MAKE MY WISH COME TRUE FOUNDATION

It's all about the vibe and the trust. We is actually the thrust. Traveling in space coming ever closer to the star. The star is a sun. A unique one. But won't burn you to a crisp. Because all is spiritual and happens within you.

My dream is coming true I can feel it.

And that's real!

You actually don't need any more specific expectations than that. Because this is how everything works. You attract based upon your general state of feeling joy. What I make of this spiritual travel into outer space eventually reaching nothing but darkness is like this:

You turn your back on love for a while. Losing what you have in order to receive what is destined for you. And in that experience the light becomes further and further away. Eventually you will turn around and from that position might have a hard time seeing the light as you've travelled so far away from it.

But the thing is..

You can always turn around again!
And right there is your true spirit.

Your true self. Coming up from behind this time to meet you as you lost who you thought you were yet now connect in authenticity making the distance disappear.

All from not giving up on affirming that things will work out. That things ARE working out. A statement like "It's gonna get better" is only possible with its contrasting expression which in opposition must be defined as currently not good.

So everything is alright. It's all good.

And that's all you need really. Everything is working out and the best is yet to come. It's not just a catchphrase of positivity. What the attitude creates is a good positive feeling. Which the universe will respond to with an equivalent experience.

Good enough. Feeling good with a positive attitude regardless.
That's a dream come true foundation.

So you see you make it all happen.

What you desire. What is meant for you. What is coming your way. In pleasure and in joy. As you are showing yourself worthy and deserving by trusting in the power of love to make it happen in faith. It's not so much about what you want as it is about how you perceive yourself. Everything is about you. As an individual.

So the true foundation of all attraction is about the core affirmations.

All in relation to yourself.

I am wonderful
I am beautiful
I am deserving
I am worthy
I am fantastic
I am good

Stated with joy and a smile

Then you can add:

My dream is coming true
Things are working out for me
I receive what I need
What I need comes to me

You always continuously attract and receive.

It just depends on your general state of feeling making you honestly positive or negative in relation to your current position. And from that position you will receive what you need. If you are not aware of what's holding you back and preventing you to realize your dream you will get noticed by receiving more and more intense experiences regarding this until you change your attitude.

When in darkness being tested at most you need to be mindful of your energy. You cannot waste it on this and that. All your power is now necessary as fuel staying positive in a perceivably negative situation.

You get what you give. And you gotta give yourself now.

What you wish to give to others will happen later. But now you gotta mind your own.
Or else you seriously might blow it. Seriously.

It ain't happening until it has happened.

It's like the last oxygen inside your space suit. You don't actually know how long it will last. So don't stress. Stay calm. And most importantly don't give it away to some Martian passing by in need of sum.

Stay connected to Venus, the feminine. The relaxed and trusted source of emotional reassurance that everything is perfect. It's gonna happen. That's just the way it is!

Things will never be the same!
That's just the way it is... Oh yeah..

Thanks Pac.

I love you.

'Do for love' is my favorite track of all time.

I received that today as inspiring fuel where I am.

I am so tired. My body is acting up in freezing and heat flashes like crazy.
My muscles are so weak that I'm actually shaking.

My back hurts like hell.

My head felt like I had pneumonia or sum today..

I felt my heart tightening up and I just wanted to cry..

This ain't no picnic.

But I'm sure as heaven gonna have one when this is done!

Maybe in Central Park?

I would love to have a picnic/barbecue or something in Brooklyn.

I have been given guidance that I will fall in love in Brooklyn.
That can mean different things.

I'm positive I will absolutely love the place!

..Make my wish come true..

Get inspired. Create. Believe. Create. Believe. Have Faith.

Rest assured. In joy. Knowing that all will be great.

That's the deal. The sweetest deal.
Promise of God.

You are welcome. What you desire is yours. Just remember that you are everything and a genie cannot doubt itself. It has to believe in its own power. Trust it. Have faith in it. And anything can happen. All is possible.

Worry kills all..

Worry is a wavering doubt more than a little bit of faith.

It's just terrible.

Faith does not include worry at all.

Rational thinking without any positive affirmations makes worry come alive.

So don't stop affirming!

With a good feelin'!

And you're back on that foundation of trust again!

Anything can happen! Anything! In any way! At any time!

YES!

The power of love that creates pulsars with mass equivalent of weighing as much as all the people on earth together yet the size of a small country can make you a star for sure! The power that makes our galaxy function in perfection can connect you to your destiny! The power of love that wins over itself without competition can give you anything you wish as you co-create with it all in faith.

God can only say:

YES!

My computer reads December 21st 23:12.

If I ask God if this is June 3rd 14:33 God says:

YES!

That all giving!

In complete agreement with anything!

..Am I world famous?..

YES!

I am world famous!

YES!

I AM LOVE!

YES!

I AM GOOD!

YES!

I AM WONDERFUL!

YES!

I AM FANTASTIC!

YES!

I AM AMAZING!

YES!

I AM WORTHY!

YES!

I AM DESERVING!

YES!

..As you can see there are no question marks on those.

All giving. No questions asked.

So you hold the key. The secret. You've got the key to another way.

