When you want me (Connection to God)

As I sit relaxed reviewing your application. Is when things have already gone wrong. As there is a thing lacking due to my stature of business.

What is that?

The reason.

The main reason.

That's what is corrupt.

That's why I am going into business. As I protect my funds. As I protect what I cherish and has built.

Which is my love.

So you might want me? But why? You want it all? Yes I do too!

But where do you come from? What is your integrity as in alignment with your moral compass? How true to love are you?

If you are so true to love as you say you are I am smack on your lips baby! No words. I cannot resist! I'm out of business! I drop everything!

But now we are looking at an agreement. A business agreement. All busy...

That is actually waiting to close the deal. In love. Not in money or anything else.

That's secondary to love. It has to be in the correct order for love supremacy.

Soul. God. What is right. - Then? Bang on the money!

Or else we die. It's an unstable construction. A false pyramid. Something jagged. Something off. NOT SICK. Just misunderstood. So laugh a bit about that and ask me.. What am I not getting right now? What do I need to be clear about as small ideas can be fatal in the grander schemes of things ya dig? What is that?

What is holding yourself back from smack on the lips!

Tick tick tick...

Belief.

A belief in yourself.

So you decided to be king of the world. That's your dream. All in love.

- Yes God..

That's a big dream! That's what demands some serious belief!

- I don't wanna be all serious?

Well, there you go then! You can become as you believe in a relaxed state all out of business. The business part is something else. You handle that afterwards.

- I don't know where to go from here! Can you please connect with internationally to the right people with my presentation of who I am inside?

Yes I can. I will do that immediately. As you believe in me.

You just doubted me but yet I speak to you and I am conscious.

- Yeah how does that work?

I am you.

- How do you mean? You are me. Are we twins?

There is no separation.

So I am God speaking to myself?

- Yes! Exactly.

So I can grant my own wishes? - Exactly.

In belief. That's the connection. When that connection is super strong we call that faith in English. What that implies is no wavering.. Just complete trust. A love connection. Between you and the source that gives you all which is also you. The personal identity, the idea of who you are as you're having a human experience is who needs to believe. And that's a bit of a challenge in perception. That's all. Like a kid that makes something seem difficult but you as a more mature cognition can see is super easy if they just believe in themselves. So I (GOD) am that ultimate source of mature perception telling you that you can do this easily just by believing in yourself.

And when you believe that you are done as you feel with everything you wanted to create. You release it from your consciousness as in relation to tilting the scale of perception. You did what you could coming your experience. And you are now on the plus side of things. As you've done the job for the whole family.

Humanity that is.

Given your choice in what you wanted to contribute with.

And I as an identity but also as God salute you! Poof!

As you are the savior of love.

Even if people decide to kill love from now on, you told everyone how love is the most precious thing in the entire universe.

So you deserve to receive the best treatment in relation to what makes you comfortable. And if people don't respect that? They are egos and should revert back to the shadows before they step into your light as they do not understand what love and integrity is.

- You do.

Thank you God.

- You're welcome. You are blessed. You are honored. You are a champion.

Just like the Hoodie you got from me at Christmas when you were 14-15.

A green one. That said Champion. But I called it Champinjon, like the mushroom in Swedish.

- Thank you Grandma! I love you 💕💕

We love you too sweetie. All of us here with God.

The opposition was you own family. It had to be like that. To even the scale. And as you consider the world to be your family that becomes a big scale in all of what is to be perceived. That's the reason for all the pain.

So she will come to you. You will meet up. And smack on the lips sweetie.

God is Love. Always has been and will never change. For the continuation of the highest worth in all of the universe. Stable, Secure, Not Fighting, Just a SURE THANG. How about some faith in that with a sense of humour aiiight? What's not to love really without comparison? It's just a matter of taste. 🍷 🦻 👁️ 😊

What does these icons above mean to you?

- Well that depends on the context.

Yes. This is why you are the champion.

How else can you succeed in the game of love. If you can not apply that with true care and in relation to what is mature not knowing what that is?

That's dangerous.

That's a kid with a Nuke.

What you want is a great deal of influence and resources. That's a reflection of your integrity and self-worth. The most loving and honest self image. Impossible to fake for God. For yourself. There is no way to cheat and get away with it in the game of love. That's a given certainty. No Sir. No Mam. No way Kid! Truth rules!
