RESSURECTED
DEADLIVIN'. 4 REAL.

VISITING OUR

TRANSMUTATION.SE

Your reincarnation is in relation to your current level of experience. Which makes for a certain level of clarity as to realize yourself. This becomes a need. Because all we need is love.

And love is what you is.
And what makes it all come true is.. Connection.

Within yourself. In self affirmation.

So you gotta be clear about 'The One I am'. This time.

That becomes more and more challenging but not impossible each time you level up. You truly. Madly. Deeply. Need.

To be yourself to win.

Each time.

And that's the game.

Or else you suffer. Depending on the level of false self affirmation. As this is going backwards in development during an ongoing forward motion of expansion happening at the speed of light which is constant. So you need to go with the flow. In positivity and great expectations.

You can win. At medium level. This time.
But can only happen in judgement.
In comparison looking at others as to raise yourself.

But that is not true.

So not a connection. And actually deceptive. That's why someone successful suffers. Because it's not honest success.

Inside out. Not outside in. Spiritual VS Material.
Which are truly a great thing. In that order. The right way. Reality first. Illusion later. But at the speed of light. So no-one can tell.

Which makes for an experience. You believe is real. But you is ghostwriter/rider. Pretty god damn awesome. You ain't real.

But in the present moment become as real as you possibly can.

As rich as you can!

In spiritual connection.

Projecting that as to make yourself experience a reflection of what you know you truly prefer.

Thus giving you the life you've always dreamed of.

Living the dream.

Being as true as possible. Dream.
Lying a bit. Nuancing in contrast to clarity. Little excitement.
Or terror..

Same thing.

So fear is necessary.. But not evil.

Yet it becomes necessary evil.

When far away from love.

You get what you give. Total control. Yet without control. As to let yourself be driven. By love. Which you is. So just trust in self.
'Cause that's the authentic you. Giving you all you've dreamed of.
If you stay on the team. Of light. Good. Love.

Inner being = Being authentic, Just being.
Relaxed in a trustworthy environment which knowz my feelin'.
Knows what's up from a deep close relationship. And always want's to get better at listening because other-unwise we suffer.

Divine. God. Soul. Leading the way. Secure and safe. Loving fun.
Naturally worthy. But needs to feel deserving. As to connect fully.

Listen..

We can't be together if we don't deserve each other.

You feel you? Then you feel me.

Not the other way around.

Inside out. Come correct.

- But I can't measure up to you!

Don't be with me in comparison. That's judgement. I need love. What are you truly trying to satisfy there? When the Ego is the only part about you possible as to be offended. Like all comparison is.

- But I love you!

You don't know love baby.
True connection is no lie.

- What do you mean!?

I can tell you the answer. But I can't give you understanding.

Know Love.

See ya! As a friend. We can be close friends. But that's it. Intimate at all is really not a good idea. And this is where people start out, without saying much at all. Then wonder why it ain't workin' out.

And then maturely and responsibly medicate the kids.

Immature is not condescending.
But it's a clear indication of not ready.

As to connect fully. With what is supposed to be taken the most serious of all.

When not, becomes deadly. In nuance.
Depending on what need is being satisfied yet in actuality not love. Like sex.

Love is Love.
True connection.

Makes for the best possible outcome which has no competition as in a personal aspect of that which puts one or the other above or below. The pedestal is designed for both.

As one.

On board. On path. Knowing what's what.
No further questions our honor.

Holding love the highest in humility.
And we come together.

Naturally happens without choice.
No judgement.

True love.

We are supposed to be secure in our own love with an ambition to meet someone.
With adventurous excitement. No stress.

We want what is best for us.
Or else we have to make it work.
(Or pretend in superficiality)

And waste all energy which can be used to create more of what we is. Which is love.

How do we know? We know.
Heartfelt. All in love.

No sentence or verdict.

We just know.

In fact.. Can't help it

In other cases we meet as to give each other to one another in grief. We feel sorrow in relation to betrayal. Not connection with love on our own. Finding comfort in each other. But we need to comfort ourselves which can only happen when we affirm the sorrow and grief without judgement inside ourselves. From there we feel as to let go.

And become attractive to a joyful truly loving relationship also known as ready again.

Love is joy. All joy. Love can cry.

But in gratitude. Not from soothing satisfaction of exclusively superficial connection with somebody.

That's just some body.

We live. We learn.

But honestly should not have kids until we are ready. Free from negative charge. Or else we allow for darkness to be a part of the family photo. Including the newly arrived, unaware closer to love yet trusting what is shown, told & communicated being love making them struggle with themselves.

There will never be a pill for that. Ever.

And should not either.

'Cause love is all natural. And works perfectly. When we get with it.

Inside out. No workout.

