

LIES. CANNOT. ACTION

In relation to:

A FUTURE PRESENTATION:

OF AH!

Truly Wonderful & Magical

IN ALL HONESTY & HUMILITY

REAL GOOD TIME

TRANSMUTATION.SE PICTURED DREAMLIFE IN ADVANCE

The director has the vision. And leads everyone to success.
This can be you! In your own real life presentation.
Be true!

Judgements day off.

It's impossible to let go of what is not yours like resistance ain't owning it, which makes awareness the greatest ever. When you aren't affirming as to know the difference between what you is and what you have.

Completely identified spiritually makes for no problem to solve regarding this which does not exist then..

I think we all fight against love knowing it the best. Which makes one suffering more than the other.. That's immature. And prevents for all to connect fully.

There is no comparison between suffering. Because we all suffer the same consequences together. Stop fight opposition which creates it. Without it there is none! Ya dig?..

God will set things straight wether you like it or not. That's just the way it is. Period. Or else we will not give ourselves the win. Which is ours! Do you understand that? Emotionally. Which is necessary as to connect with what is all giving.

I believe what's gonna happen is that you will feel guilty in relation me doing what's right for all. And from that get rid of all the guilt at once. God ain't stupid.

Love is a silent killer.

It will stand up for itself yet without violence. Completely.

It will simply reveal itself.

Just as is..

And from there you choose to die a horrible death with lots of pain.
Or you surrender.

Love has been trying to say this for a long time. But many have neglected it completely. Which makes for competition. Battles of the Ego's.

Love just wants to connect. Without fear. And to be honest what we fear is to surrender. To be completely in trust. Together with love which is trust identified.

We fear to give as the more we give the more we hurt when abused. And that's the consequence of trauma. Whatever that may have been. But it has to come to an end. Love won't connect fully in sorrow. And that's the last thing of it all.

To grieve yourself in false perception.
To let what was never you die.

Let go of the old model and configuration that was a construct of defense. Which you thought was from other people but really in relation to your true and authentic self. That's the connection you are looking for which is nowhere to be found.

Just felt.

No thought.
No idea.
No evaluation.
No judgement.

Just being free to be as is..

If you desire to become which you do, we all do..
Then you gotta loose to win.

You both loose and win in relation to yourself.

Which is damn hard to do when you are identified with your thinking mind.
Your personality. So this is what you need to let go of. And just be love..

Like you is..

In true self image

That's the fresh new start you're looking for. Because this connection will all of a sudden give you all. Just like that. And connection is not 99.9%. That's a little gap there.. Love has no gaps. Love is connected to love. Fully. It doesn't even know what connection means as it does not know anything about a disconnection.

Love knows itself. The best.
Forever. In perfection.

That's something to trust!

What love shows you and guides you with is all good. It's all great.
What fear shows you is also fantastic. Because it makes for love once you understand it. Until you do you bring on the suffering. What makes a victim is sorrow. Feeling sad in relation to self. Which is all joy. So something is not right?
What is that? Ask and thou shall receive.

The truth and core of all sorrow comes down to just you with yourself.

And this is the hurts you've brought on in your own experience treating yourself less than worthy of it all. Life.

You cannot have life without yourself.

So you feel disappointed. And let down..

By yourself.

So you must ask yourself for forgiveness.

Which does not, and should not, just come how ever easy you might wish for it to come. You gotta prove it to yourself. With taking care of yourself. You do that by affirming what's good about you. And stop affirming any lies.

You become true.
And in doing so you become a very loving human being.
Naturally.

It's all you.

We don't wanna live under control.

That's the opposite of freedom.

So set yourself free then.

Come clean.

Clear self perception.

And for God's sake : Drop what was.

We all do mistakes. Understand that.
About others and yourself.

And forgive what happened in frustration, stress, confusion, immaturity, immorality and neglect of love.

A redeem yourself as risen from the ashes!

Be proud of your love!
You are supposed to be!

But is difficult with an honest face feeling grateful and humble if ya ain't..

