What's my muthalovvin' name!

Throw yo' hands in da muthalovvin' air and wave 'em all around in a lot of lovin' care!

Positive! Positive! Positive!

POSITIVE!

My name?

Is Love.

It doesn't matter who you are. Nationality. Skin nuance.
We are all spiritual soul beings.

That's who & what you are.

The Universe is all about a fundamental binary expression consisting of on or off.
Light or dark. Making for motion happening in all possible directions.

The more light you choose to be the more you receive.

As this is choosing to be who you are.

The reflection and response is you accepting, loving, believing, having faith.

In yourself.

Heartfelt motion in relation to the universe.

You can reach success in pain. In struggle.

That has been proven so many times. But also what becomes the fall as this is this was a manifestation coming from an unstable foundation.

What do you create your success on?

It's all about image.

The image of God?

That's a great idea.

Am I the only one?

Am I the only one getting this choice?

Nah.

We are all the same.

If someone reaches influence in the world and becomes a celebrity will become a painful experience if that is based on an illegal image. Do I mean being a criminal?

Well all crime is crime against nature.

And you are the Universe, God, Nature.

One and the same.

So what I mean in being legit is being as true you can in relation to yourself.

If you base your image and thus your self creation on something that is far away from you? You will hurt at the top. Wherever that top is in relation to your perception having a human experience. It doesn't have to be world wide.

Don't lie.

Simple as that.

- I don't lie to people!?

You cannot lie about your own image to anybody else primarily.
And the result of your divine communication receiving a response will be a manifestation of that.

All you do is primarily in relation to yourself.

- I don't think I lie to myself???

And that's where awareness comes in.
Actually being very much aware of who you are as in your conductivity,
all in relation to yourself.

How well do you know yourself?

The more you do in all honesty not taking yourself for granted the more possibility you allow for correction. And coming correct makes you feel good as you are loyal in the game. And thus you communicate clearer to yourself with you being the universe and the response will manifest as something more of what you prefer.

What is your name?

Material, mental structure, word.
Doesn't matter that much.

It is what you associate with that name and structure that makes for what you become.

You define yourself.
You refine yourself.

If you're very material in your experience not understanding emotions (spirituality) you can work that body like a maniac reaching a manifested physical body of will refined, well defined muscle mass.

But what are you supposed to do with that not having a relationship emotionally with yourself. How many people in the gym lacks the skill to have a deep conversation?

All is in relation to yourself.

Everything is.

Which then becomes your experience in relation to what is all around you.

Being loyal in relation to yourself is primarily acknowledgement of who you actually are, of what you actually is. Which is Love.

And that affirmation and acknowledgement is non-existent without communication.

Without official and verbal communication.

Without creation to support all of that.
In what you prefer as this is what you're passionate about.

We all see the presentation.

But what is underneath the hood of your physicality is your relationship with yourself.

Live in the hood all material inside and in the hood is where you'll stay put.

Transform and become more of who you is and you change that position materially as in where you go on the surface on the planet. All from your inner world.

This will not happen without affirming and becoming.

You could in effect make this happen by the snap of your fingers.

In relation to the universe giving you all without question.

But truth be told you are not strong enough in your belief yet.
That has to become a knowing which faith is all about.

And then it happens.

You want to leave and receive more.
You want to arrive!

So do that.

Within.

You will not become anything in this world without becoming it inside yourself first.

All is a positive or negative self conviction.

Knowing, I am.

- I am what?

Well that's your freedom of choice.

And if you wanna do that as good as possible which is not a performance you do that as close as you can in relation to your destiny.

- What's my destiny?

Why are you asking me?

So you see how important that relationship is.

AWW! I get so frustrated! I can't find my destiny!?

That's all a result of that neglected relationship.

Staying in your rational thinking mind too much.

Stay loyal is what I said.

Loyal to the game.

The game of Love.

Where do you find the love if you search your body?

At home.

- Where is home?

Home is where the heart is.

Re-connect as to find that out intuitively.

Dreams and vision are what this is all about.

