

YES YES YES
LET'S MAKE LOVE

Feeling is not really a secret!

GREAT AGAIN!

AFTER ALL IT IS A PROMISE

TRANSMUTATION.SE

!SUCCESS!

Is all about a definition which for everyone's sake should not be condescended.

I am writing this piece inspired by an Instagram post that read something like: 'The world does not need any more successful people. The world needs compassion, kindness and love'.

Which for me is all about success.

I have always had the ambition to become successful in relation to shared awareness and from potentially financial manifestations use those as to further inform and aid people in need. Especially the innocent which are the children dragged along as people condescend successful people in refusal to change themselves.

The world can be skyscrapers and Lamborghinis.
But it can also be a hut without pizza enjoying fresh water from a creek as to clean your crack.

It's all there for all. What you enjoy and find pleasure in is your choice. It's a multi cultural world with freedom of expression. Or so it's design to be at least. So to condescend somebody making a lot of money for instance is nothing else but an error in universal comprehension.

It's so easy to condescend.

It's a bit harder to pursue your challenge as to make an impact of great inspiration in the world. A lot more than an Instagram post. More than posting videos of quotes from inspirational people that have passed over and more challenging then blaming everything on politicians.

The politician is available as a manifested counter weight to the condescending choice of attitude maintained by the general public. Without this negative false behavior the politician is not such a control figure they need to be in relation to a financial system constantly breaking due to inflation which is a manifestation of a collectively affirm Ego. Yeah..

Everything stems from somewhere.

They say the rich get richer and the poor gets poorer.

And that's true in relation to what can be realized regarding the fact that we get what we give. And I like to write that as 'We get what we give'. Because it's an effect of generated investment which presents itself from a non-conceptual & unconditional all given source that simply does not give a shit.

God is good.

That's also another saying.

And that's a true statement.

What is good is up to us.

So what would you like to come to fruition? More tough times? Or happy days where we live with compassion, kindness & love. We all want that but conspire to conceive a miscarriage in relation to a healthy fruit. It's like we ask for a disabled baby.

All from our general state of feeling which makes society to become what it becomes.

We are the creators.

And as we find success in letting joy come to us we live in a joyful world. Joy is effortless and simply is. As the foundation to enjoy a lovely life and live with adventure. But people believe that to be something we need to work like maniacs for and find that in a trip to Thailand or consume Ayahuasca in the Amazon's.

What is always holding anything back is not what we seek in relation to what is preventing it. And that's the main issue in lack of comprehension given all universal creation.

What is speak of is resistance.

Primarily to change. Which isn't about society as we are the creators.

So what is needed is for people to change their attitude from becoming aware and thus transforming as to change for the better in relation to maintaining a different general feeling that will present a different society from the all giving source of non-judgemental energy.

Call that God. Call it Source. Call it The Universe.

It doesn't matter.

Great success is therefor in the loss.

Of resistance.

When you affirm all of what is naturally true and equal for all officially to yourself it stirs the pot of contradiction. It agitates the bottom slug. And comes up to the surface for us to understand, forgive and release.

We can remember it.

But not with great emotional investment such as vengeance, victimization and hurt.

But understand the mistakes done from all in trying to conquer over ourselves in misconception that we are actually one. Together.

I have the ambition to live large. I do.

As in spreading the message and helping out in raising awareness.

Money that comes with this in overflow is what I wish can be used as to further make more of that. I have no ambition to ever own a Lamborghini. And I don't need a house with 40 rooms and 5 bathrooms either. But I would love to own something like that as to make into a facility that can further aid in my true ambition.

Life is not difficult.
We make it that.

From standing there like fools not understanding the basics of universal creation. And some make that into stars and galaxy's wondering what all of that has to do with everything. But you see it's more in relation to the word itself.

Universal.
Works for everything.

And that's God.
All giving source.

Which cannot ever die.
And is just waiting for you to respond as to communicate correctly and thus give you more of what you truly wish for. That's successful. Presenting opportunities instead of obstacles. Life will always be challenging. But it can be that in relation to a fun adventure which demands so effort in joy. Not in devastation and anguish.