God has created everything you see.

Without any questioning regarding the creation.

Just blind faith and adoration about what was, is created.

Love yourself. Love your creations. Support your own dream come true.

Secure and loving foundation.

I AM ALL GOOD!

YES!

ALL I CREATE IS GOOD!

YES!

..You know I'm laying in bed now at 00:01 December 22nd and feeling the joy as I repeat 'My dream has come true'.

And when I do it I envision myself being a guest on Christos Avatar with Thayvian.

Macheewaa!

And just have blast.

This is how you dream. Connectivity, fun, friendship. Kool happenings.

I imagine us having a kind of half serious talk in the beginning, then we all get lit.

And we sing and do all kinds of shit.

 That would be so much fun!

Christ Of Avatar with guest: Christ Of Avatar

Pff hahah!

We all one.

I love to be in this state as I go to bed. I make myself come to this state. And all those visions and feeling of fun & joy becomes a marinade for my subconscious mind during the night.

I don't have a problem with anybody. But people have problems with me. Maybe we could write that down and send it to Harvard or sum and they can work on that for 5 years or something presenting a Graf of interstellar equations as to why that is?

You feel me? Nah.. And that's the sum of that equation.
Took 5 years..

Some still don't get it.

You should get lit.

To get some perspective.

To relax and let it come.

To let nature show you.

Dear God I wish to be connected now.

I wish to come together with people of understanding, peace & love.

I am tired of this grey anatomy.

The earth is supposed to be a colorful place.

With no jealousy, no competition.

But celebration and togetherness.

In joy.

Having fun.

Make my wish come true God.

I am at the foundation of trust.

I trust Love.

I am all +

My dream is coming true.

My dream has come true.

My creation is done.

I drop all now.

I wish to receive my promise

My promise of glory

Of friendship, of love & peace

Take me away!

Like sweep me off my feet!

Take me away all good way!

To question yourself is to question existence in various degree.
When doing so you put a hold on time and for the heart which is timeless means tension. It's like a pause for a heart that cannot stop.

This is anxiety.

The antidote is this: (with a smile and a good feeling)

I am wonderful!
I am good enough!
I am fantastic!
I am amazing!

Faith is not questioning anything. It's simply trusting in a positive outcome.
Which holds no question and the heart can go with its own flow.

Everything is alright!
Everything is fine!
And everything is going to be great!

In joy with a good feeling.

Panic is actually transformable.
With a smile and focus on your heart you turn that into excitement!

That's actually what we feel in misconception as we wake up in anxiety. Waking up in the morning asking ourselves if life is worth living, and if we should blast ourselves.

Why is because the world is horribly static today.
It's almost sleeping.

In relation to where we should be and all the possibilities if not from holding ourselves back in extreme fear. We live in such a control society that judges continuously adding brakes to an innovative reality.

Society and what it offers people today is mainly focused on consumption and not development. Because of the destructive Ego's mandate feeding itself trying to make a living eating its own product. Idiocracy.

What's missing is to turn things around and make the world a more accurate representation of our true nature. Which cannot and will not happen in superficiality which people have been trying to create for thousands of years.

We actually have to do it ourselves.

Each and every one of us.

Be in touch and live spiritually.

As we are without our body, 100% spiritual beings.

Duh..

A spiritual being is free. And it does not judge.
It's all joy! And all love. Without sexuality.

That's the moral code of a human being.

Which can never be your identity.
That false false false.

You are soul.

I am soul.

We are soul.

The world today is inverted in its manifested reality coming from the acknowledgment and affirmation giving the ego mandate as supreme leader. So the world becomes 5% spiritual and 95% rational. That's as wrong as it gets.

But there is a reason behind that.

And that's fear of love as in fear of being vulnerable.

Because in a spiritual society which is soft and kind, open and loving we have to drop all the defense.

And that becomes a problem..

AS WE ARE FIGHTING WITH OURSELVES.

There are other lifeforms that have developed and ascended their previous judgemental world creating a paradise. Which is the meaning of unfolding a world created by love. Giving ourselves a better place to stay for a while experiencing being human.

!POSITIVE EXPECTATION FROM BEING POSITIVE!
!FEELING GOOD ABOUT YOURSELF!

!GIVING YOURSELF LOVE!

!NO MATTER WHAT JUST KEEP THAT POSITIVE FEELING!

!TALK ABOUT AND AFFIRM A POSITIVE OUTCOME!

!SING ABOUT GOOD THINGS!

!WE ONLY FIGHT OUR OWN MIND!

!DON'T FIGHT IT!

!DON'T ALLOW DARKNESS!

!BRING ON THE LIGHT!

BE POSITIVE! BE POSITIVE! BE POSITIVE!

!AND A UNIVERSAL RESPONSE IS GIVEN TO YOU!

!THAT'S HOW IT WORKS!

Create a good feeling by thinking positive.

Everything is attraction based on your general state of feeling which you choose to be what you desire.

That the reality of receiving and manifesting what you desire.

No worry!

Just keep that positive expectancy no matter what! And good things come to you.

Possibilities of good loving happening nature!

And in doing this you make yourself attractive to what you desire.
