

My warp world:

Is your world. What happens in your world is your choice and energized creation. What is being affirmed with conviction manifests.

That's just how it is. So that's the confidence you need. All in relation to self. And God gives. As self is God. And so is you without doubt connect spiritually.

The more people doubt around you the more they judge. And thus more resistance to work with. Pressure. From projection of unfulfilled destiny's.

Fearless affirmation. Say it like you mean it.

This is why I was moved this last period to a smaller town. Less resistance. Greater possibility to break free. And become.

From Jesus crucifixion to ascending to heaven is 42 days. From today 18th of April to May 1st is 13 days. It's all about affirmation. And that's not about anything specific other than something. Something is being affirmed by you. What is that? That's what you get. If you wish to change that you begin to affirm something different. You dream of it becoming. You create to support it. Affirm it. And you give yourself as you eventually affirm it with unwavering conviction. It's done. Whatever you wish but needs a carrot. Or else the donkey won't work. The mind. Intelligence, positive energy makes it happen as this is inspiration. The intellect is just the processor and does not really seek any acknowledgement (the ego). Eyes on the prize! That's the carrot! So what is that for me? Satisfaction. Which is a combination of clearing my name. Taking care of family karma. Meeting the love of my life. Restoring my finances. Eating and living well. More opportunities. And continue to assist as a further contribution making the world less hectic and demanding. So I lead with example as to make my world comprehensible and thus become able to share what I've made myself to be.

All of what I am writing right here is also affirmation where I am today. This moment. Which is inside the cave with big stone covering the entrance. Yesterday was the last day for mourning. This cycle. That year. And let's say I still had some resentment and grief left? I would not be ready. And thus would be given another chance as to redeem myself the upcoming year. Same thing annually. That's cool.

The biggest price for me.. personally. Is her.

Then comes fame and money. Love first. I am listening to 'Make it (Like a Ross)' now.

And falling in love.. Not necessarily in the song as a performance or achievement. But from being self inspired by my own creation.

While I'm listening to it I write this and I feel so good about being me. That's expected. That's wanted. Desired.

What else can you possibly look for as self celebrating and affirming is your ticket to new clear creation? Presenting that holographic rendition. Do you think you should rely on luck? Or the acknowledgement of others trying to sell yourself in panic? Nah. It's all inside out. The Universe just gives to the one being without doubt as a true reflection. The rest is intelligence connecting and making it happen.

And someone might think that this is a lot of work and not possible for everyone? But what I am trying to say with it all is that if I can create this? You can make yourself happy. And live a good life. Not supporting anything destructive. Which is all appreciation like God loving all the kids being inspired. Never comparing.

I just wanna have someone by my side as to share my life as close as possible. And to share theirs. Making our life possible. Yet still being personal as to live free yet together. Which calls for relating. Having a relationship with myself. Her with herself. Us together.

Our world. Now our Universe.

Afraid of being real not kool that's a sucka deal. Negative. Consuming without return.

Feminine is how we spell car. That's intelligence. Love. Intellect is really fear when allowed to be the leader. Love is supposed to lead with the intellect as servant.

Gold. Always believe in your soul.
Believe the feeling. Trust the feeling.

= Faith in God

Focused attention in your heart stating I am nothing with a smile feeling good? Is humble before God. And makes you loyal without separation as to be what you is. Always believe it!!!

Feel your own love as is!
That's free!

'Sometimes Muddy'.. which is from awareness point of view being objective to what is perceived as negative some form of stress. Which is a hurry. Knowing. But not yet manifested. Make that into not happening is all worry. That's a self sucka. Robbery of possibility. So know. And leave it at that. Confident. Keep affirming. Create as to support it. LOVE IT ALL. Do not condescend a single stroke of the brush.

All I am is good. All I do is good.
I am fantastic. I am wonderful.
I am great. I am fine. All I do is fine.

Which all is! Without any comparison.