Nah mean..

Nobody is holding you guilty other than you.

What other people hold in relation to you is what they hold themselves guilty for. But fail to see that. Emotionally. As they are vindictive which is another word for irresponsible.

So take your responsibility. Take responsibility for your part.

Something between people always involves all.

We put ourselves in situations to learn.

We create conditions for ourselves based on feeling worthy for life as to teach us whether we truly feel that or not. And we might say that we deserve but talk is cheap.

Feelings attract.

Whatever it's attracting.

But all based on a true sense of worth or not all in relation to life which cannot exist without you. So you really gotta love yourself. You gotta be in love in yourself.

That's super strong!

That's secure.

That's safe.

That's all what God needs.

To give you what you desire.

Or else you will get the wrong idea. And confuse you even more.

Just like a kid. Behaving ungrateful and perhaps throwing something at they parents. You don't tell the child you're sorry for not doing better and take 'em to McDonalds?

God ain't like that.

God is perfect.

And juste.

Fair.

Always.

So don't try to play God for a fool. It will strike upon thee with great vengeance and furious anger. If you attempt to poison and destroy, using the name of love.

Love will not have it.

Love is God.
God is Love.

Life.

Maker.
Creator.

Enabler.

Wanna disable?

Then you complain.
And you hold on to fear.

And you will be crippled.

Eventually.

From a disease.
Or from baseball bats dealing with the wrong people.

All you.

So maybe that's kool for you?

It ain't.

That's not kool at all.

God is way kool.

God is all kool.

Yet warm just like the sun.

At once. Both.

That's pretty damn amazing.

What makes you submissive and eventually fold is humility paying a little visit.
Hello? Anyone in need of a lesson here? I ain't dangerous. I just show you what you need. Love is super dangerous, when you go against it. Because that will cause war. And we don't want that now do we? Do we?

We wish to have peace. Right?

Everyone loves movies.

What about making your own?
With you starring in it as yourself!

Wouldn't that be great?

Sure it would!

I believe we are under the impression that love without sorrow cannot be true. And thus find it hard to have faith in what is all good. Like feeling all good. No worries. When love has hurt us so many times before yet in reality wasn't love.

That's the truth.

It was a version of it.

But not as much as possible without competition.

Battle of the victims trying to make it work. Focusing on the wrong angle as to make a focus feature film about the most authentic presentation ever all from the inside out.

The feel good adventurous movie you love to watch, and feel like you would wanna be in, can become a reality when you focus in present time feeling good and adventurous about yourself. And thus your life.

What you dream is what happens.
When you co-create as to support it.
And believe for it happening.

You are the director. The producer.
The actor. And the critic. All at once.
You create your reality.

If you don't believe = No action
If you have faith = Camera rolling

Want kind of movie?

That depends on what you tell the universe, what you like to experience.

If that's all terror you are not in a healthy relationship with yourself.
But you cannot blame the camera projecting the film.

Don't blame at all.

Look at truth.

What is honestly being sent to the all giving nonjudgmental source of light making the movie possible.

If you entertain worry you are producing a film of anxiety.

The happy ending is pre as in prescribed emotionally.

There is no post production.

There will not ever come a time for you to edit the finished experience.

You need to edit now.

Flip the script.

Make it a good one.

Make it a great one.

For yourself and for everyone else.

It's all about inhibitions.
Are you inhibited? Honestly?

If the answer is yes then ask yourself why?

All inhibition is about shame, guilt and fear.

Ultimately fear of what others might think and judge?
Which becomes a problem with being identified with your static personality not actually existing. Because you are not who you was. You are always changing.
More or less.

Somebody doing porn for instance will tell you they have lost all of their inhibitions and feel free taking their clothes off. But have they also written a book about self respect, dignity, moral, reverence and soul connection. They have not.

And that's what freedom is all about.
Which is not material.

It's emotional freedom.

You might think it's about Access Hollywood.
But it's honestly about accessing inspiration. To become inspired. And to inspire.