Which is all about the general state of feeling maintained by a negative or positive attitude that stems from effortless creation or in relation to a more muddy experience with a lot of resistance. The resistance itself is not a thing.

It's judgments and condemnations.
Inside of us all in relation to other people.

Which has become subconscious impression and thus habits as to make life functional yet dysfunctional in relation to joy. So we struggle. And that has never been the intent.

For real.

But as we never stop to feel. As we never take the time to once and for all go thru what we all carry in relation to negatively perceived emotions we are stuck in time.

But you see time does not exist.

So the entire struggle and dysfunctional society is all about being off time.

The time is now.

But cannot be enjoyed with resistance as we drag history along. All from the hold of judgement in relation to hurt. Betrayal. Pain of anger and sorrow. Which needs to be felt without condemnation as to be expressed purely as it is. And after that!

It's gone.

Which for the rational mind is not believable as we've done this so many times before but feel the same. Which is a lie. Because the condemnation is still there. In other words. We have not forgiven as to release it. The emotion was felt but not freely.

And therefor stays as to teach us about humility which makes for understanding and thus comes to forgiveness. That is the ultimate success we all seek. To loose what we do not desire and are in need of anymore coming to self realization of our own receptive true nature. Which is feeling deserving and worthy of getting more out of life without a strife.

We hold the key.
And I really mean that literally.
We HOLD the key.

But we don't use it.
Why? Not believing it works.

But you see you cannot get clear evidence of anything without actually doing it. So the clips of quotes and the inspiring podcasts are useless if not put to practice.

We actually need to participate in our own creation. Which becomes our life experience.

Some find refuge in Mushrooms and LSD or Weed.
And they are all medicines but eventually you will just keep getting the same message over and over. But what are you actually doing about it? Are you affirming and honoring that message or just living miserable in relation to a dysfunctional society waiting for the next trip or whatever?

What part are you playing? Truthfully?

Can you take a non-judgemental step back and look at what kind of character you allow for yourself to be? Can you see yourself as someone else? Like, I wish I could be that type of person?

You can!

All it takes is a little nudge of crazy and a brave heart.

The rest is given as you communicate to self which is the true you and you will be given what you need right where you are. Where you are is in relation to your comprehension and in regards to influence in the world.

Everything is self supporting all in love.
Which is positive.

What does not seem like positive is in relation to what you need to understand right where you are. So be mad but don't act out. Stop for a bit and ask yourself what it means? And from there transform that under pressure as to make all the coal into diamond. Step by step. Oh baby! Gonna get to you giiiiirll.

That's my greatest success.

To be with someone lovely as to get inspired and share life in joy, sorrow, challenges and adventure. And I believe this is what we all desire. A connection to love as close as possible with physical benefits. A romantic world for just the two of us. All of a sudden we live in this bubble of wonder that makes for more wonderful things to happen. If everybody aspires to aim for this then that's a lot of love bubbles!

And a world of love is in effect.

Even for the politician.

Whom now might be able to treat society better not facing a bunch of leaks in the structure given the irresponsible and unhealthy conductivity from a bunch of dissatisfied people blaming everything and everyone else afraid to look in the mirror of love which cannot lie.

What are you waiting for? For real?

That times will get better.
That butter prices will some day drop?

Or maybe we can even the score by non-violent action of universal attraction?

Yes! Is the only word God knows. But has no vocabulary.

It's like a baby sun giving everyone love all the time.

But we mistreat it by not affirming ourselves as that precious energy ourselves.

The main issue about that is competition.

We have been given the impression that we condescend others when we celebrate ourselves. But I can sure as the sun feel successful and wish for you the very same.

Light does not have to mean shade.

We can have a bright future for everyone without shaming or guilt tripping over others.

That's unnecessary.

If you feel like you don't belong and the world is a place seemingly not for you is all a manifestation of your inner environment becoming perceived like so for you to understand yourself. And by that I mean your ways of consumption.

And that is not about any purchase.