It just works.

We can't help to take care and cherish something as wonderful as that. Because we know how painful it is completely without it. If you don't know? You gotta learn.

From personal attentive & present experience. Life is a gift.

And keeps giving what you need.

Never to get further away. But as to come closer to love. That's so sweet. So beautiful.

So tender. So wonderful. So peaceful.

But also raises hell.

When you fuck with it.

Jealousy is competition. Which is a product of an individual identified with what they do. Identified with the rational judge-mental thinking mind. And thus cuts love off instead of connecting with it. Becoming successful in actually self defeat. Standing strong alone.

Which is never what we truly want hence the true self connection necessary in making it happen. Making what happen?

What we truly desire.

Which is Love 🌸

So be true. To self.

Alone. A.K.A - Insight

Have fun in love!

Becomes a drag and such strife.

When fighting in opposition to what gives.

Not identifying. With what you is.

When love is taken for granted is because we at the core do not feel worthy of it. Why we behave like this is because we hold back from feeling as much as possible as this hurts us from previous neglect of love.

And we make love material instead as this makes us feel loved and appreciated superficially and momentarily numbs that neglect.

Like sex.

Or any other form of escaping the responsibility in responding to the call of the heart. Which cannot be heard clearly when we choose not to listen to it.

Free will. Freedom of choice.

To be what we is. Or not.

Suffering the consequences of losing what we desire the most. Honestly.

So be true.

Well.. If you wish to receive what is meant for you as in the best most wonderful experience possible. Some say no to that. In disbelief of it.

So one (every the one) has to believe in love. The only need. All we need is love.

Ya dig?

Maybe it's not what you want? Have you considered that? You might want it materially. But not spiritually? How can you tell? If you're not spiritual. Which means emotional. You can think about that until the end of this lifetime.

Or feel for it.

As much as possible. (Without self judgement which all judgement is)

You get what you give.

Are you really interested?

In love.

You don't have to, or need to, give a correct answer.

Only a true response.

Can you give that?

- Well. This is something I need to think about.

Listen, All you need is love.

Why are you asking the computer? The computer doesn't know love.

There should not anything to think about.

If you are connected.

To LOVE.

Love shows. It's not in the background.
It's supposed to be in yo face! In joy.

So maybe you need to heal? 'Cause you don't seem ready.

When we meet and agree on a relationship romantically from a foundation of sorrow we become bandages for each other. That's not free. Love is free.

When all is released and healed we might just be friends. And that's alright.
We can only know this from a deep honest relationship with ourselves.

Or else we'll have to work it out. What wasn't supposed to be initially broken.

So we might fight?

Honestly fighting with ourselves.

Come correct in the self perception = Behaving responsible and mature

Not like a spoiled kid. Whom seeks satisfaction in a new thing.

To feel good from the outside in.

The definition of needing somebody as to feel good.

A.K.A - A black hole

Consuming light. But honestly cannot give.
As they cannot give themselves.

Which they can..

When they do what is right for themselves.

Starting with believing in love. Behaving humble and grateful.

Becoming receptive to what is true.

A reflection of their own projection.

Humility for someone identified with the rational thinking mind (the ego) makes humble into submissive. All in relation to something outside in.

What they seek is to be humble to self. God. Love. Source.

Which is from the inside out.

In a true connection.

Goes for both.

Or else someone redeems themselves superior over the other. But in a different perspective. And that's competition as well. Holding their personality higher than their love. Which they is. And that's also a false sense of self.

Dark perception.

A true love connection happens from within both.

Not one.

Yet makes.

For one.

Together.

Those two are very loving, caring, compassionate, humble and grateful parents.

Which is the origin of something not had when growing up that makes for this need for correction in relation to what is all giving.

And that ladies and gentlemen..

Is why we need love more than anything.

In affirming and acknowledging.

Having a relationship with.

Within ourselves.

In humility and gratitude. With no fear. All in praise.

As to make a world of love.

Truly. Madly. Deeply.

'I won't fly off to the moon and back if you'd be my baby'.. That's a savage garden. The garden of Eden is all love. So there is nothing to prove in performance or achievement. It's just about being. As true as possible. In relation to self. Just:

Being love

LEFT / RIGHT

Masculine / Feminine
Alpha / Omega
Ah / Oh
Me / You
Thought / Emotion
Creation / Happening
Enabled / Allowed

One individual.
Together both.

Being each other in different circumstances.
But can only happen in self affirmation.

Makes for:

US

No competition.
Support.

What is creation segregation is personal win.

When all is intended to be a mutual:

Loving appreciation

You cannot give what you do not have.
Which is your choice. In what you affirm and acknowledge within yourself.

So love and appreciate yourself.
Being true to who you is.