'Sparkethumb'. You are God. Giving yourself the experience. So who is what and the what now? It's all you baby. See it happen!
Feel it being amazing already done.

And you prescribe as in dream your existence to be. As we function like this we are always ahead of the game. We know prior to everything. Just not exactly what. Sensing. Sensory perception beings.

Intuitive.

The whole world is yours! It's your world.
And nobody can take that away. What you experience is you giving you life. What that is about is what you wish. Which needs support and faith. So a relationship with your true self as being divine and spiritual is necessary.

'Speechless'.

Spring sprout mind! Be kool.

Why people are not supportive is because they aren't supporting themselves. To support you realizing your dream they have to support their own. Which most don't do and instead conform to an idea of what life is in relation to a logical structure created in society. Indoctrinated to contribute by moving stuff around and fillong out forms and stuff. Also necessary and for some enough. They find pleasure in this living wonderful lives with beautiful families.

But the spark inside some of us is all tied to our destiny. Which is the game.
Neglect it and burn. Affirm it and shine!

I am all about color and movement. Some are all about numbers and settlement.
We are different. No judging. So why condescend? We need each other.

Somebody making the books for a huge company with taxes and all this stuff is transmutation.se with all the music for me.
That ain't my game. Never has been and never will be.

The pivot.

It happens eventually. From self investment of positive affirmation. Affirmative.
Never sour lime. Appear in the dark from the underground. Is not actually a reality.
It's just a narrow minded perception from people disconnected around me.

Listen to the voice of heart.
Projection reflection open wide!

Love yourself. Love your life.
One and the same. It's all one.

Gay means happy.

You take control by not being controlled. So if full of stress about to put your shoes on as to stressfully need to move something outside of you? Say no. Go sit down and say to the body: I am calm. I am peaceful.

We are not moving or doing anything unless we enjoy it. Like a parent instructing a child without aggression. Just calm and affirmative as to how we conduct ourselves. You, the mind & the body.

The ruler of peace.

If a lot of emotions needs to be expressed in relation to frustration just allow for it. Let it out and depressurize yourself. Then take it slow and ask yourself what the next right love is. And affirm all good about yourself.

With a smile when you're ready again.

Back to love.

I am fantastic. I am magical. I am wonderful.

Who am I when you meet me?

A very kind interested person. I love to talk about life. I am calm. Somewhat shy to be honest sometimes. I wish I could tell you how beautiful you are but I don't wanna make you feel uncomfortable. If I feel you being down I wish I could follow you around affirming all good about you for a day.
I wish for all to live a great wonderful life.

'NETI NETI'.

Life is like this:

And what we do not relating to universal creation all in relation to energy cycles is this:

Trying to take control all frustrated in waves of energy but not ready for it. And when it returns to peace we experience defeat and failure. But this is all not going with the flow.

So how can one know? Well you need to be a part of the flow. Feel that this might not be a good time for this or that. Allow for patience and give yourself a week sometimes to feel everything out. In sincerity being honest to self as communicating with God. Soul. Love.

God is all peace. And will never affirm as to support being upset. If God supported that we would experience a chaos not making any clear perception possible. We would not even be able to differentiate between what is a clear blue sky and what is a tree.

The calendar is astral. Which planets alignments annually which differs a bit and the cycles of the moon with affects water by push or pull. That affects us greatly as we are water by a large percentage.

New moon is outgoing. Full moon is going in.

The full moon is the most important I feel. Because it presents energies of assistance as to go deeper in your emotional understanding enabling you to feel more as to forgive and release. Yourself. Others. All.

Imagine your breath being very deep, calm and naturally slow. With a body relaxed and not full of pain. Relaxing you eyes as to just be aware and experiencing without judgement in the center of conscious aware attention.

That's all good. And that's all you need.
Because that's where love is. Just being as is..

You can find this by allowing for it. When walking. Talking. Sitting still. Laying in bed.
Just being love. As you is..

And in that perfect harmony all is well.