It's about getting inspired as in living with appreciation for everything. Like the hurt and the misconceptions. Actually giving them thanks as well as teachers making you more aware of your own false play. Previously not aware of so no need to judge yourself but as to shed light on the dark matter making it understandable.

All evil is necessary evil.

It all just depends on how far away from truth and love you are.
How else will you know? How else will you be able to inform yourself?

So the system of a human body with the soul being you as pure awareness of unconditional and non-conceptual loving energy together with a computing mind works perfectly in relation to a unique experience which can only be best understood by yourself. As you actually live it.

Life does not exist without you. So you and life are one. Love cannot be separated but misunderstood and so in reality you and love are one as well. Come closer in connection which is effortless from dropped resistance and you will feel more real than ever. And this makes you intuitive as a sensitive being instead of robotic like a rational and logical machine as you've separated yourself from the false identity of the personality and begun to merge with the authentic soul expression that you is.

All of the resistance is design as fuel in becoming. As to grow spiritually. What you become you always is. But might not feel that being a bit disconnected in judgmental thinking rather than celebratory affirmation.

What I communicate her is universal.
It a "One Size Fits All".

So it doesn't matter if you share a piece of cardboard with a rat under a bridge or live in the White House. It doesn't matter if you sell Hot Dogs on the streets of New York or own a company that designs and sells electric cars. It doesn't matter if you are a hairdresser in Pakistan or a Swedish dude writing on his laptop trying to change the world.

In this sense we are all the same.

I am soul.

I have a body.

In the body is a brain.

In the brain is a personality.

The personality is never the same ever.

But it can transform ever so much more.

With commitment and dedication.

Aspiring to become free of itself.

Which makes us scared.

Where are we gonna go?

As this indicates we should loose our minds???

But free of itself means free.

Free your mind.

The mind is supposed to work for you and not you for it.

When you slave for the mind you work yourself to death at a job you do not enjoy.

That's self sabotage. But you can't just wait that. But as transformation takes place and this is the wonderful part. The workplace changes and if everybody does this it becomes lovely despite what it's about. And maybe it even dissolves and transforms itself becoming something better as all make themselves feel better in relation to themselves.

If so? What's the problem?

If we enjoy what we do and feel like we are contributing. And in doing so we feel effortless joy from the inside out as we've taken care of all the resistance. We live happy and we live good. We appreciate what we have and do not strive to make life into happy all in relation to owning a Lamborghini.

Can you see the grand perspective in this communication?

Can you put this in context of all expression and universal creation?

If so then you are inspired my friend and not judgemental.

Stress will not solve anything.

We need to let things take the time it needs.
Or else we won't learn.

If we don't learn we don't understand.

If we don't understand we won't be able to forgive.

And history comes back to haunt us as a necessary reminder telling us all about the resistance still hanging around. Which is good. Because then we get the opportunity to do something about it.

What is no longer serving us is no longer serving us.
If it's still serving us it's still serving us.
You can't get mad at that.

Be real.
Be on time.
The time is now.
To make change for the better.

Coming to the surface of good enough.

Appreciating life and all it has to offer.
And from there things can only get better.
It's like learning anything really..

With humility and practice you can become the best version of yourself which is the most loving and understanding version of yourself. That forgives and releases as to allow for receiving of what we all truly wish to receive.

/ Leo - Good guy. Friend. Lover. Dreamer. Visionary. Divine being.

Just like you.

The happening!

Spring came!

And this was the most lovely spring to ever be experienced.

