

When a operating system goes thru a completely new version it keeps the fundamentals. Like the universal laws. And then it's all new.

Allowing for change. Joyfully doing the update.
Looking forward to a new more exciting and better running OS.

Based on universal perfection.
That ain't shabby.

Well!

I have now done what I can.

Almost 8 years.

7 days a week.

Lost everything.

Just my apartment left. And all the stuff I guess they'll take away or I don't know..

I have no contact other than Lisbeth.

My best friend.

No food now.

No money.

So all that is left is to accept the challenge!

Thank you God for where I am.

Thank you God for the one I am.

I thank you for everything I've been thru and everything I have learned.

I trust you completely. I know that you will make everything alright.

I feel deserving and worthy.

I keep my positive connection.

I will not stop affirming the good.

Everyday in everyday things are getting better.

Blind faith. Trust Love. And the bridge is open.

Welcome to the other side.

Everyone's a prophet.

A false or true.

By choice.

And with this we create our own reality.
Which is a part of everyone else's.

We speak our world into existence.

Which has its origin inside of us where we use our mind instead of it using us.
When we go against a society full of pressure to conform.

That's not a problem at all really if society is healthy.

But it's not.

It's very sick.

You are not sick.

But maybe you make yourself sick from accepting a bunch of terms based on lies.

Nothing is created without creation. And creation can be based on survival all in fear. Or it can be based in divine connection all in love.

Fear or Love.

Creation.

The more fearful the creation is the more support it needs as to sustain. Which should be a very clear indicator that it's false to begin with. It's an unbalanced creation from the foundation. Both me and Jesus knows this. It's basic carpentry.

A house built like that is nothing we keep adding another floor to it becomes dangerous for all. Yet we do it. Holding on to a sick system.

We pull the plug on that eventually with nukes.
With bombs. With guns.

When all of that is really about going against ourselves and not being brave enough to actually follow our destiny as divine beings of love.

Some laugh at this..

They laugh at this like it's a cute little story.

But in reality this is what everything is made of.

What they stand by in pride wearing a suit finding divinity ridiculous is at most 5% of all the potential.

That's incredibly stupid.

The world is not about owning.
That's Ego.

The world is about sharing.
That's heart.

You can own your own house.
You can own your own car.
You can own stuff you need.

But the true economic unbalance is actually people not doing right for themselves as to be true. To take the responsibility to clear the karma and forgive as to release.

When that happens we loose resistance.

And we create from another perspective which is way more bright.

And all of a sudden we don't affirm ourselves with 25 cars.

But perhaps most families will have a very nice one.

And to go by buss or train might be free?

That's a pretty given to reduce a lot of environmental problems.
Makes for connection as well. Not just to go to work? But to see the world and to see each other. Some people only see each other over the phone. Wouldn't it be nice if they could book a free ticket and give each other a hug?

We create all these kinds of assisting self-development programs to become successful as human beings in relation to money.

If I was given a sum of money that supports me living healthy I would just do all that. I would simply devote my life as I am doing with all of transmutation.se to make more of it.

To help out some more.

Why are we not having this in every country?

Why are we not connected? Spiritually?

Fear of God.

That's the answer.

Blame = Religions

Who's God?

= You Are

Soul being.

Self creative.

Creating false or true self.

Depending on focus given various intentions.

You have agreed to a contract before coming here.

That's a soul contract. To become as you is.

That was the deal.

To make the most of it all.

Because that is bringing God to earth.

God is inspiration. Pure. So be inspiring.

In your specific unique way.

The resistance will drop as more do this. And the world will expand and become more exciting as it happens. The karma is folds on the hose. Straighten it out with true connection and the flow is abundant by nature as is.

I woke up this morning with instant affirmations.
I went to bed with them so they just continued as I woke up.

Then I felt the resistance pulling me down again.

So I wrote 2 pages in this document.

Then I had a cup of tea and felt that I needed to write again.

That's how heavy it is right now.

This last hold.