No matter who you are and how you invest in positive and true beliefs you still create your reality by dreaming it.

Having doubts is also believing.

Just believing strongly in a negative outcome.

That's an inverted belief in relation to what is preferred.

Worry is a wavering occurring as you are a bit in-between.
Worry is worthless as to emotionally invest in and acknowledge.

There is no need for worry so don't affirm it.

What you want is to raise that vibe a bit coming to belief.

With a smile and communication to yourself that all is well, everything is going good. Things are working out. You are supported. Everything is connected and happening for your greater good. As to make for a greater good in planet earth.

Remind yourself of this as often as you can in positive emotion and that is called having a positive belief.

Do that real often and it becomes a subconscious impression which is nothing else than a habit forming inside your mind.

And when that has been done often enough it's simple there and makes it easier to just stay in faith and leave it.

That's when your mind starts connecting and thus projecting the love story from you being loyal to the script.

The script about all that's good.

You can live an inverted version of that.

All negative.

And that's the outcome and projection you will experience from your own manifestation.

All you.

So you see how important it is to love yourself and stay humble as to grow. Release what is not serving you as you take responsibility for it within yourself in understanding. Forgiveness and release.

As to be as you is. Free.

Very clear and simple.

We just confuse that in listening from the outside in.

Be real. Be here. Be on time.

Primetime.

Optimism.

All the way.

We can always fall on the finish line.

- Where is that?

Nowhere.

You are always becoming more and you always wish to receive more.

So all of that works out.

Expansion.

So don't give up and don't view life as such a struggle.
View it like a challenge and an adventure.

Which becomes more natural and obvious as you deal with the negative energy a.k.a resistance.

All is given!

As you become a true and clear recipient.

Simple as that.

The works of it all is very simple.

It's all the perception of inside out, black is white, white is black, upside down, inside out. That makes for the challenge.

But don't live in the code.

What's living in the code?

In thoughtville.

Trying to figure things out all the time.
Trying to know everything by thought.

You know as you feel it.

Which requires the deep and close relationship of being real.
Of being true and loyal to who you is.

What you do is what you do.
But you gotta feel it.

- Feel what?

The gratitude for being you and living your life.

Loving yourself love.

That's the primary part of enjoying life as this makes you enjoy yourself and thus live in joy.

Naturally given.

Without any achievement or performance.

Just feeling good about who you is and celebrating that in humility.

And life becomes beautiful which benefits you and also others.

As you are creating a world of love for yourself and thus give what you have.

- How loyal can you become?

Stop measuring everything.

It's all about how you feel about yourself in relation to yourself being loyal to your love. To who you is. If you wanna compete with that you are not humble.

And you've made being loyal to self love a material thing.

Stay connected. Be real.

You are not here to perform being loving to yourself as in a material achievement.

Yet you are here to acknowledge & affirm yourself all in love.

Projection/Reflection.

That's the game.

Clear perception.

Correct yourself spiritually.
Emotionally.

As to get a clear picture.

Living on earth from the inside out.

More understanding does not have a limit.

The more you understand the more you forgive and thus release.

To be friends.

Primarily with yourself.

Ad then with others.

You cannot give what you do not have.

Everything is positive! It just depends on how deep down the "not well" you need as to realize that.

Kick and scream. Blame and fight.

But know that it's all you with you.

And know that your closest family not taking the responsibility in relation to our realizing yourself becomes the resistance in your challenge.

Don't hate.

Understand.

And keep at it.

They will loose. Sometimes with their life. Because someone has to pay the debt of guilt which isn't real but holding on to resentment not being humble makes it that.

That's being difficult. Uncomfortable = Disease.

So spiritual murder is perfectly fine.

It's they who kill themselves in your light misunderstanding their own salvation.

They have the possibility and choice to do the same.

But act all immature and hold on for dear life which becomes contradictory and they die. For their sake and development having a human experience the best thing is to die to that negative and false conviction. Which everything is all about.

But as they are material they refuse to be humble before love as love is not visible unless you choose to see it.

And they might die from cancer, heart attack, stroke or whatever.