That's the unified depressurized conscious yet free no state of mind. And thus peace just is without effort. Effortless love..

When you practice this your body will be habit get uncomfortable. Which is all about prior conditions of working from the outside in. So it becomes a game of letting it be. And eventually it will give up as you give in. Behaving like the passive master of your own experience. In the moment allowing like this emotions will come. Allow for them to be expressed. And let them go. Keep the peace and do not justify. Let what is holding you back be released..

And when this is done which is when you've felt them as much as possible you smile and say thank you. Say I love you. And you give credit and affirm love to be supreme.

It might feel like loss. But you gotta loose before you gain. So the loss is in relation to things not working out as you thought they would. And that's alright. Because you truly do not wish to experience anything you don't want.

So keep being open..
And become a good friend with self.

Loose the separation and merge with being one with your true all loving self.
Godmode.

And all is given. The next guidance. The next instruction. All from the mind whom has the entire plan of destiny but cannot give you whatever just because you're mad about it. That's the chaos bit. Not good actually. Not bad either! It helps you to adjust. Which everything really is. Adjusting to your true nature. And a clear rendition is coming up.

If there are things you need to take care of? Then they need to be taken care of. If you don't know what they are? Slow down. Be at peace for a moment. And then ask yourself.

The answer will become more and more clear. Which is actually you being more and more humble before God. But you still get the choice to dismiss the guidance and keep doing what you've done so far. But God does not judge. Love does not step on any toes. It just waits for you to join it. To be it.

And with loyal conductivity you receive once again. Always forgiven. For all mistakes.

The goal is always and forever to feel good about yourself as you is. Which without judgement you naturally are.

What makes for the warp is you committing to change. Which is more about leaving that arriving. The arrival is about ridding yourself of shame & guilt. Being brave as to defy the illusion of fear doing what you feel like.

With absolute confidence yet all in peace not having a hidden agenda?

Love cannot say no.

And so you become what you is and the world adapts to you. What you dream of and long for comes to you. Which is being attractive in energy to what you desire but also from feeling deserving naturally worthy not actually possible to ever be questioned.

So the question is yours. And that's doubt.
Do I really wants this? Is this what I seek as to find fulfillment and satisfaction.

If a clear positive enthusiastic: Yes!!!

Then here we go! As you wish.

Dream come true 💖

All created by yourself in relation to universal law by positive conductivity being real and authentic not in comparison loving and appreciating your own life. Wishing to contribute and assist in more of this for others.

And make that the biggest part of all that you do. Committed to a world of love. A world of possibility. Things happening of good nature. In peace and joy.

You are not from the world. You are not of the world. You are the world.

You is all Ah! If you so choose 😍

What is the rush if it means a physical crush? But a spiritual loving one..

This I dream of 💖💋😍🕊️⭐

Can you see this now? I put in a request.
That's my wish. So all the work I do is for her. Everything I do. I do it for you.

My love 🌸 A reflection of my own authentic self perception without separation.

And we come together! 🎉💖🎉

If I was gonna make a sex change? I would after everything be homosexual. I like restaurants. But all this eating out when you can eat all in nah mean?

Be without shame. Live without guilt.
Let shit go! And be clear in perception.

People judge someone wearing a hoodie with the hood over they head. Like a criminal. That's extremely narrow minded. Like a bug kind of. A parasite. And people like this won't put the hood over they head even in the rain as to not wanting to be judged as they judge others.

A moronic idiot.

So what I do and what I advice you to do is to work for law reinforcement.

Universal that is.. 🌟🪐🌟

How can you know the sensation of had peed? If you are full of it holding on.

Thank God without feeling guilty!

That's all! And you give instead of robbing yourself. The prime error in my experience prior to this. As I was taught to feel guilty as to learn how to be grateful. That's terrible guidance. Does not ever and never will work.

Guilty for living. What a scam.

Makes for scammers. Do you see that?

They don't. Why?

Everybody: HUMILITY!