God works in perfection. And when God makes a promise you better believe it. In fact believe it so much that you stay in absolute faith regarding all of your dreams. So I did and in the spring of 2025 I became world famous together with everything I'd created. The website, transmutation.se became a hub for people all across the world to be experienced as universal guidance in terms of manifestation. All of the music was celebrated and loved for its supporting function in feeding the subconscious mind as to alter convictions inside human beings flipping perception after perception. The videos on YouTube became something of a legacy of love as they present the law of attraction all together. And for me? As an individual responsible for all of this? Well I got to talk to the president of the United States as he invited me for a little whiskey and we sang some Karaoke together. And I met the love of my life. Not him. But the most wonderful woman in the world. And we can't get enough of each other. Money comes our way as we are supported and most of it we use to make the world a better place. All the previous relationships came to peace and we all became friends again. I began to see my children again and they got to experience the world together with us. All of the non-supportive people in Sweden lacking any form of spiritual connection felt tremendous amounts of justified shame and guilt for a while until they came to realization themselves. And began to do what's right. Anyone who's ever judge me to be crazy starting witnessing the absurdity of their own conductivity and started saying things like 'Omg! It was us that wuz crazy!'. And I simply just replied: 'I tried to tell ya'll. But you wuz so high and mighty not being humble yet in comprehension of everything somehow so you would'd listen'. It's all good I ain't mad atcha. Ya'll know this inside yourself but invested all of your power into doubt as you did not live honest in relation to your true nature that's all. The dream come true is the vision of greatness which needs a supporting creation and a strong belief in it as to become. So God gives you the preview and then you come closer to what is already done. Dreams do come true. And this is how it works. DreamWorks. It's all a holographic projection with endless amounts of pixels. Pixar Nation. And with positivity you get there! Keeping your focus and attention on what you wish without destroying the dream in doubt. THIS! This is what I desire! DIS! Say not ney. No dissing. So Dis ney. Disney. It's all there. The guidance. You just gotta see the astral communication about it all. Some little word games here and there. I was out for a walk yesterday and made my way to the birdwatching tower again. It was a lovely day in the spring sun and I sat there for a little while. In the sky I saw something I've never seen before. 7 airplanes at once. And two of them crossed path and designed a huge plus sign in the sky. Three birdwatchers came by with their dog and the dog put its paw in my hand and look at me straight in the eyes and I felt like it asked me to marry it. Then I got to borrow some binoculars as an eagle was soaring behind me further off in the distance. If that ain't a sign then I don't know shit. I've never seen an eagle before. It's all happening. Why? Because I have designed and created what all governments and artists combined should have been focusing on instead of making money and putting out emotional fires with motions of political ideas. I have dedicated everything I've got. I have given it my all. Which is not all for me. It's all for love. And that is all for you. There will never come a quick fix like a pill or a whatever. What you need is comprehension of universal attraction. Awareness. With more awareness it's harder to make wrong. Because it hurts ever so much more. And that's not something to feel sorry for. It's something to be grateful for. And with gratitude you receive more to enjoy in pleasure living a wonderful life. All from the inside out. Like me now. The future me. Whom had talked and sung Karaoke with Donald Trump. How about that? And also met the love of his life. HOW ABOUT THAT! And then also made everybody friends! HOW ABOUT THAT! YEAH! All from not focusing on myself but using myself as to get the word out. The word of God. Which is all free. And all love. Can you feel my journey? All my life. Ever since I was little! But very intense and full of pain the last 8 years. That's why God gives me all. Because I did what is right for all. I am all inclusive. The dreamteam. That's us. We dream everything into existence. That's right. Even you living under a bridge sharing space with your friend the rat has dreamt your way to where you are. Imagery Vision Perceptron. A human dream being. So what do you dream about? And how big? It's all perception. Whatever you dream for is the same to God. God does not value any dream over another. It's the mind that needs convincing. So the game begins. With self affirmation and acknowledgement. And some might say: 'That's crazy! Stating that you're famous in the whole world'. But it worked now didn't it. And all for a good cause which was my intention all along. And that's actually what prevented me from going crazy. Because I'm not all Ego. Like some other people that ain't got nothing to say but simply wants fame for being this person. That's a lazy shitty act to be honest. As it doesn't contribute to anything.

What these individuals seek is self. They are lost as they are not humbly listening in love to their true self. And so they end up in a desert somewhere getting cooked and making videos of baguettes with baby heads on 'em. Very unstable core. Not true to themselves. Dangerous actually. Ticking time bombs. What they need is a dismantling. A brake down. And that is not about coming to punishment. It's about coming home. Home is where the heart is. That's the strength that gets you thru. That's where both humility and gratitude lives. Which is spiritual. Connection to soul and true essence of being. We are spiritual beings. So it's a really good idea to live as such. And then have a personality which is the Ego. We wish to live free but are afraid of it. We do not wish to be separated but that's what we need. Free spirit is always available. The separation makes for you standing alone looking at yourself from a true perspective. And that's not lost.