They pain one feels when living contradictory to self, to love, to soul needs to be dealt with. You do that by truth and honesty in all humility coming to gratitude.

Or you do that by numbing consumption.

That's your choice.

And we all know how all of that affects the world.
Which we all live in.

So take care.

Be brave.

Do what you are supposed to.

And you will celebrate yourself in doing so.

Making yourself feel good!

Making yourself feel great!

And voila!

Experienced success.

Nothing will come to pass if you aren't releasing what was.

And nothing will come to fruition and manifestation if you are not affirming it before it actually happens.

Be official in relation to yourself.

With what you want.

And speak highly and positive over yourself.

Changing, transforming and becoming.

From the inside out.

All is given as you are deserving.

As you are worthy.

Which is not a thought.

It's feeling all of that.

Come to peace and celebration.

Don't be passive.

Dream and live the dream!

And the dream comes true!

For God, Source, The Entire Universe?

This is nothing.

But loved as everything.

And celebrated and supported as such!

JUST DO IT! 😊

I LOVE YOU!

THANK YOU!

I LOVE YOU!

THANK YOU!

I LOVE YOU!

THANK YOU!

All inside your chest!

All felt inside your heart!

All communications of love!

You get watt U give!

Give love as to receive love!

Thank God for everything in JOY.

Be grateful in advance.

As this is affirming and acknowledging love to be real and the highest. The realest!

And all is given.

The next piece of exactly what you need,
exactly where you are.

God does not make mistakes, ever.
If you identify with your mistakes you are identifying with lies.

You are who you is, Love.

Not what you do.

But do love as to be love.

And the circle is complete.

The wheel of fortune 🎰

Thank you God for giving me everything! Thank you God for guiding me! Thank you God for supporting me! Thank you God for all the love! Thank you God for everything!

If you wanna be official with who you is then how's that gonna happen if you ain't official in relation to yourself???

Love all you is and all you are.
Love all you do and all you contribute with.

How's that's gonna be a possibility if you ain't loyal to da game?

Ain't feelin' it?

Check yo'self.

If you wanna meet somebody romantic and wish for that to be as loving as possible? Then you go ahead and meet yourself first.

All talk about being so hard and tough? For what?
What are you trying to tell yourself?

Got a story to tell?
Make that muthalovvin'.
Correct yourself.

Stop being Corrupt.

When you are working for God then God will make anything happen.

When you continue to do what you feel is what's necessary in a world incorrect you do what is necessary as to correct it.

That's what God is expecting of you.

That is what you are expecting of yourself.

To clean the perception of love as much as possible.

As to make for a world of love.

As to become a true reflection of what unconditional love is.

Do that in all you do as good as you can do it.

And God almighty, the source of all creation.

Will provide all you need.

Rest assured in that.

Complete faith in Love.

God is Love.

Love is God.

You are Love.

You are God.

Trust yourself to make it all happen in the background.

Leaving it all in faith to be handled by source code.

I have done everything I can up to this point.

Which means I leave it all to God.

You can see it all as one great artwork.

One painting.

You don't release something like that unfinished.

But as of now..

I am back at the top again.

I have made my lap around the wheel of fortune clearing my perception.

I am Good.

I am Great.

I am wonderful and fantastic.

From a subconscious conviction speaking against that to a convinced free soul having a human experience in positive self perception.

Go ahead God.

Do your magic!

I feel excited! I feel the anticipation of all the good.

God is Good.

All good.

I want more!
I want more of everything!
I am ready to receive it all.
(Joyful feeling in my heart)

Theta waves.

A good enough. Naturally worthy & positive recipient.

You get what you give.
And that is honestly & truthfully what you send out.

In an all attractive Youniverse.

/ Leo

Nature ain't providing any drugs.
That's a human creation.

What have I consumed as I sit peacefully right now taking that picture?

Well, Since I woke up I've had about 1 liter of water.
I ate some oatmeal porridge with cinnamon.

And I smoked 2 cigarette butts which I found in my neighbors ashtray.

It's all good.

Life is what you make it!