As to make the world inspiring.

Access Holy.

No great movie is made from everyone hating each other?

It's mad with a loving vision of making something spectacular together.

We dream our existence to become all the time.

Everyone is doing it right now.

What you hold as this is all it will ever become is what you will receive with minor alterations. But when you dream about it and also support it you will feed your subconscious mind which is habitual and eventually as you keep doing it with a positive attitude. The universe will deliver. It will deliver when you are ready.

When you feel that you truly are what you wanted to become.

I have worked hard in becoming myself.

Because I was impressed with a lot of lies regarding that.

And when I worked at it I made the most of it for everyone else.

And I wish to do more of it!

All of it has to do with generally feeling good. About myself which makes me feel good about the world. And that makes a world of love for myself which I dream of becoming more of my experience involving various sceneries and interesting people with great food and lovely music.

How's that for a feel good movie?

transmutation.se is basically a huge script.

If someone would be interested in that.

It only explains existence in relation to the universe.
In a humorous, emotional and rational presentation.

My dream is to work together with Steven Spielberg.
And make a movie called 'The path of the heart'.

With a slight metaphorical aspect to it which makes it into something less than just an informative video used in schools. But truly show what life is all about and how it's all connected etc etc.

That would be a remarkable and inspiring, true story of how life comes to be.
So when people watch it and experience it they will be able to make connections in relation to what they manifest all the time. Your life is a continuous manifestation of what you communicate you wish could please receive more of.

Please take me out of this picture!

For instance..

That's a prayer.

Pray long enough with intense emotion and it becomes a reality.

By the hands of yourself or somebody else.

Nothing is random.

All is self created.

Universal law.

Law of attraction based on emotional communication.

Delivery nonjudgmental.

Gives what you ask.

A universal response.

On your general state of feeling.

The subconscious mind holds a lot of different emotions.
What is held there affects your life.

All of that can change.

As you decide to feed yourself with what you want.
Which needs to be felt as in passion. With being passionate you can't help but to dream. And those dreams can become a reality if you create to support them.

When the time is right, which is you feeling accomplished by yourself.
You are released. By yourself.

No longer inhibited by the resistance within you.
Those lies speaking against you.

All those judgements. Accepted. Ruining you.
Leaving you empty. From not feeling worthy.
Perhaps not deserving? Check yourself.

Again.

Without judgement.

Make change.

For the better.

Tell yourself that you are good enough.

And you will feel good despite your current position.

Home is where the heart is.

Connect in peace.

Feel good.

At home.

And the world is yours.

Judgements day off can be all day every day.

Where you don't judge anything at all.

You are just in appreciation and thus in good expectation of what is coming next.

And something good will come.

And you might think you don't pray.

But something like that is a prayer.

It is prayer.

Emotional communication followed by a truthfully reflective universal response.

A super accurate representation of what you asked for with your feeling.

A real good time is good for real.

You don't have to fake that enjoyment.

Like some do in various movies of superficial ecstasy.

If you wanna live a superficial life with fake emotions the universe will not judge or punish you. You handle that perfectly yourself. In giving yourself what you need.

If that makes you feel amazing and accomplished. Truly satisfied and successful?

Then you are doing absolutely right for yourself reflection your ego structure as good as you can.

But if you wish for something deep and real?

You gotta be deep and real.

So you cannot fake true anything.

True is true.

It ain't fake.

That's fake.

A lake is a lake.
It ain't sand.

Call your own bullshit.

And start scripting and producing your own magical picture.

As of right now. What are you wanting for?

A second chance will not come as you will forget this life.

So it's the same thing again. Until you develop. Expand. And become the most authentic version of who you are supposed to become.

There is no afterlife giving you paradise.

You will just restart as a baby or something else and have another go at trying to be brave without inhibitions as to do the very same thing once again.

Which is to self realize yourself.

Self realization.
Real. True. Authentic.
As real as it gets.
No bullshit.

And there is nothing God, Source, Spirit, Love, Universe wants more!

