The World Spirit

People come and people go. They live a life of honesty or lies. They do that in humility or not. But the world spirit is not going anywhere. So what was given is what it holds. And when that is going against nature for a long time it becomes fury. And that fury will eventually become manifested as the universe is self correcting.

This is not God. God is all giving and all forgiving. But the world spirit answers to God. And this is what we are supposed to as well.

Natural disasters. Droughts. Flooding. Everything is the works of a conscious world spirit. Who eventually has had enough. So it is very patient. But gives a response that is equal to how it's being treated.

Discard this and you are the biggest idiot on the planet.

You and everyone else practically that's been investing in self destruction for about 2024 years. The inner environment is the outer environment. We are the universe, God, Nature. And what we experience is from gratitude and appreciation or taking everything for granted.

When taken for granted it is not the environment. It is not the planet. It is ourselves in high and mighty posture neglecting our own deep relationship. That becomes the projection and the world happens as in that low vibrational frequency, general state of feeling coming for the creators. Who give themselves hell in lack of understanding.

As I said. The biggest idiot on the planet.

Natural retaliation. Oh yeah. It's real.

We are the creators of this world. In the perspective of a consuming society. What we consume is what we approve and affirm and that is not spirit. We affirm the Ego. But all in a misconception of manifestation. Which is that we get what we give and that is what we focus on. We can impossibly focus on something that gives us all if we don't affirm and acknowledge it. And that's where religion comes in which has destroyed all of that for all this time. Created by MAN! Not God. To control society. With a hint a good in it. Terrible terrible idea..

Do you have the possibility to think for yourself and also feel as to behave as morally as you can? Yes! You do! And there you have it.

No book necessary. Just you having an honest and free relationship with yourself. Not involving sex at all in that loving relationship. Sex is something else. Not even included in love. And control is not freedom. Freedom of choice is given to each and every human being. And is not and never will be anyone else's judgement.

That is being above God in a humongous EGO. Not spiritual. No spiritual connection at all. Just high and might EGO. Super afraid. Full of fear. Trying to control Love.

The biggest idiot.

Choking the supply of life.

Is that intelligent? No. The contrary.

- But the book says..

Written by men taking control.

The biggest idiots.

God has never and never will write a book. It's impossible.

All is interpretation written by people who could not completely give up their own personal gain. So they infused control inside. Tweaks leading to submission. Hurting the entire world. All of humanity. With war and condemnation. Actually bringing hell instead of heaven.

Congratulations you did it! The worst job ever.

With prohibitions. With rules. With no no's. Judgement judgement judgement..

That is not free.

We all wish to live in freedom as we are free souls. Can you see the problem in acting and support the opposite of that?

Immature behavior. Stupid behavior. All intellectual 5%. Discarding intelligence 95%.

Do we need to make that clearer? If you listen with your heart is apparent. If you look at those numbers they're apparent. It's all super clear. It's crispy fuckin' clear.

Human = Humane = Emotional = Compassionate = Understanding = Forgiving = Releasing = Freedom

Not controlling and not judgemental.

NOT LYING.

The world spirit knows.
And it kills where necessary.
Without mercy.

Even if you decide to kill me which does not have a point at all you're still left with the world spirit who holds the karma. God doesn't hold any karma. World spirit does.

Contained in the sphere of natural life called planet earth. Where everything grows free. Where good relationships that start from within and then without makes for a moral society where we simply enjoy ourselves and each other having some cake perhaps and talking, creating, presenting lovely things.

And when we mature and become sexual we can enjoy each other in that way as well however we choose in consent. In sensuality and not in craving and need. Without judgement because that is unhealthy. Having a beautiful time together in free will where we have fun is healthy.

Marriage is the devil.

Created within religion.

As to make for guilt.

Most of what is written in religions texts are about guilt.

Hence all the control.

Which is also about people lacking control. Self control that is.

We cannot just do whatever??

We need a good moral. And that is natural when we are having a deep relationship with ourselves affirming ourselves as spiritual beings, beings of truth.

Then there won't be any 'Peoples Temple' or whatever disturbed EGO driven shit.

I have no desire what so ever to start anything like that. I just wanna live free and see who I want and do what I love. Which is mostly to eat good food actually. That's a priority for me. And travel a bit. Enjoy different sceneries. Cultures. And have a drink now and then together with perhaps a cigar of something.

Don't confuse culture with tradition.

Tradition is not good. It makes for a hold. We are not supposed to stop. We are supposed to develop. To expand spiritually. So we need to let go of the old. If we held on to everything traditionally we would boil asparagus for 4 hours. That's the truth. We used to do that. Can you image what kind of shit that would be to eat.

I feel the world spirit. And I feel this fury.

I can't calm it. That's impossible. This is something that becomes a response in relation to our responsibility emotionally. Actually doing right for ourselves. Not just keepin on. Doing the same. In total neglect of truth. Not in co-operation with the Universe.

Competition competition competition..