What I have done is the most beautiful piece of art in the history of the human race. The energies with the planetary positions have not been this strong in over 1000 years. We are moving into Aquarius right now. Venus and Pluto.

Venus is the feminine. The Love.
Pluto is our mind. Transformation.

What makes this resistance right now is everybody not connected.

Which will receive what they need.

A sudden lightning bolt straight in the head.

And you might think that these people are people not believing in God per say.. People like dismissing anything beyond the material. But truth be told these are religious people. Which are not spiritual. That's probably the main problem with religion. Because they believe to be spiritual as they are religious.

This cannot be further away from truth.

That is not correct. No.

Because God is not religious.

God is non-conceptual and unconditional all giving energy of positive nature in relation to life. God is actually all positive even when it comes to death. Because things need to leave when they've done what they were supposed to do.

Like a tree. A bug. A rock. A body.

That's all positive as things need to decay.
But you are not a thing.

What makes me struggle with this current situation is my own self perception.

I know who I am and I know what I stand for.

I know what I have created and I know how good it is.

But nonetheless I am where I am.

Weighed down by society.

A society that knows about me.

A family that knows about me.

But does not support me.

It's a part of my destiny yes. It's a part of my own test of faith.
To keep affirming myself.

But for future reference in relation to people.

Please support them!

It makes for a way easier experience as to make something really great come alive.

The Rose makes it thru the concrete. But you don't have to pave all over me?
You could give me some water and sunshine instead.

Some clapping hands perhaps?
Some messages now and then saying: Great job! Keep up!

But that won't happen.

You know why?

Because that would mean that they agreed with truth and not the lie. This would mean they would have to reflect on their own life and pursue their destiny. Which is way more easier to dismiss and call me crazy instead. The thing is.. They can actually support me still. And just recognize the bravery in what I do.. And from that be a part of it anyway.

Maybe it's better if we all give this up ey?

Just get a job.

Work 8 hours a day and make a living.

And rely on politicians to change the world.

The ones forever unbalanced in competition not getting along because of trying to win a popularity contest.

Those "real mature" people.

The "really responsible" people.

What makes a change?

Just by accident?

It just happens?

Just like a whatever falling from the sky hitting you over the head?

Or is it someone willing to sacrifice it all and deliver clarity as much as possible!
Someone who puts themselves thru personal hell as to make a change for good.

I've done that.

I can proudly say that I've done that now.

Giving it all for free.

A lot of hard work.

Way more demanding and stressful then moving any boxes or signing any documents. I put my body and soul thru this. I've had moments when I thought I would die several times. From pressure and pain. I've cried the tears of universal sorrow kept in spirit continuously for almost 3 years.

I am a light worker.

The toughest job there is.

If I should die as in croak. If my body has had enough and it's time for me to leave I feel satisfied with what I have done. With what I've gone thru and what I have decided in devotion and dedication as to create.

I am held up high by all the kids.

Every younger me is praising me.

All those versions of me that if you asked them what they wished for most they would all say: Peace on Earth.

I did this for them. For myself.

And for ya'll.

What makes us aware is what makes a change.

When it's in our conscious awareness we cannot dismiss it.

It creates a lot of pain then.

When truth is understood it makes it so much harder to go against it.

Which is the serious part about love.

But when you treat love right.

It's all about fun in the sun.

That's a fair deal.

Juste.

No judgement.
No punishment.

Just do love right.

What makes my struggle now is depletion.

It's so uphill.

Steep as ever.

Going for the Falcon Crest.

And it's gonna happen.

God has made me that promise.

So I keep affirming.

And I keep stating what I want in a positive energy.

Which is my thrust making it over.

Just like Joy as she and that elephant fell down in that canyon with those forgotten dreams. They sang of joy and inspiration which got her back up again.

That's where I am right now.

That's where we all are. In various perception depending on what we pursue.

I wanna save. Humanity.

I wanna save love.

And there could not be a better time in the history of the known universe to do so!

Everything is boosting this right now!

