The signs of light

Today, Sunday December 8th, 2024.

The day before the night I felt like I was being reborn and wrote about watching 'Contact' with Jodie Foster I went over to a friend for lunch. I talked about the movie and she said people laugh at her when she pronounces Jodie's last name.

Because she pronounces it in Swedish. 'Foster' is actually fetus in Swedish. Then I opened the YouTube app on my phone and was given firstly a clip of a gentleman playing the theme song for 'Futurama'. Then I was given a clip of a sax player with pink hair and the title of the clip was 'When you're over qualified for the job'.

As I notice these as none coincidental and write them down just as I'm doing right now is also affirmation. It's also acknowledging God. Spirit. Guidance.

Things are moving that's for sure. I am getting very close now to seal the deal. Which is all from within me. In relation to planetary positions and inherit karma. I feel very much at home, at peace. I wish for love I do. But I feel a calm in all of this. A certainty of a positive outcome/income.

I have given love my all. Everything I could going on overtime. I asked to be delivered today. As I am pleased with what I've created. I love what I have done. Especially the most recent 4 track EP 'Doing it right'.

I cannot and I do not wish to escape anything. I do not feel like I need to push out anything holding me hostage in deserving love. In deserving success. So what is needed now is to be at peace. In the now.

Before the wow..

Ground control to Major Chord, This single note wants to be in harmony with higher frequency octaves. I am worthy of that. I have been promised that. I have received in alignment with that. And I have done everything in my power as to support my dream of love, my destiny, my calling.

Time is truly running out regarding everything. I have no money to pay rent, I am allowed to live here for about 2-3 more weeks I guess. The welfare office won't help me even with money for food. The food I have will last me about 2-3 days. All I want for Christmas, is truth.

Last Christmas I was all broken heart. But as now as today, in peace I will say. Please give me now to the world. So I can receive this promise..

Thank you God for all that I have received. Thank you God for helping me with all understanding. Thank for putting me thru, all of the darkness and all the CooCoo.

How big of a flower this shall be? Is now up to God, so let's just wait in faith and see..

All of the pressure is always about a new baby, about giving birth to a whole new creation in supporting love herself. That's the best advice I would ever give. Don't stay silent. Get it out. Write about it, talk about it. As this is confirmation every time. Acknowledging to God that you are still on the job, still pursuing your destiny. Still working with all you've got!

For love herself 💕

I am literally sick and so tired of not having money to eat healthy. I am not sick and tired of the one I am. I love myself. But I am in all of this sick and tired of having nobody. I need love. I need you now 💕

Where I need to be now is in the eye of the storm like a peaceful kid experiencing everything in wonder protected from everything. Like sitting in the car where I am in the rain while the T-Rex screams outside.

No fear. All calm completely spiritually present. Allow for whatever to pass, and it will. No more pressure. No more challenge up to this point. I am returned. I am the promised child.

Right now. I can't even write too fast. Walk to the bathroom. Make a drawing on a piece of paper. I need to be aware of my breathing as well as my overall tension not to increase anything stressful as this will be too much.

There is no possibility to be as sensitive as I am without being sensitive to stress included in those all possibilities. There is no judgement. Only possibility. Happenings. Creations. Light or Dark. Whatever can happen will with will. So it will happen.

That's not being negative. Love is observable. And differentiable. Not as in duality but in intensity. Cannot die. But can be perceived dimmed or highlighted.

By choice in awareness of love herself.

Which you and I are making this experience challenging when not affirming this to begin with. That's a core necessity. For all other experiences to become self explained by non-conceptual existence.

The periphery is the periphery. It's not the core non-issue at all. Just peaceful awareness looking out from the observatory that is non-existent as in a material reality.

The tension is the fear of not knowing.

The heart knows everything in love we relax.

In love we let go as to receive. We is what we is. So it's all designed to be manageable.

This you can trust. This I can trust. Put an H in there in a timeless reality and you got yourself the Thrust to keep you going forward. Maybe not like afterburners currently but enough in the vacuum of space which in actuality has slim to none gravitational resistance.

We float. We all float.

Go gentle into that good night.
Burning rage to love will kill you.

You get what you give. Give peace a chance.. As to make it work in non-doing.

You cannot see beyond the horizon as you are simply not ready for it. In the ever evolving and transforming in the irrational expressive multicolored universe not identified with anything as nothing exists at all given the constantly happening new.

Beautiful! Wonderful! All possible experience which is experiencing itself without being existent.

Kind of funny actually 😊

Try hard as to find a static explanation as in a rational idea trying to explain that and you have just shot yourself in the head blaming gravity for not making the bullet go away from you yet you hold the gun backwards.

You are forgiven. But understand direction in it's simplicity in a quantum experience of emotional connection involving all at once to some degree of intensity depending on connectivity in relation to material illusive proximity in range that does not exist.

We suffer the consequences of going against this. Not allowing for what is all loving to give us all love.

Like behaving stubborn drinking sand and hating the sea. That's a moron. That's no sense. As in sensuality. As in feeling for it in behaving humane which is emotional.

What you in actuality and ultimate reality is forever and ever evolving with the sands of time in water creating life holding all experience in memory being the record of non-competitive clear non-judging life existence.

I think about nothing when I write this.
All I do is feel for it. And the thumbs move accordingly. Automatic lover.

Being, I Am 💧

Tai Chi.. Wu wei..

All atmosfear or at most love.

This was my dock of endurance.

I'm all good.

To be saved you gotta be here to become that. So in being here and now you save yourself. Thrusting in love without movement. It's all just imagination.