All day long.

Investing so much value into football for instance when children are dying.

- Yeah that's unfair why do they do that??

Because you watch it. Because you invest in it.

With your energy and attention.

And the children die so you can get the satisfaction of your team scoring.

So you can feel good after a long day of hard work. 🥲

Have another pint.

Buy another Jersey.

Why care. Leave that to the ones in charge.

All is energy. All is choice.

In charge? You give away your power.

Which upsets the world spirit. And everyone pays for the destructive consequences as you neglect your own love. Taking yourself for granted and working yourself to pieces.

- Well it's a tough world and somebody has to do the job?

Or not.

We can all stop working and survive on only water for about a month.

Stop everything. And do what's right. For the greater good.

It's possible. Do we need that. We don't. We can do what's right anyway.

But if we don't? Nature will take care. Naturally. Without mercy. And that might seem unfair and forced upon us. But we create everything. In truth or lie. In freedom of choice. In all of our behavior. Projection/Reflection. Manifestation. World of war or World of Love.

By choice.

All we ever need to take care of is spirit. Inside us individually.

And by doing so everything is managed at the core of our being resulting in a manifested world of peace and love.

Inside out.

Not outside in. That's a lot of wasted energy.

And the result is evident as we fall short on our own limitless supply, all in neglect.

Acting like we are large then life.

All we need is love. But in neglect we block our own success.

What is success? Well.. Pretty obviously to live a good life. To enjoy life.

We are not placed here to suffer. That's a misconception and also a huge part in all the religions.

God knows one word and one word only. Which is: YES.

God is all giving.

So we affirm what we want. And eventually we receive it when we deserve it.

We are always worthy. But the deserving factor is all in relation to our own perception. Which demands a deep and personal relationship with truth, love, God.

I am. Is the most powerful thing you can say.

I am Good. I am beautiful. I am fantastic. All I do is good.

Spoken often as the correct yourself as your creations will follow that or not. And that makes for friction and not feeling good or fantastic at all. Which gives you the option to correct yourself as to match what you are saying in relation to yourself.

Humility.

Lack of humility is a damn blocking water.

Humility opens and eventually brakes down that blockage.

Are you praying to God in sorrow and despair? All in negative and destructive communication? Well then you will get more of that because that is what you emotionally say you wish to receive more of.

And God is all giving. So there you go.

God does not feel sorry for you as God cannot judge.

God does not know what bad or wrong is. God is all accepting. Equal.

Continuous stream of unconditional love = All giving

If you wish to connect with that and to receive more to be happy about you need to be happy where you are. If you're not that means that you struggle with low self worth which becomes a strong facade in protection feeling the painful feelings of neglect. And thus the EGO inevitably grows.

Why I am surfing in my heart right now is because my own family wants me dead in opposition only I am their salvation. But because of extreme (actually as much as possible) immaturity they stand firm in blame and negative conviction making me look bad and crazy. The guy working for truth and honesty, for humility and freedom.

This is necessary as to make all this happen and become my destiny.

But it hurts nonetheless.

It's all their projection. No responsibility. Holding on to their role of being a victim which is all EGO.

This will end when they die. When the pressure becomes too much.

And that will happen in three different ways.

#1 Becoming humble before God and giving up their negative conviction

#2 Suicide

#3 Heart attack, stroke, bone cancer etc etc..

All in lack of humility.

All in justifying wrong doing claiming it was right.

All in not willing to be objective and to look at the behavior as they are completely identified with their EGO. Judging themselves as being wrong and doing and being is that same for them.

Immature. Not developed one bit.

Maggot level. Nothing wrong with maggots. They prep the soil and stuff. But as a human being and conscious development it's just as low as you can hold yourself.

Yet still. Blaming that on me and society, and the weather and their own history feeling sorry for themselves. Victims. All day every day. Low lives. By choice.

God knows this.

The world spirit knows this.

All knowing.

And correction will happen. Reward will happen. Freedom will happen.

God makes it all alright. You do not have power over God. God's way is the good way. The positive way. And I leave all this to God. I am not vindictive. I am not aggressive. I leave everything to God and continue to do right for myself. Standing up for love and standing up for truth.

Killing in the name of..

I would never approve of blood on my hands. I am Love.

They go down in their own flames of injustice.

By choice.

There comes a time when you are supposed to mature. And they have chosen not to over a very long period of time. And also acted falsely with no responsibility living with lies regarding their destructive and negative conduct.

They will pay. Their own. Consequence. Going against Love.

God knows.

Spirit knows.

Payday is coming.

We both stand firm. In opposition. One stands correct. One does not.

Guess which one who will receive the reward and which one will receive their own punishment? Not that hard to see. You can all learn from this. It's not hard. No blame.

Come correct. And things work out for the good if that's what you're working for.

You get what you give.

I don't believe the world spirit would ever harm me. Because I am friends with it. And spirit knows. Nothing happens by accident. Nothing is random. Everything is connected and happens for a reason.