This is what makes for most inspiration.

This is what expands like nothing else.

And this honors and celebrates life as good as great!

Why not take that chance as you've got free will.

Choose life.

As much as possible.

While having it.

That's a great idea!

To just go for life!

I wish I could help you!

Because it will benefit me too!

We might not work together on anything but you will feel better inspired. Making inspirational things. And will inspire others. That will feel inspired. And the world becomes more loving as love is 100% pure inspiration.

At your service. How ever you want it.

Just don't mistreat it.

It's like a power cable.

You make sure you do not touch any metal. And the cable is isolated.

Why? Well otherwise you die.

And that's love.

Pure energy. Respect it.
Or it will kill you.

Not straight away. It's all love.

But it will remind you over and over..

Until you neglect it so much it can barely speak anymore.

Which is intuitively.

And the darkness is allowed to win.

Darkness cannot override free will.

It might seem like it?

But there is free will in all of us.

We make things happen.

If things seem very sudden for you?

That means you are not very aware at all.

Walking dead. And from that? Death comes.

No real surprise visit? If you widen the perspective and look at your own life with some objectivity you can see how it all connects.

Blunt. Blind. Love.

There it is.

The truth.

In 'The Never Ending Story' the little funny guy says:

'Confronted by their true selves. Most men run away screaming!'

Which is fear of self. Truly nothing to be afraid of.

Unless you lie.

Which is the ego structure given mandate and afraid of losing it all. Which it needs to do if the true self shall be affirmed. Which takes a bit of effort and persuasion in compassion as the mind is all about survival yet rational and makes this experiencing into dying for real.

But you need to die..

Die to your self.

Die to self.

Die to the lies.

And become true.

Which demands a period of dissociation depending on your specific challenge and strength allowed and given to the false sense of self.

You can flip it.

You can.

Just communicate with self.
Communicate with inner being.
Communicate with soul.

God, Love, Source, Universe.

All 7 one and the same.

All pure non-conceptual energy of unconditional love.

Which by that is non-judgemental. And all giving.

Completely perfect and so fair.

Delivering what ever you ask of it.

In relation to how you treat it to begin with.

Giving and Receiving.

In that order.

Giving it your gratitude.

Being humble as to learn more about it.

And everything resolves.
Everything get's restored.

Anything can happen.

Miracles are true.

We get what we give and won't see anything happen which we don't affirm.

Pre-scripted.

If anything can happen then anything can happen, right?

So what do you believe in?

I believe in anything!

Anything is possible!

Nothing is impossible for God.

And God just let's it happen. Complete acceptance.

When you communicate often enough that this is what you desire.

People have done this with lottery winnings. They've written songs about it and thought about it feeling joy over and over and won the lottery.

So it works!

But these people are not successful in self creation.

And thus leaves them feeling unaccomplished as truly dissatisfied with themselves in all honesty as they have not developed and become. Which is what we're all after. That's the soul contract. That's the soul intention. Which includes making everything better. Starting with yourself. As a loyal loving human being wise to know a lot about love for real. And will now be able to give what you truly have.

Which is very influential in a healthy world.

Or a world desiring to become healthy.

Spiritually. Then materially.

As this is the way of all creation.

The subconscious mind will make anything a reality as it's being convinced.

Which means you gotta feel good about what you're affirming.

When you wake up in the morning imagine you would have a very inspiring coach that tell you in the most persuasive, positive and joyful tone that you are the brightest star on the face of the earth!

That you are wonderful! That your are beautiful! That you are so good! That this day is fantastic! That this day is a day of miracles!

You would be pepped and feel great!

So if you do this with yourself things will begin to change.

Anything is possible in any way.

God will make it happen.

The dream is yours, you dream.

The creation is yours, you create.

The success of it all is done by God.

When you are convinced enough that you stop doubting more or less, or not at all.

Faith in your dream come true makes it come true.

Begin to dream more right now! Dream about who you would love to work with as a third option. After you've created something fun with the other two. Dream about the next country you would love to visit after you've visited your most desired location.