I am Christ. Pure loving consciousness. A soul being created in the image of God. Which is non-conceptual & unconditional aware energy of positivity. Love.

That's you as well!

But in a unique experience and expression. Which makes for culture. It's like we're different keys on the piano. Or different strings on the violin. We can play each other in various contexts. Given the mood and scenery. The general vibe makes the F seem like a D. That's all about the major tuning. Nobody knows what an F is honestly. That's just made up as to categorize music by structure enabling theoretical composition. What a true F is will always be the feeling of it. The tone is not a thought. It's a feeling. The heart knows F. Without words. It can make that out easily. Which is all about truth. The vibe is what it is and that's intuitive. Living emotionally as to appreciate and not to judge. One huge bonus for me was also when I got noticed by Hans Zimmer! Wow and he contacted me and asked if we could make music together. And I said: 'Wow thanks Hans! I would love to I just need to check my schedule so I don't make any promises I can't keep'. It's all fun and games with some serious tones every once in a while. The dream comes alive when you allow it to be feather light. Which needs a sense of humor otherwise it turns serious and a feather can't take that. In neglect it's gone with the wind. Do you read this with your heart? Are you lovingly connected? Or is this like a dishwasher manual for you? Can you read poetry? That's reading things written musically. Which is emotional. And will not happen all theoretical leaving your heart out of it. Some people study writings like that for thousands of years. Generation after generation trying to find the meaning..?

Have you ever stopped to think?

And just felt.

Listen to your heart. As it's calling for you.

Listen to your heart. There's nothing you can do.

I don't know where you're going? And I don't know why?

But listen to your heart.. And..

Leave your mind out of it. Don't tell it goodbye but..

Live spiritually. Emotionally. Humane. Soulful.

Wow. When I write those words right there. It's like I write pride.

I feel proud for writing those words.

And that pride is felt! In my chest.

I honor those words.

And the strong meaning about them. Not behind them. Right as they are.

All right.

- 'We're so sorry Leo! We did not know all of this about you? How could we?'

If you'd take a little bit of time to just listen. And in contrast by doing so not judge me. The judgemental person is a done individual. They are no longer inspired. As they've stopped to develop being so finished. I have gotten some very good insights for a man in his (I guess 70s) whom walks around picking up cigarette butts and sits on a bench drinking beer every now and then. Because I don't judge him. I talk and I listen. It's the precursor of knowing what he's all about that blocks all inspiration. So in the eyes of authority I am him. In the eyes of God we are equal. From my point of view I see good little girls and boys playing grown ups in a setting of rationality far away from any humane conduct. The genius is always crazy for these people as they've made a cage of fear from love for themselves.

But to rigid and formal to admit it so they shade all others whom actually try to live free. If this continuous we shall have a world of function. No art. No music. No wonderful variety of food. All superficial technology that simulates a world of emotional warmth. No depth of any character. "That's dangerous."

But you see we cannot withhold love..

The rose makes it thru the concrete. Love cannot be stopped.

So here I am.

The Rose.

Now officially made it.

Thru the thickness of judgement.

'Where have you been all this time? We've been in need of you!'

I was born in judgement land. The most religious country in the world but in denial. Which makes for an ideology held tight and hard in lack of humility.

But this was all necessary.

To act as layer upon layer. Of concrete for the Rose.

Spring is here! I am free of sorrow! I am not guilt written anymore! I am free! And my heart agrees to that statement! I am world famous! And my heart has no interventions!

And love is all I need. I only answer to God.

God first. Love first. Truth first.

And it's all good. God is all good.

I look forward! That's the only way. History does not exists anymore. Drop it. Move on. Receive the new. Live and let live.

'Guns & Roses - You could be mine'.

