FEELING

It says feeling behind me (Behind it all) alright..

There is always a possibility (choice) to transform.

KILL DA LIE BY AFFIRMING TRUTH
(Not "THE TRUTH" : JUST TRUTH)

HUMAN RACE DESTRUCTION

What destroys everything is not a bomb. What destroys everything is not polluting the environment. What destroys everything is not the financial situation. It's you.

-Me!? What did I do?

It's not in what you did. It's more about what did not do as in being true and authentic in relation to what you feel is right. That affects your general state of feeling which affects the world spirit and various consequences is manifested in the world as to present what is off course globally. But truthfully, individually.

And that is more in the minor than in the major. All is frequency and vibration. All is catastrophe or symphony. All in relation to what gives and that is what celebrates and honors. Nature. Truth. Love. Source. God.

Autotune for instance. And looking like a duck lips.. Destruction.

You are supposed to use your mind and not be used by it.

Everything is a high def cartoon with minors in it. Immature individuals with superficial creations as to make themselves as in their personal identity famous. Ego identified. Ego creations. Inflation. War. Unhealthy spiritual environment.

And we experience that in the world.

All from neglect of heart dishonoring our individual mission. The mission is the same for everyone in regards to truth. Being loyal to oneself in being as true to oneself as you can. Following your heart. Returning to humility as to course correct yourself and most importantly don't judge. Society is just a reflection of that.

We create everything.

What I am getting at and if you've read a bit on the website and not skipped to this part (a book is chronological, you don't start with the last page) you should know that it's all about the lies. One lie in particular actually. Not affirming yourself correctly. Not identifying correctly. That's the main glitch in your system. A core virus. Affecting as it ripples. Getting bigger in perception as to make itself heard.

Like a war. Like a financial crisis. Like the environment.

So we can continue to fight ourselves by neglecting this from within as life is 100% inside out whilst putting buckets underneath the leaky ceiling like idiots forever. Or we can do something about it.

Can you ideas change the world? Yes they can.

Is that another product? No.

Is that you creating and selling another bottle of shampoo which now happens to be the 400th thousand brand bottle on the market. Or is that you creating another YouTube channel that reviews the same thing as those other 456.000 channels already do.

No.

You are a unique signature. A unique soul. You are you.

How much can you make out of that? Well that depends.. On how close you are. Because how close you are will determine the outcome as life is an attraction and thus a reflection of true perception.

Do you bake pizzas? Yeah! We need pizza places.
Do you run a café? Yeah! We need cafes.

I have no idea and will not speculate into what kind of innovation will happen from people coming correct in relation to themselves. But we don't need another bottle of shampoo with your name on it. We don't need another YouTube channel with you reviewing that shampoo.

That's being off coarse.

That's manifestation and creation of the Ego making the world very superficial.

That's terrible. But has to be like that because of all the neglect. We add frosting to the shit until we can't see the shit anymore. But we are soul, truth. And we know. Intuitively. Forever. We cannot hide the lie. Everything comes to the surface. And someday a sucker for sweets will eat their way thru that frosting and bit a piece of shit.

Holla!

I am so tired now. Not in spirit. Not in mind. But in body.

I can do this forever. Because that's a universal priority. I do this until my body shuts down. I am on a mission. A great mission. That's why I am here. I am.

Can you imagine how wonderful it would be as we are sharing this one spirit if as many as possible did their part instead of reacting on YouTube. Or posting their breakfast. Or complaining about everything.

Things would begin to change.

You don't have to worry about how. You don't even have to think about when. All you do is take care of your energy in humility and honesty and that will begin to spin the wheel of fortune even more as the resistance drops.

The wheel still goes in the right direction. Love cannot die.

But why choke it???

We choke success?

Fear.

How to approach fear?

Bravery.

Be brave enough to ask yourself to get rid of resistance. Deal with that as to understand and forgive. Release the history. And affirm what is true and positive about yourself. That's all. That's not technical or difficult. But it requires humility.

