

I HOPE I TOUCHED YOU

APPROPRIATELY

THE ANIMATOR

The one who animates makes things come alive. You can't do that without dreaming about it first. And you can't dream without feeling something.

You can use that skill to make a cartoon for instance. Like a simple one without as much dimensions. Something digestible for let's say someone easily impressed. That's not someone stupid. It's just enough for what they need in relation to their current cognitive development in relation to entertainment.

And this evolves.
Like errthang else.

You can animate something that looks very life-like! It looks real! Sometimes it's hard to tell? Is this filmed or animated? We have become really good at that using technology. But technology has now turned on us already. And it's using us.

Green screen bullshit for instance.

I saw 'Dumb & Dumber To'.

And that was completely without soul.
When we accept this? We accept a lie.

What we wish to experience is a true experience.
That's why we come to this evolutionary crossroad.

Maybe it's time to give it up?

Maybe it's time to make it live now. To animate our own lives?
Make that come alive! You can feel yes.. You can dream yes..

Well there you go then!

You have the ability and capacity to make things come alive.
And while your actually having a life which is very much alive why not make that animated? That's the main problem in all of our struggle. We love to be entertained which means not to be bored. Ding dong!

We loooooove adventure movies!
We love a good thrill!

So why not make your life into something of that nature. Because you know what?

It is your nature!

Napoleon did not discover Grums because it just happened to stumble upon him?
He went out on an adventurous mission!

The map is already charted!
The game of adventure is already done!

You just gotta become a part of it in feeling for what you would like to be a part of your life, dream and create as to make it happen and it will!

My dream as of right now: Sunday, January 12th, 19:59. Is real. True. I am living it!
The moon is full and I am living my dream!

Am I swimming in cash? No.
Am I riding high with celebs? No.
Am I being the talk of newz? No.

..Not yet..

But it's bound to happen.

'Cause I know.

I have already seen the previews.

Do you know why they call movie trailer, well.. Movie trailers?

Because they used to be shown after the movie.

Behind.

Do you ever see any car getting pulled watching drag racing?
I don't?

The subconscious mind is literal.
But we enjoy a good challenge.

So the metaphor is very important as to investigate with cleverness and excitement. With joy and finesse. It's an art form. Which can only happen when inspired and not jealous like judgemental is.

It's all fun and games.

This life.

It's a game of fear and love.

And you are the animator.
Animating more or less of what you wish would become the animation.

So are you terrified and stiff?

That's a definition of something not so animated.

Like a stone. A stone exists in the movie but is not credited at the end. It's a part of the set but isn't providing as much excitement and life to the actual animation. The frame itself isn't either. It holds the picture sure. But do you ever enjoy the frame of your TV when you watch a movie? So much that you forget about the movie and just enjoy the excitement and adventure of that frame?

And that's the metaphor.

You should be able to understand that. You should be able to understand that specific metaphor I just gave you. It's not that high-tech.. But with a literal cognition it's damn close to impossible to comprehend. There's nothing wrong with it. But truth be told it's not as developed as it perhaps should be?

What I'm trying to say is that 'Kevin Hart' ain't that funny.

There's no finesse and inspiration about the art if you wanna call it that?

It's more like a puppet show funny for toddlers but at the same time makes them a little bit more interested about the colorful set around the puppets. You are smarter than that! There is so much more to enjoy by living expanded and live!

It's all politics..

The rest I mean.

And politics is a dirty game.

It cannot be anything else.

It will never be clean.

That's going against nature.

Because Nature is God.

God is Love.

Love is perfect.

Centered.

And all about true feeling.

Which is a pure heart.

Not in competition.

No comparison.

Which makes for great moral.

And compassion.

Being inspired.

Mature.

Yet relaxed and funny.

Enjoyable.

No two sides will ever come to that.

Because it's destined to fail as they are two sides.

They are in opposition trying to make it work.

Which is either rational or emotional.

Ruling Dictator or Humble King.

Republican or Democrat.

In nuance which is in relation to bravery.

And that bravery is all about being true.

Because the coward lies and covers up its tracks.

That's not honest.

They can't be. Because they've chosen sides.

The heart knowz.

Cannot lie.

True Color.

And that's the game.

So what would you like to animate from this point on going forward not backwards? You've got the support. Not from the government. They see you as a financial asset or burden. A number. There are some working for the government that are humane and see the love. But most of them burn out or gets murdered.

Because they are unstable in relation to rigidity. The one and only thing keeping everything the least animated. Animation means movement.

Today I said this to 'Lisbeth':

One of my biggest problems in life has always been that I do not wish to reduce anyone. I want us all to be equal as we are. But in that I've also put myself down in relation to my cleverness and skill, which is a bit rationally but mostly emotional defining who I am. All in relation to life and comprehending it.

So many people go thru life not understanding shit about it.

