

What do you desire to give? In all honesty what makes all live
Life living free without distance, not stuck in judgemental resistance

I have the key to the box, I know how to open all locks
I do this as love passes thru me, I cannot give up so I trust thee

God all supreme without failure, forever the glorious cure
We all need to clear the rendition, of pixels all twisted for sure

Bent to fit the agenda, to match disharmonic sound
Like stating the blue sky above us, is actually what is the ground

You can hit me and call me whatever, dressed in religious shirt
But nothing like that can ever feel like, how much all the lies made me hurt

How can people deceive? Treatment in lack of humane
Feeding a world of deception, pushing us all to insane

Lying and lying and lying, painting our sun with your lack
Of universal creation comprehension, continuously giving all back

A life without recognition, of the source that enables all life
Is like a grain of sand in Sahara, foundation for all of the strife

Love is free and love is all, know all this by feeling
Not in ground and not outside, not in our heavenly ceiling

God we call what needs no thing, and this is our mutual treasure
Love supreme inseparable, all about unified pleasure

Everyone HAS to drop, the idea of love separation
This IS the root cause, making war in various nations

Maybe I won't live to see, all of this to be
I suffer as you won't let go, the idea of not feeling free

What is love? Baby please, baby please don't hurt me
Very few can read poetry, emotionally fail to see

Logical instructions, you read with all your mind
Words of love you read with your heart..
Asking all to be kind