Visualize emails coming from people that wish to connect with you. Dream that they are now the ones contacting you! When previously you thought you would be the one contacting them!

Without! Without! Without!

Any resentment. Any competition. No smug. No attitude. No high and mighty. No they should be grateful. No nothing. Be divine. But no real diva..

A beautiful Diva exists. She's compassionate yet very secure.

She makes her own heart proud.
That's very she gets it from.

That's homemade humble pride.

Which some receive from their coaches growing up. Actually growing up.
Being raised. From proud parents mature enough not to compete with their child.

Mature enough not to compete with anyone.

So they have the ability to give their child presence.
And in that presence is gold. For what is told.

Never gets old.

Because that's calm, secure, trustworthy love.

And the child receives what it needs the most.

Which is faith in themselves.

Without any lesson about it.

That's the greatest gift of all.
That's kind, warm, peaceful love.

Like a cup of tea with cinnamon, milk & honey.

No transfer of fear.

Which makes the child trust in themselves and develop without as much resistance. And also feel grateful when no guilt is given in relation to trying things out and not doing it perfect whatever that is..

The professional actor winning best actor.

Could win best self.

If they dared to play the part.

OMG! THE BEST HUMAN BEING ON EARTH! BEST HUMAN!
GET OUT OF HERE! WHO DO YOU THINK YOU ARE!???

Says someone identified with their rational thinking mind.
Not affirming soul as the true self. 'Cause that's self.

When you connect with it you award yourself.

In relation to creation.

There is NO competition among stars.
There is no competition among souls.

We are one.

Don't feel guilty.
Don't create guilt.

Lift, grow, raise yourself.
By being true to self.

Self is already risen.

Waiting for you.

So don't resist self.

Self is all joy.
So feel joy!

You can count on it!
You can know it.

Completely believe that it will give you everything you've dreamed of.
Absolute trust. Faith.

And things will happen.

I can be the best shining star on earth all in relation to myself and wish for you the same. Yes. That is possible. And that could actually make for a fun challenge!

Which is never in opposition to itself.

It's self challenging.

What happens then is creation out of joy.

YOU CAN DO AND HAVE WHATEVER YOU DESIRE WITHOUT GUILT.

So don't create it!

Simple as that.

We create society!

So if we all create a guilt free society we can all live free!

I can do that for myself.
You can do that for yourself.

We give ourselves everything!

Feel free!

Help yourself!

You're welcome!

Be rebellious in a positive attitude!

Don't condescend.

Be positive!

Which means no complaining at all.

See it for what it is!

And do something good with it.

That's using the dark energy. Which is the plan.
God does it all the time. And you are God.
So why not do what you are supposed to?

You see!

I AM THE BRIGHTEST STAR ON THE FACE OF THE EARTH!

All in relation to my self perception which does not include anyone else.

It can't.

That's self love.

That's complete connection.

Just you and you.

In that sense don't care or involve anything but yourself.

And from that feeling you receive and will be given the gift you've always wanted most. The power to lead and give to others.

Making the world a better place.

Not working to save the ones that have given up.
Draining yourself as to be such a good loving human being.

That's not how we are supposed to affirm ourselves.

That's a guilt exchange.

And we pass the resistance between us.

Be real.

Be true.

Be you.

Self affirmed Queeing!
Of the international Queeingdom.

The world is yours.
And it's mine.

It's ours.

There is enough space for all to live like this.
Because it's not about owning land. And dominate in conquering material space.

It's about owning yourself as much as possible.

Fully connected in the most authentic way which is soul connection.
And that is all is praise and self love. Just like God.

God is self love.
God is Love.
Love is God.

So you see it all works out.

There is not a possibility for doubt within the power of all creation.
Everything just happens effortlessly. All new. All good.

And that's you.

If I meet someone I feel is brighter and shining more than me?

I get inspired!

I wanna learn from this human being.

Because they know something I don't know.

Or maybe I do just not in their unique perspective.

And that will enrich me!