And wonders why it doesn't work out.

Well you might be able to look at 1 apple and then another apple, adding them together and you've got 2 apples now. That's the game. Put two and two together.

It's all binary.

1.2.4.8.16.32.64.128.256.512.1024.

2024

Switch.

The end of the world.

Kill switch. Always good.

Letting go of the old.

Prophets of fear redeem this as the apocalypse.
Earth not existing anymore.

You need to be positive about everything.

Stop reading comic books without pictures that aren't even comic.

They are based on control and fear. No matter how thick or gold encrusted..

Yeah.

It's like a planetary mobile system having over a babies crib.

Compare it to the wheels and cogs inside a clock.

When the time is, the time is.

So a smaller cog can be Mercury. A larger one can be Jupiter.

The battery is the sun.

And when you watch the stars and feels the change.

You are connected with what is about to happen.
Which means you are connected to self.

Which is God.

Absolutely nowhere to be found in any book anywhere.

Because that's the opposite of participating and animating your own life.
Making it an exciting adventure full of real emotions with a frame as far as the eye can see. O'hoy matey! And Grums was found.

Kon Tiki.

Ever read about that voyage?
Or watched the movie?

Things got sorted.

Because they wuz doing something new with a good spirit.

And God, Source, Universe is all about expansion.
Which means something new, exciting and adventurous.

In joy!

Why is that so important?

Because it inspires.

Why is that so important?

Because it makes things move!

Why is that important?

Because otherwise we all die.

From the inside out.

Eventually we don't care and blow ourselves up or just freeze to death in a global brand new ice age brought on naturally as we fuck Love. As we abuse the ONE AND ONLY SOURCE that gives us all as we are brave enough to trust it.

Does things has to go as they've gone for me during my crazy experiment?

No!

That's because it was necessary in relation to all stone actors internationally.

What are you?

Are you human?

Are you ABS?

Are you lips?

Are you BOOTIES?

Or are you singers! Painters! Bakers! Real live actors!
Actually living life! Actually doing life! Live!

- Well I'm not a trained professional.

And that's a suicide.

A slow sneaky one.

Just working and working.

Buying crap and eating crap.

So what are you supposed to do?

Ask yourself!

Ask yourself and begin to relate.

It's a galaxy coming to a halt with not ass much vibrance and glow..

But as you begin to deepen your relationship with yourself that galaxy begins to move and shimmer! And you wake yourself up again from a rational slumber becoming more and more animated.

This brings joy and excitement! Feels like an adventure!

And guess what.

It spreads like Corona with its true definition.

And a world of fun and love is in effect.

Have you ever heard of a mastermind concept?

It's where people come together without judgement as to become inspired and inspire others. Together as to create more of what they wish would come about.

Like politicians. Only that's counter intuitive.

Why are artists collaboration with each other?

Because it enriches their creative insights.

That's all about sharing.

People can do that in their community.

Without being rockstars or famous actors.

They can come together.

If they firstly take care of themselves and just wish for things to become more of all the good. Instead of throwing their life away watching bullshit green screen emotionally missing performances.

Why do they do this kinds of productions?

Because people consume and accept them.

Have you ever seen the movie 'Idiocracy'?

Watch it!

It's a documentary talking about a moronic future not so distant if we continue redeeming ourselves smart just because we've got a touch screen in our pocket.

Combined with not participating in our actual life.

Bring on the romance!

The romance ain't about sex.

The romance is romanticizing about love which is life!

To dream of wonderful things and believing that anything is possible!

And with a heartfelt wish nothing is to extreme.

Where we are right now is basically asking God to receive 5% of what we potentially could have. But do not dare to dream out of fear. Fear of being disappointed. And we will. Giving up all the time and not affirming and acknowledging the source of all creation.

Which is NOT religious.

But is all giving.

Continuously without any judgement.

All of what is required is faith and feeling deserving.

Worthy is already taken care of.

You got life.

Done.

How much life would you like?

In pain or pleasure?

Your choice.

All is a universal response of what you honestly which is emotionally send out.

That's the deserving part.

If it ain't happening?

Be humble. Always.

And ask what could be tweaked without judgement.

And make that change.

Which gives!

Development.

Unfolding.

Becoming.

The dream.

I could have asked for anything smaller.

But I just could not help myself.

Right now I feel like I might not be able to run again.

Honestly.

We'll see.

Because my heart has been thru so much.

But that's alright as long as humanity get's a wind of everything I've shared.

Because it will lift us from the mud into the clouds.

Enjoying the green paradise we've been given.

For free.

Without effort.

Because of one thing and one thing only.

Love.

Which is free.

That's the most inspirational thing I could think of.

And most importantly feel for.

This is what I wanted to do.

As I said I could not help not to do it.

Which is the best indicator and inspiration I could possibly give.

I call that:

Destiny