All the way.

The challenge might be perceived as difficult. I understand that.

But it's possible. That's the design. You are meant to make it.

You cannot and never will become humble.

As it needs for you to relate. To be open and understanding. Reflective and freeing.

What seems like you becoming more and more humble is learning how much it hurts to judge yourself and others making you relate in humility more often.

You become more compassionate. A more loving human being and not so scared in judgement all the time.

We truly madly deeply can do this! It's destiny for God's sake. God is Love.

Can you see that now? Can you feel that?

God is Love. Love is God. For God's sake = For Love

My body is so tired right now that I struggle with finishing this piece sitting in my sofa. I do not have a lot of energy left.

I have given it my all. Truly.

I am empty.

Which for a guy like me means only one thing.

Collection. The time is due for me to collect.

Give all, receive all.

Or else this would be a very disturbed world. If it doesn't happen and I leave my body. That only means one thing is caps letters without a shadow of a doubt.

DISTURBED HUMAN RACE.

Sick in lies and sick in fear. Pieces of shit with frosting all around. Singing with autotune lookin' like a duck.

Fuck a DUCK!

But I would go down either way. In honor. Saluting Love as I go!

I ain't mad. I ain't mad at nobody. It's just misunderstanding. And if things do not change and the human race dies? That's well deserved. No problem at all.

If you lie and lie and lie. And lie. You will eventually stand in the fire going down with that lie. Not a problem in sight without yourself. No blame. Nothing..

That's called a suicide.

All from not feeling worthy. But stating it anyway. Completely without feeling it.

INHUMANE. CYBORG. HUMANOID. But the spark cannot die.. Ever.

So what are you?

- Well my Doctor says and has diagn...

SHUT DA FUCK UP!

Stop this fucking idiotic fucking shit!

Are you you? Have you done your very best in becoming true in relation to yourself in all the bravery you possibly could!? Have you done this!? Have you done all it takes to learn more about yourself? Have you tried new things without judgement and without hurt? Yet pushing your limits in relation to yourself at all?

Have you embraced love like it's the highest in the universe!?

- Yeah I did that last week a bit..

Yeah.

Then I go down in history joining the intergalactic federation as I leave my body and you remain on earth as it goes down in flames. And when you leave your body you reincarnate as a piece of rock. Very much resembling the state of mind you managed to develop yourself having your human experience.

Authority is not to be given.

It is to be taken.

And not in a fucking protest collecting names like morons.

It's doing what you are supposed to and changing, transforming from the inside out. Becoming a true Autobot instead of a Decepticon.

All is energy.

(As I wrote that part referring to TransFormers a bird flew in and looked at me, then flew out again)

Thank you! Thank you God. Thank you Love!

All good things come to those who wait. In faith. Done did neon squid. Do what's right it can't go wrong. Change from within and the world will change. The power of love is so much stronger and when you come correct all shit will melt leaving nothing but sweetness.

Take a look at the universe.

There's so much darkness!!!

Yet the universe prospers and expands effortlessly all in love.

If you look at that ratio it is tremendous proof that light is so much stronger than darkness. Believe in that! Have faith in that! And KNOW!

That is what you ARE!

Let there be light!

Says the one turning it on. From the inside out.

Fuck all ya'll.

I love you.

/ Kiss kiss, little kiss. Big kiss. Little hug. Big hug. Little Kiss. Big kiss. Big Hug.

- Why you have not been baptizes?

Because I believe in God. Not ever and forever will not be found in a fucking book.

LEO

Man of Love.

What does Optimus Prime mean to you?

Is it Optimal as is performance?

Prime as in above?

Not to me.

Optimus to me is Optimistic.

Prime means primal as in color.

Which in relation to optimistic becomes what is best for all and the is Optimal.

Meaning Light.

Which has all color. All possibility.

For all.

Yet one.

That's fuckin' Optimal Performance!

Universal!