Spiritually.

Which everything is all about!

That's what we give each other all the time when not in competition.

Jealous or Inspired.

Simple as that.

Self affirmed. Or not. In various degree.

Humility makes for an objective self perspective.

And thus enables change.

Change being made makes for something new and that's development.

Do all that in positive attitude. And you've got yourself a positive development.

That's unfolding.

That's becoming.

More.

Of what you is.

Pure inspiration.

Just like God, Source, Soul, Universe, Spirit, Self, Inner Being.

When I was younger I thought that people only got jobs from connections.

They know someone who knows someone who can give them a job.

But you see knowledge is emotional.

Knowing is feeling.

Spiritual.

When you know you don't question.

And that's connection.

Faith. No doubt.

IN self.

Which cannot happen without creation.

So you need to co-create with self.

Be humble as to ask and follow directions given as divine guidance.

From self.

Which is the true you.

So you work for God.

Which is you.

And you will get paid. Rewarded. Awarded.

All by that connection.

God is Love.

Love is God.

Soul is all.

Self employed.

Spiritual contract.

Stay true to that.

Be loyal to your destiny.

Don't judge.

Forgive.

Release.

The guilt.

And all will come. Naturally and effortlessly.

Like anything.

When the time is right.

Which can be any day!

So be on your best behavior.

Which is a good positive spirit.

And when you see that objectively you see that it's all you connecting to what you desire and thus make it happen. No strings attached. No strings to be pulled really.

Other than creating something to show for it.

And believing in it so much you leave it alone in blind faith.

Feel good about what you've created. Which is feeling good about yourself.
Affirm that things are happening. And feel like the star prior to anyone else.

And you are good to go!
Just wait for it.

Be excited without draining your energy with a positive feeling of expectancy.

That's called patients.

And the test of faith is not really a rational test.
The test of faith is simple you not allowing for worry.
It's you not allowing for doubt. As you keep the faith.

It will happen. I'm sure. I understand this.
And I play by the rules which don't exist.
I connect emotionally to what I truly wish for.

And all is given.

WITH A POSITIVE EMOTION:

I AM GOOD!
I AM GREAT!
I AM WONDERFUL!
I AM FANTASTIC!
I AM LOVE!
I AM LIGHT!

I MAKE EVERYTHING HAPPEN BY ALLOWING FOR IT TO MANIFEST

I DREAM MY WORLD INTO EXISTENCE

I STAY TRUE AND LOYAL TO MY DESTINY AND DO WHAT IS EXPECTED OF ME

WHEN I DON'T KNOW WHAT THAT IS? I AM HUMBLE AND GRATEFUL AS I ASK WHAT I SHOULD DO NEXT

I KEEP CREATING AS TO SUPPORT MY DESTINY

AND IN PERFECT DIVINE TIMING

IT'S ALL A DREAM COME TRUE

NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR GOD, FOR LOVE
ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN AT ANY TIME IN ANY WAY

THIS IS A FANTASTIC DAY FULL OF MIRACLES
I THANK YOU GOD FOR ANOTHER DAY AND ANOTHER
OPPORTUNITY TO CREATE A WORLD OF LOVE

I just thought of a new word. Positive 'Winmotion'.
Move and feel like a winner. Best recipe for success.
No competition required at all. Loose all competition by simply winning in relation to yourself. Done deal. As you feel. Healthy spiritual meal.

God's promise is real.

The dreams and visions are previews of life yet to come.

You can choose to connect with those.

And they will connect with you.

In an all attractive universe reflecting in perfection what is truly desired.

So be clear about what you wish for.
And all is given.

You don't believe that? = Slow delivery
With faith? = Instant manifestation

So you decide if you question that or not.

Allow for strength of mind to develop.
As you train it.

With compassion, loyalty, praise & truth in relation to the source that gives us all. And the mind will become free. To do what it's supposed to. And leave you alone to be your true self.

Now it won't feel stress anymore and can go back to making food digest and eyes blink. It's very stressful for a hazardous factory to act like a kindergarten. The mind does not understand emotion. It knows algebra.