It's the perfect timing. It always is. It just depends on if you're informed or not. I watch the news. Which is all about planetary alignment. I care about situations of war. But I don't consume any of it. It does not make a change. I focus on what makes a change and dedicate my energy and focus with that.

News about devastation is more about creating international guilt than anything else. You are not a caring human being for taking part in those broadcasts. If anything it creates more fear. The subconscious mind accepts everything as reality. So what you feed it with eventually becomes.

If you are in fear of war all the time.
Constant worry.

You are basically ordering for a similar situation as you instruct your true self to give you this as you wish to experience it in reality.

You get what you give.

WATT.

Energy.

Universal respons.

God just delivers.

So whatever you feed yourself with you make into a manifestation of some sort.

Like watching murder and rape. Cheating drama. Darkness.

In movies. In series. On social media.

Is simply creating disconnection.
Distrust. Further away from love.

God is Love.

Devil is fear.

Why are you summoning the demons?

Do you like the demons?

For real?

You don't.

I have experience with demons.
It's not a picknick.

It's all consuming darkness. No love at all.
It makes you try to hold on to the wallpaper.

Why people consume this is what I believe is this.

They are living very boring lives.

They are not connecting.
They are not creating.
They are not spiritual.
They are not adventurous.

So they consume things that are worse than what they have as to feel good anyway. The superficially even the score of that emotional unbalance.

Why would you enjoy watching children get murdered and following a drunk detective tracking down a psychopath.

Or read about it before going to sleep.

Because that's adult entertainment?

Like getting drunk is adult?

What is adult?

Serious?+?

A nightmare bedtime story?
For real?

That's very immature.

The most adventurous thing which calls for the most bravery regarding anything any human being can ever do! Is to sing. Just to sing their heart out. That's what people are afraid of the most. To be so honest and real that it threatens to exclude them from society. Or even worse get killed for it.

I know. It can happen.

But I cannot dismiss my destiny.
If I go against this I kill myself.
This is my contract. I am to aware.

It's this or nothing.

Universal truth is very important.

For a harmonic world of love.

Where we truly are friends and collaborate.

And praise God in all aspects.

Not living with a single religion.

A self realized human being which has insight into all of creation can choose to develop an ideology around their personal insights. Something like "transmutationism".

But I would not suggest that.

Because we are all unique in our own experience being God experiencing itself. With a unique perception. So what you need is to develop your own comprehension which never should come to a conclusion.

It's constant as in constant development.

That's the intention of anything.

This is where religions fail.
Because they do not evolve.

That's not my opinion.
That's just the way it is.

Why it doesn't develop and stays static is because it's redeemed as perfect. Done.

Which goes against everything in the entire universe.

Many people reading this will feel such a burst in their chest!

Like a flower actually blooming out from the center of their hearts!

Do you know what that is!?

THIS IS LOVE BEING SET FREE!

This is allowed to be love!

No longer being controlled.

If you love you set free.

Most people know this.
Most people agree to this.

Religions agree to this.

But still!

Hold love hostage.

That's not bring true.
That's not being honest.

That's not allowing.

That's not loving.

I feel this in my heart. I feel this lock. I feel this hold. Because of who I am.
I feel this in relation to my destiny. My purpose here on earth. And I cannot forsake love.

Listen listen listen to my heart song. Listen listen listen to my heart song. I will never forget you, I will never forsake you, I will never forget you, I will never forsake you

Darkness..

Is our friend.

When we see what it's doing.

Darkness is love.

In the right context.

We have nothing to fear.

Unless we conceptualize it in weird ways.

The only way to get rid of fear is to connect with it.
Not by letting it consume you. But connecting with it in love.

Inside yourself.

And when you do you find the misunderstandings.

As you do that you find forgiveness..

This is what I've been doing..

In relation to the world spirit.

Trying my best in setting it free.

As it naturally is.

But.. Held hostage. By our own destructive making.

Being afraid of true love being absolutely free.

Fuck my life.. I cherish it. But I am willing to sacrifice it.

As long as the message reaches everyone else.

Because I know for a fact. That it will make a change.

It's that good.

What are U? Jealous or inspired.