Yet wonderfully still real as I look into your eyes and hold your hand. Feeling the warmth of your love actually not possible without the energy of love living inside you.

I see you, I feel you.
We are scared to fall, but we need to.

There4 I exist 4ever in love

You can only love other as you love yourself.
So it's good no idea to simply accept that in just leaving love alone to be free of any concept whatsoever.. = Clarity, Light

I have to love myself as self before I love you. But you make love happen for me as I cannot connect emotionally in relation to myself in loving you.

I need you to live rich. And so I wish and dream for us to be together. There is no other way of coming closer to you.

Can you see me? Thru the camera? I believe you can. In love. Non-conceptual.
Yet..

All knowing

Abusing love makes it disgusting
When it's the purest there is.....
Make the most of it by caring,
Which firstly is to know it.

We are threatened and fear what
We do not know. So relate in love
As to get /aqua/intent with what
Flows and not sinks.

All in Spirit.

As to give to what gives in order
To receive what you want the most
Or else you will hurt..

The one.

You love. The most.

You are nothing without you.
As in living a life.

You are love. So you cannot be

Apart..

Just be.
That's inside out.

Core a lation. Connected.
As to be the giver then the receiver
Of your own most wonderful,

Xperience.

Not the other way around. As this
Will make gratitude and humility

Obsolete. Not necessary..
When both are what love is..

Truly about.

Get that inside your head..

All given.

When you listen.

To your heart..

In feeling good..

About who you choose to be.

Commentary review:

'I see why people die alone in cancer'

It's their own choice in self defeat.
Holding on to what was wishing 2B
Saved from themselves..

Poor self perception.
We can help them.

As we lead them home

They will trust us. And consume..
What we offer all in love..

As we are truthfully able.

To give what we have..

When we understand us..

Honestly without judgement.

Of self..

Being the one.

Q&A:

Q: Why won't people listen to me?

A: Because they judge themselves.
And perceive you as a threat. In Relation to their false sense of self.
Justified. By holding on to hurt.
Which makes them hurt even more..

Not humble.. Before love.

Q: What can I do as to make them see?

A: Nothing except lead with example.
And sharing all for free as to make
For a greater understanding.

But they still get the choice in free will.

As to live or die.

Walking around on earth.

Q&A: Save yourself.

What's up next?

You will be the one for people in Need of assistance..

Realizing themselves as to be you

All in love, but as a unique expression
In their soul signature

The greatest gift you could ever,
Give someone. The most honorable
Thing as this honors life and love,
Herself

The gift you received from God.

Now possible as to be given,
In clarity, humility & peace.

The save way you received it.

Do not give to people in need..

Of anything but love.

This will kill you.

In acceptance of a black hole.

Which makes it confusing. Ass
We are supposed to also love
A black hole all in love yet..

In the material maturity..

Of being funky humans..

DO NOT CONFUSE THOSE TWO

Ass to prevent destruction sequence

Once again..Initialized..

You never know.

Who you're dealing with.

Respect freedom of choice.
Allow for whatever. Do not judge.

What people do together all in love.
When in agreement joyfully cozy..

Is none of your business.
Everything evolves.

Know love first.

Then everything is alright.

Because the more you know love..

The more pain you will experience,
Ass you go against it.

Know what's what..

And all is given 🌸 Naturally
Beautifully, Wonderful, In joy

Enjoy.

Yes.

Yes.

Good.

Final Fantasy VII (Theme Music)

Being close to love with much sensitivity is actually being equally close to fear.
We can experience anything emotionally at any time. Anything is possible at any time which is now. The only time there is.

So you are actually feeling everything all at once in a blend of comprehension of that. You cannot push away sad as to feel happy. As this will become an investment in what you do not desire which makes it happen.

Just like anything undesirable as what you might lack in this current perception which all stems from your own emotional communication in relation to yourself.
That's why acceptance is so important as to allow for things to pass. They won't do that neglected and pushed away. Everyone wants to be heard. And everything is energy in motion, e-motion. And you are all.

So stop pushing yourself away.

And allow for all of you to exist at the same time which is now.

And from that acknowledgment attention.

You free yourself from what you previously fought.

Actually creating a little war inside you.

Of interstellar affecting affect.

Ion.

Eon.

Light On.

Let there be light.

So let it.

You cannot love completely unless you also love fear. Coming to understand it..
That's not the same as loving violence and destruction. But yet that too if you're tearing down a house for instance.
It depends on the context.

It's fun to knock down a wall to make space. But it's complete darkness destroying someone's home with a missile.

People do a million things and never learn from anything..

I know very little about very much.

And I know a great deal about nothing.

The one thing people search for in trying to learn about it doing those million things yet not reflecting at all..

What makes me successful is comprehending this human experience.

That happens as a result of me experiencing something, and contemplating it's expression like: 'Hey that's interesting! It's kinda like this yet different?'

And I connect things together as to make for a greater understanding.

Like people for instance.

The more disconnection we feel the more connected we actually are.
Only in relation to something else.

Because we simply are connected.

This could be a destructive worry, or some entertainment, perhaps the wind?

To connect to self is not to go seek for it and try to find it. That will create it not being. Because it's simply is being. So just be.

This is possible sitting still with your eyes open or talking to someone.

People's biggest issue in communication is the appearance of themselves in the eyes of others. They think so much about if they are good listeners and if their facial expression is doing good in relation to what is being said.

Stuck in Ego.

If you just be here and listen. Give away your attention completely as to receive it yourself. You see? You get what you give. Presence. Living live. Actually here and now. Makes for a wow. Giving away your attention is not something to be tensed about, it's the opposite. So relax. And enjoy the connection. To self.