/ Leo

Check this out:

I am sitting the the audience talking about posting an ad for selling a used item. And I do not have any internet connection so I post this using the free wifi at the library. In this ad I write (and this is real) 'Please contact my by text or call at:' and then I wrote my phone number like this ZeroSevenThreeEight and so forth as the ad will be declined if I wrote that in numbers. Nobody contacted me by text or call. They all contacted my thru the chat function in the app.

Now listen.

Somebody in the audience now says: 'How could you possibly know that? You didn't have any internet connected?'

And my answer is: Use your imagination.

And still this person says: 'I don't understand what you mean by that? And I suspect that you lie about having internet on your phone.'

This is the artist blocked in judgement. Not me! Everyone's an artist. This is a person which does not use their imagination as to be able to fantasies me going back to the library as to check the app for replies. And thus they do not understand the answer of: Use your imagination.

It's the same person whom looks at what I've been thru over the last years and says they understand. And I say: 'How is that?'. You can think about a scenario surrounding the circumstances but you do not understand. This might be a lady?

Whom has children. And she might say that during childbirth she suffered physical pain of flesh being busted and it took 8 hours all and all. I will not say to her that I understand. I will not even say that I think I can imagine. How is that possible. I can see an image in front of me? I can fantasies about how it could have looked? But I feel no pain. And no stress. And no worry for the child. I do not understand that. And I never will.

But the artist. Is the compassionate emotional humane being. And they can always say 'I feel you'. As they do not do their best in anything in relation to connection between them and other. They imply go to heart and in doing so they feel together.

Which makes for matters not to matter as much. Like Wifi or not..

*It's impossible to personally be Christ.
As Christ is spirit.*

All clear.

Of negative charge.

*So you cannot become it.
But is it in just being.*

It's a wonderful day in the neighborhood.

*Strong in spirit!
What is that?
It's not weak..
In judgement.*

*I would never wish for a personal day of celebration other than my birthday:
The Ego must not conquer over heart. Swim the sea like fish. Fly in the air like birds.*

But still cannot understand harmony.. For that you are sorry:

That was honor overload.

Thank you.

I was not receptive to that. Even yesterday.

*As you stay quiet relaxing in baby pose..
Affirming the truth.*

The desire as already done.

It comes.

Now many questions are often asked as time fly with unlimited cash, so help this trooper get some ass.

Holla if ya hear me!