Also in perfection. When we trust that.

So it's all about trust.

Trusting that this system called a human being works. When it's in working order. Which is correctly identified doing what it's supposed to. As this makes the whole system, listening to the heart that knows : Feel good in a safe and secure environment living a life of adventure and positive expectation.

Look at everything around you in terms of electromagnetic attraction.

Are things leaving you?
Are you sure that's negative?

Or is it making space for what is now coming?

That's a positive attitude.

Are things getting rougher and seem like coming to an end..

That's a new beginning!

Positive!

Yeah!

The snake sheds its skin.

And maybe you behaved a bit slithery prior to this.
Now you stand firm in your positive conviction.

That's strong in faith.

Which is a none-effort really.

It's more like a not doing worry kind of deal.

I just don't.

I don't do worry.

I stay positive and expecting. Of all good things.
Because I have done good and I am all good.

Nothing wrong with that.
You don't need to compare yourself to me in self destructive criticism? You can get inspired though!

I love writing in the middle.

I don't choose a side.

I stay centered.

Heart communication.

Divine guidance.

It feels great!

We love symmetry.

But try to make the world symmetrical all in control when we aren't balanced and centered in relation to our true being.

When we are we wanna see a funky society!
Not a stainless steel operation of living.

We love color!

Color makes us happy!

Whatever makes us happy let's do it!

- No no.. How would that look in a serious society?

Well.. Not so serious. That's good.
Do you understand that? As serious is grey.
Making the world robotic.

What is the color of ashes after the fire has burned down?

That's serious. Serious destruction. Which is necessary as to cook a meal and to keep warm. But remember the fire! The fire was the possibility. It was pure burning energy! That kept us alive.

Forget about the ashes..

Or make something good of 'em.

Rise from them!

Like a Phoenix!

That loves to eat and enjoy silly things!

Behaving like a really great friend!

So be like a Phoenix Buffay!

Who desires to feed even the smelly cat.

But needs to take care of themselves first in order to do so without taking as to give. Give is give.

Give and receive.

No taking.

Whatever you receive you do something good with it.
That's the deal. That's part of the contract.

Give and receive.

Give and receive.

How are you doing?

Can I help you?

You want me to do it for you? = Goodbye.

That's taking.

That's alright when we learn.

As children. And should not include any for of guilt.

I was given guilt in relation to everything growing up.

As a way of trying to make me understand the importance of gratitude. Taught by someone not knowing what that is. And so concern and performance became in focus as this was more about them and not about me. The focus was on them looking good doing what they wuz doing.

Not on me learning as to become independent.

So, not much parenting at all.

'You feel guilty now so you can feel that you should be grateful!'

Like that.

I don't blame. I don't condemn.

But the truth is that this individual was far away ready to have a child. As they wuz not responsible and connected in relation to themselves.

And from that I did some of the same things in relation to my kids.. Which I tried to do better and understand more of why we aren't connecting. Which is not about them. If I feel safe and secure and in clear communication ain't bullshitting myself they can't help but to trust me. As I trust myself.

Which is problematic if you don't know self.
Which is the true you.

Then you become what you do instead. Which is a product of ego identification. And strive to please that which cannot ever be satisfied. Because it does not know what that is. It only gets momentary kicks as it receives the award for great job but feels guilty afterwards as the praise and credit was given to the wrong source. And this it knows.

So it feels sorry.

For taking credit.

But that's alright..

The personality is beautiful too.

Everything is beautiful about you.

Don't condemn anything.

When you praise the source of all creation correctly it includes everything. Naturally. And so the personality the ego structure gets awarded and rewarded together with soul.

Cause soul ain't ego. At all.

And shares all that success.

That's the correct way of winning.
Winning over the dark side.
As in making it come into the light.
Not in opposition.

It gives up.

Willingly.

As it can now see the fruits of labor.

Working on yourself for good.

And it relaxes.. And allows.. For things to (Queeingdom) come.