If there is fatality among the people which are innocent and young please know that they are collateral damage. Which becomes a part of the "supposed to be mature" grown ups all neglecting and staying victims by own choice.

All is attraction based upon a general state of feeling which is all a correct or incorrect perception played out from a subconscious conviction one individual accepts or does something about. All in their own relationship they have with themselves or not at all.

It's no surprise.

There's no good or bad luck.

It's all a given.

Naturally.

Look at yourself. Take care of yourself. Spiritually = Emotionally.
What you carry affects us all. Stop thinking about yourself exclusively.
A greater good is not your big house with 25 cars.

Inside out. Inside out. Inside out.

Everything is connected.

All is love.
Love is free.

When not held hostage in immaturity based if fear manifested in lack of humility.

Get it right.
You ain't done.

All is about behavior really. Compassionate and humble courteous non competitive behavior. Or absolutely dreadful.. All in disgusting false act in relation to self.

I accept good quality chocolate cakes now. Any day. And grilled fish. Mmmm!!!!!!!
With a nice lager. ..Always look on the bright side of life!

PS. The world spirit is conscious but allows for all as nature is nature.
But hurts from our guilt trip as we share everything spiritual.

So I forgave the world spirit. For all of what has happened.

To clear our spirit of guilt from prior mistakes.

Everything that has happened was necessary as a response in relation to our conductivity. As everything is self correcting when humble. I understand and hopefully you do that as well now.

And know or sure not to upset things again.

Or we all pay the consequence of going against sequence.

All becomes manifestation to help us individually. That eventually becomes a manifestation to help us globally.

It's all in the little things which are not small at all. When you think about it.

It's all perception.

I've carried this in my heart for 42 years now. With an increase in intensity. All to make for a challenge in alignment with my purpose. As to make me aware of what I had to do. How else would I have been pressured into doing what was necessary? It would not have happened any other way. All goes together.

I would like to have a little brake now.

With some sunshine. Palm trees. Grilled fish. Beer. Indian Pacific. Island.

With my closest friend. And we shall have chocolate cake together.

Because: L'Oreal

I look forward to see you all face to face. Never face to Facebook. That won't happen. If I sorted this. Well.. Then I can sort some personal issues don't you feel? Surely.

Mmm Bloody Mary.. Fidel Castro.. Rom & Coke... It's been a while since I had drinks. It's all good in moderation. I don't like to be drunk. I like to keep my sharp and natural perception enjoying the world. I truly like and love to be here.

I can here those waves now in the Indian Pacific.. And that fish being grilled with garlic and chili.. Mmmmmmm.....

If you think that this could have been accessible without going deep as in loss, as in giving it all up for live you are mistaken.

This had to happen like this. As to come to the core of what was incorrect.

Nature sorts itself. It just happens and rejuvenates.

But someone has to go deep in personal sacrifice. With all of who they are as a human being. Or else it won't happen.

Someone has to take responsibility where the rest just keeps going.

I am proud of what I've done. And I can say for sure that it would not have been possible without guidance. Without spiritual connection. And what makes it all sustain and maintain in the future is you doing the very same. Affirm and acknowledge, praise and love love. That's it.

No complaining. See things for what they are. Don't judge. Accept in good morality and all will be wonderful.

Chocolate cake for all. With frosting and raspberry cream inside. Mmmmmmm...

So good.

And God/Love will celebrate you for eating it. As this will send a loving and appreciating message by your state of feeling that you love life.

Make Love. Make love great again. And all is given.

That's a given.

From an all giving source of unconditional source of love.

Once again: You get what you give. Simple as that.

Don't lie. Don't hide. Come clean. Come correct.

Let there be light!

Allow for things to pass. Embrace the new.

The movie is not titled 'Never changing story'.

Transformation comes as you allow for things to change. Which is mostly about letting go. Freeing society/humanity from self destruction. A hold is a hold. Not free.

Don't feel guilty for living.
You are welcome. Celebrate life.
Turn up the light as to rid us from darkness.

Don't focus on what you do not want.

All is positive investment.

As to get a rewarding return.

What traditions really are supposed to be are things to look forward to.
New seasons of new music, new kinds of food perhaps.

Coming together to share and celebrate.

Not to purchase ourselves happy.

But to come together.

In happiness and Love.

In joy.

Keeping things happening!
Not being bored!

Enjoying life.

Tutti Frutti!

I talked to a lady of religion the other day and she felt a great importance as to mention this discussion regarding us being evolved from apes or not.

I don't care actually.

I feel a great importance in being positive and optimistic as children are getting shot in the head in Gaza. Maybe we focus on what we want and let go of all kinds of crap and make our reality into what we desire.

A world of Love that is I hope all aboard should be truly.

I have never seen anyone react with such great confusion as when I told this lady that I am all about God, Truth & Love. As she asked me if I was muslim or Christian and I replied:

I AM Not Religious

 Just like God