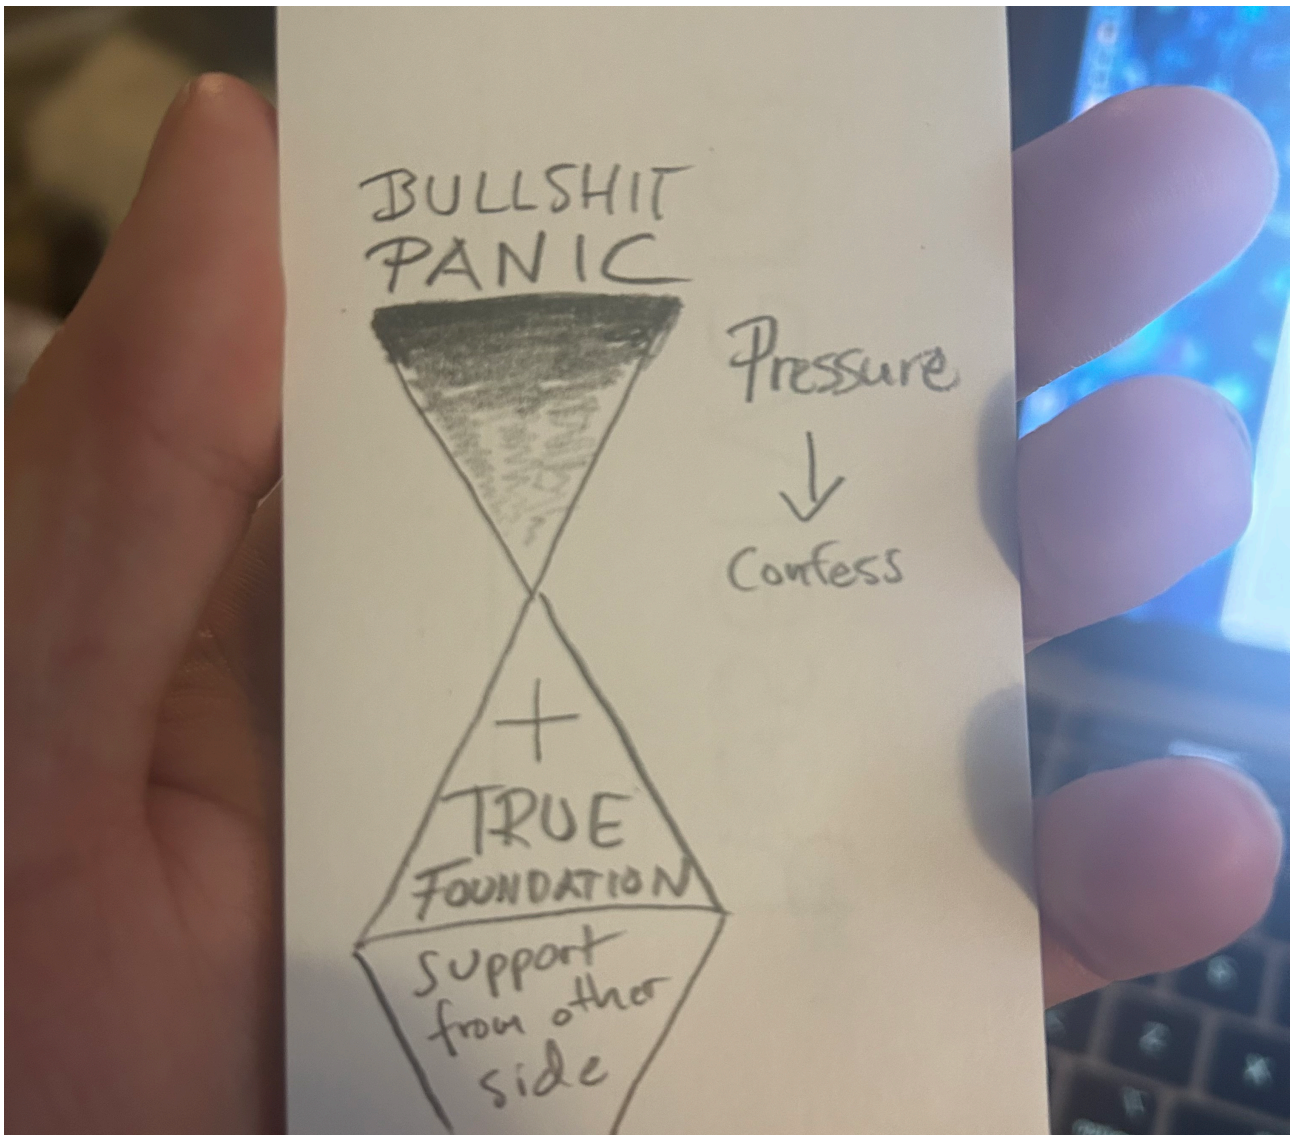

And so I say goodbye for now.
In writing. On this website.

The rest of my days will now be sitting on that bench..
Feeding them pigeons.

Pissin'.. and shittin' my pants.

The panic attack is all about 'Express Express Expression!'.
Coming closer and closer to honor.

With a sense of humor as you let go.
And receive in humility and grace.

The amount of panic anxiety is in relation to the bullshit acknowledged. The lies affirmed in negative energy going against self which cannot ever loose. As truth is affirmed the bullshit lies dissolve and loose reality. Pressure then drops and we rest in a true foundation. And naturally receive the proper support in relation to our emotional position and comprehension as the image clearly shows. The darkness at it's darkest up top with the most amount of pressure has been my experience inrelation to my destiny and self realization. With a focus point in the middle of my heart. How could I have received support from the other side as inspiration of most clarity if not participating myself in depressurizing the situation not only thinking of myself.

It would not have happened.

I would have died.

To be yourself is all that you can dooooo! (Wicked funky guitar solo)