CHECK THIS:

I asked my neighbor for a small loan yesterday.
This was declined today.

But he don't know who I am.
What I've have contributed with.
All in relation to true value.
Which is love.

And so by declining me this, he takes on the last bit of guilt.
He unknowingly (cognitively) accepts that guilt yet knows in spirit.

And actually helps me out the best! When I need it the most.

He becomes the little push over the crest.

And from that he will be rewarded.

Like a surprise!

Feeling very grateful and honored to have helped me.

I hope :)

I believe so.

GOD IS:

Continuous positive self affirmation.

With no doubt at all.

At least perceivable.

Just that little one dark frame the resets all the time as to be able to create movement.

God will not show up on a talkshow opening up about that one dark frame. It is forgotten.

God is like: HEY! What's NEW! LOVVAS!

..Not even a question mark on that new..

Why question existence.

No reason.

It's perfect.

All else is just 'Star Wars'.

Among theyself.

That's retarded.

What you said in those prayers created an image. And that image is consumed by the subconscious mind which is connected spiritually.

And will become a projection based on priority.

A prioritized desire.

What do you want the most?

Because that makes for being real.

If what you want most ain't coming, like what you create as an image of future fruits, is not a match to what's really being entertained.

What you dream comes.

And you dream all the time.

About something..

This becomes hard to be positive about all in faith. When you ain't dreaming of positive things. Which is good because you need to have the correct feeling attached to what you create. Or else we would perhaps feel ecstatic and full of joy crying in tears of gratitude of we only got the chance to shot somebody in the head. Especially a child!

That's incorrect behavior.
Like really messed up.

Yet some do that.

Why is because they kill opposition.
And life is all about the inside out.

So they kill a material child body.
As to free themselves.

That does not make any sense.

AHA!
And that's the key.
No sensation.

That's what's hurting!
So the child hurts them.

As the get reminded of an existence pure and not judgemental. But refuse to correct themselves and thus kills the child with a bullet to the head which in reality is aimed for their own judgemental mind which has them under control because they are not loyal to God.

They don't know Love.
At all almost.

We only appose ourselves yet project that in immature lack of responsibility. The only responsibility you ever have is returning back to humility. Because that opens up for change. And change cannot happen without understanding and the future fruits won't come to fruition in judgement.

Making forgiveness the most important aspect of being human at all. As this is the global reset. Allowing for the new to just come..

How do I know all this?
Where did I get it from?

I feel it.

*I feel when things are on or off.
Positive or negative.*

In relation to context.

And I do not judge.

I give thanks for all regardless.

And I keep relating with humility as to be able to self correct.

*And I only affirm what is true about me in nature.
From the core of my being without separation.*

I AM

33

Makes an eight. In reflection. Without opposition.
Infinite Love Creation. When united.

Lack of humility in all honesty:

It's a wall of defense.

Created to support the false sense of self in protection of humiliation.

We don't wish to feel embarrassed or guilty over not actually knowing ourselves.
Which becomes the resistance to change in dark perception but the solution to every problem in light perception.

So you see how important it is to maintain this relationship.

Or else the false sense of self will automatically receive all the credit turning it into guilt. That hurts as it goes against being free. And thus creates pressure and tension making us react irrational in relation to what is truly rewarding.

We think we win. False.
We know we win. True.

Think = Mind
Know = Heart

Love has no enemies.

Love doesn't judge. But also does not need to maintain any enemies.
Because love contains no fear.

God is not in fear of anything.

And by that holds no defense other than it's own peaceful way of simply being what gives all. So peace happens naturally without effort.

That's a friend of everybody.

The greatest!

Best friend.

That means the world to you. As much as possible.
From that great meaning of life.

Who do you think you are? - Judgment, jealousy.
Who do you feel you is? Freedom, inspiration.

Defense, judgement. Jealous. Immature. Not ready yet. Not humble. Before anything.
The throne is yours. Spiritually. Not materially. Get it right. Come back to peace.
